Like holding views, leadership styles and culture that no longer serve our workforce and businesses. Sometimes to save yourself your business, you will need to do the hard things. Most people and businesses didn't swiftly adapt to the Covid-19 induced disruption. There were tears that were shed, short-term mistakes and losses made, anxiety and gut wrenching fear experienced. However, that knowing that that was going to be the New Normal enabled them to do it afraid. And that's bravery. Leading at the edge of chaos through crisis and recessions is not easy. Changing organizational culture, which at times gets you face to face with your own biases and ineffective outlook, is not easy. For a person who's used to having the final say, it is not easy to allow your workforce to be entrepreneurial and let their innovative ideas catch fire.
