Justice, Care, and the Welfare State Daniel Engster,2015-10-01 Western welfare states are in a period of significant transition Changes in the nature of work and the family the growing elderly population and other developments over the past fifty years have rendered existing welfare policies largely out of step with economic and social conditions While welfare state reform clearly raises important questions about justice and social policy political philosophers have been slow to address it Justice Care and the Welfare State takes up the important task of developing a theory of justice to guide contemporary welfare state reform Applying normative political philosophy to public policy issues it addresses questions such as What role if any should states play in supporting families Should the state support national health care and if so why and in what form What does society owe to the elderly What role should welfare states play in supporting disabled people What obligations does the state have toward the poor As distinct from many works of political philosophy Justice Care and the Welfare State draws on empirical data about the populations and circumstances of existing Western societies and offers concrete policy advice for reforming welfare policies Noting that many of the challenges confronting people in post industrial societies involve issues of care Engster draws on a public ethics of care to develop his theory of welfare state justice outlining specific policy proposals in the areas of the family education health care old age pensions and long term care disability and poverty and unemployment The book offers important insights into how Western welfare states can be reformed in light of recent economic and social changes in order better to promote justice It should be of interest to political philosophers welfare state scholars public policy analysts and others interested in thinking about contemporary policy reform and justice European Social Policy and Social Work Hans van Ewijk, 2009-09-10 This book explores shifts in international social policies looking at how they affect national trends and the context for social work practice It investigates the responsibilities for social welfare held by the state the market and civil society elaborating a concept of citizenship based social work OECD Reviews of Health Care Quality: Sweden 2013 OECD, 2013-12-12 This report reviews the quality of health care in Sweden It highlights best practices and provides recommendations for improvements Ageing and Long-term Care David R. Phillips, 2014-05-14 The case studies in this book focus on the emergence extent and nature of national policies on ageing and associated strategies to address long term care needs Key opportunities for and constraints on policy are identified in this first round of regional studies Ending Midlife Bias Nancy S. Jecker, 2020 As average lifespans stretch to new lengths how are human values impacted Should our values change over the course of our ever increasing lifespans Nancy S Jecker introduces a new concept the life stage relativity of values which holds that at different life stages different ethical concerns should take center stage For Jecker the privileging of midlife values raises fundamental problems of fairness and reveals large gaps in ethical principles and theories Jecker introduces a new philosophical framework that reflects the life stage relativity of values and shows its relevance to practice and policy Proceedings of the 4th International Conference on Public Administration, Health and Humanity Development (PAHHD 2024) Lei Shi, Nadeem Malik, Ong Tze San, Jun Lu, 2024-10-19 This is an open access book The 4th International Conference on Public Administration Health and Humanity Development PAHHD 2024 will be held on August 16-18, 2024 in Shanghai, China. The basic function of public management is to provide public services for the public by creating a good social environment and order. Public administration must implement the principle of putting people first. The fundamental purpose of public management is to meet the public needs of the society. In the process of public administration, the rule of law and custom should be emphasized and the humanistic spirit should be advocated. This conference brings together innovators and industry experts in the fields of public administration, health, and human development in a common forum. The primary goal of the conference is to promote research and developmental activities in Public Administration, Health, and Humanity Development, and another goal is to promote scientific information interchange between researchers, developers, students, and practitioners working all around the world. The conference will be held every year to make it an ideal platform for people to share views and experiences in Public Administration, Health, and Humanity Development and related areas.
