Partial Defences to Murder Great Britain. Law Commission,2004 Following on from an earlier consultation paper by the Law Commission Consultation paper 173 ISBN 0117302597 published in October 2003 this report makes recommendations on the law and practice of the partial defences to murder of diminished responsibility and provocation as covered by the Homicide Act 1957 with particular regard to domestic violence situations It also considers whether there should be a partial defence to murder in cases involving the use of excessive force in self defence Appendices include sections detailing research into the ways in which the law of provocation and diminished responsibility are working a brief empirical survey of public opinion relating to partial defences to murder a synopsis of sample cases of female defendants convicted of murder and a sociological history of provocation and diminished responsibility

How Dehumanization Leads to Murder and Genocide Stewart Gabel,2023-11-14 This book discusses psychological aspects of dehumanization and of the human tendency to dominate control and potentially murder those considered less than or other by the dominant group It explores how increasingly severe dehumanization resulted in the genocide of six million Jews in the second World War Psychological and behavioral strategies Nazi aggressors and ordinary citizens used to mislead themselves during this process are described Understanding the sequence of events from dehumanization to murder has implications for the apparent tendency of human beings to harm and potentially kill those who appear different or who are made into the other Efforts to prevent genocide should actively challenge dehumanization of weaker populations whenever possible even when dehumanization appears mild insignificant or innocuous
