Will Suicide Send A Christian To Hell:

The Christian (4) Watchman Nee, 1992-06-01 Watchman Nee's writings have become well known for their deep spiritual insight among Christians in many nations for many years. Through these volumes a full understanding of his balanced and proper view concerning the Bible and the spiritual life can be accurately appreciated. This new compilation and retranslation of Watchman Nee's writings present the reader a fresh and unedited version of his ministry and promises to shed new light on the reader's understanding of Watchman Nee's ministry.

Where Christianity Errs Richard Schoenig, 2024-04-04 Where Christianity Errs comprises a group of essays that aim to carefully, clearly, fairly, and without rancor argue that Christianity has significantly erred in some of its important beliefs and activities. Among the topics assessed are original sin, prayer, faith, hell, the meaning of life, Christian apologetics, Christian ethics, Christianity and politics, and Christianity and atheism. This book contains novel arguments and insights that will be of interest to non-specialists as well as those who have some background in religion and the philosophy of religion.

The Justification of Religious Violence, 2014-05-05 How are justifications for religious violence developed and do they differ from secular justifications for violence? Can liberal societies tolerate potentially violent religious groups? Can those who accept religious justifications for violence be dissuaded from acting violently? Including six in-depth contemporary case studies, The Justification of Religious Violence is the first book to examine the logical structure of justifications of religious violence. The first book specifically devoted to examining the logical structure of justifications of religious violence. Seeks to understand how justifications for religious violence are developed and how or if they differ from ordinary secular justifications of violence. Examines 3 widely employed premises used in religious justifications of violence: cosmic war, the importance of the afterlife and sacred values. Considers to what extent liberal democratic societies should tolerate who hold that their religion justifies violent acts. Reflects on the possibility of effective policy measures to persuade those who believe that violent action is justified by religion to refrain from acting violently. Informed by recent work in psychology, cognitive science, neuroscience, and evolutionary biology. Part of the Blackwell Public Philosophy Series.

Shades of Sin William Hofer, 2021-03-05 Traditionalists postulate an all-loving, all-powerful God who has revealed Himself in His inspired, inerrant Word. Since His Word speaks of hell, questions about hell in the final analysis are not philosophical but hermeneutical. Bible interpretation properly done provides ready answers for such life and death debates. We should not practice eisegesis (reading into the text what our philosophical penchant may be) but exegesis (getting out of the biblical text what the original author put in). Understanding the following elements will allay any fears of God being unjust when consigning unrepentant sinners to hell: 1. the duration of life, 2. the definition of death, 3. the description of hell. Non-traditionalists claim God is neither just nor loving if He tortures everyone in hell forever regardless of the life they lived. They are offended by such an idea and believe God is too. Rather than jettison the doctrine of eternal punishment at the expense of biblical fidelity, the author inserts into the debate an idea that undergirds God's justice while maintaining the traditional doctrine of hell Hofer rejects the notion victims at Auschwitz suffer the same fate as the madman who dispatched them there That is offensive to God

Suicide: A Global Perspective Maurizio Pompili, 2012-09-19 In the year 2000 approximately one million people died from suicide a global mortality rate of 16 per 100 000 or one death every 40 seconds In the last 45 years suicide rates have increased by 60% worldwide Suicide is now among the three leading causes of death among those aged 15 44 years both sexes these figures do not include suicide attempts up to 20 times more frequent than completed suicide Suicide worldwide is estimated to represent 1.8% of the total global burden of disease in 1998 and 2.4% in countries with market and former socialist economies in 2020 Although traditionally suicide rates have been highest among the male elderly rates among young people have been increasing to such an extent that they are now the group at highest risk in a third of countries in both developed and developing countries Mental disorders particularly depression and substance abuse are associated with more than 90% of all cases of suicide however suicide results from many complex sociocultural factors and is more likely to occur particularly during periods of socioeconomic family and individual crisis situations e.g. loss of a loved one employment honour The economic costs associated with completed and attempted suicide are estimated to be in the billions of dollars One million lives lost each year are more than those lost from wars and murder annually in the world It is three times the catastrophic loss of life in the tsunami disaster in Asia in 2005 Every day of the year the number of suicides is equivalent to the number of lives lost in the attack on the World Trade Center Twin Towers on 9/11 in 2001 Everyone should be aware of the warning signs for suicide Someone threatening to hurt or kill him/herself or taking of wanting to hurt or kill him/herself someone looking for ways to kill him/herself by seeking access to firearms available pills or other means someone talking or writing about death dying or suicide when these actions are out of the ordinary for the person Also high risk of suicide is generally associated with hopelessness rage uncontrolled anger seeking revenge acting reckless or engaging in risky activities seemingly without thinking feeling trapped like there's no way out increased alcohol or drug use withdrawing from friends family and society anxiety agitation unable to sleep or sleeping all the time dramatic mood changes no reason for living no sense of purpose in life

Suicide Myths How to Help the Suicidal Person Warning Signs of Suicide Myth Suicidal people just want to die Fact Most of the time suicidal people are torn between wanting to die and wanting to live Most suicidal individuals don't want death they just want to stoop the great psychological or emotional pain they are experiencing Listen Accept the person's feelings as they are Do not be afraid to talk about suicide directly Ask them if they developed a plan of suicide Expressing suicidal feelings or bringing up the topic of suicide Giving away prized possessions settling affairs making out a will Signs of depression loss of pleasure sad mood alterations in sleeping eating patterns feelings of hopelessness Myth People who commit suicide do not warn others Fact Eight out of every 10 people who kill themselves give definite clues to their intentions They leave numerous clues and warnings to others although clues may be

non verbal of difficult to detect Remove lethal means for suicide from person s home Remind the person that depressed feelings do change with time Point out when death is chosen it is irreversible Change of behavior poor work or school performance Risk taking behaviors Increased use of alcohol or drugs Social isolation Developing a specific plan for suicide Myth People who talk about suicide are only trying to get attention They won t really do it Fact Few commit suicide without first letting someone know how they feel Those who are considering suicide give clues and warnings as a cry for help Over 70% who do threaten to commit suicide either make an attempt or complete the act Express your concern for the person Develop a plan for help with the person Seek outside emergency intervention at a hospital mental health clinic or call a suicide prevention center Myth Don t mention suicide to someone who s showing signs of depression It will plant the idea in their minds and they will act on it Fact Many depressed people have already considered suicide as an option Discussing it openly helps the suicidal person sort through the problems and generally provides a sense of relief and understanding Suicide is preventable Most suicidal individuals desperately want to live they are just unable to see alternatives to their problems Most suicidal individuals give definite warnings of their suicidal intentions but others are either unaware of the significance of these warnings or do not know how to respond to them Talking about suicide does not cause someone to be suicidal on the contrary the individual feel relief and has the opportunity to experience an empathic contact Suicide profoundly affects individuals families workplaces neighbourhoods and societies The economic costs associated with suicide and self inflicted injuries are estimated to be in the billions of dollars Surviving family members not only suffer the trauma of losing a loved one to suicide and may themselves be at higher risk for suicide and emotional problems Mental pain is the basic ingredient of suicide Edwin Shneidman calls such pain psychache 1 meaning an ache in the psyche Shneidman suggested that the key questions to ask a suicidal person are Where do you hurt and How may I help you If the function of suicide is to put a stop to an unbearable flow of painful consciousness then it follows that the clinician s main task is to mollify that pain Shneidman 1 also pointed out that the main sources of psychological pain such as shame guilt rage loneliness hopelessness and so forth stem from frustrated or thwarted psychological needs These psychological needs include the need for achievement for affiliation for autonomy for counteraction for exhibition for nurturance for order and for understanding Shneidman 2 who is considered the father of suicidology has proposed the following definition of suicide Currently in the Western world suicide is a conscious act of self induced annihilation best understood as a multidimensional malaise in a needful individual who defines an issue for which the suicide is perceived as the best solution Shneidman has also suggested that that suicide is best understood not so much as a movement toward death as it is a movement away from something and that something is always the same intolerable emotion unendurable pain or unacceptable anguish Strategies involving restriction of access to common methods of suicide have proved to be effective in reducing suicide rates however there is a need to adopt multi sectoral approaches involving other levels of intervention and activities such as crisis centers

There is compelling evidence indicating that adequate prevention and treatment of depression alcohol and substance abuse can reduce suicide rates School based interventions involving crisis management self esteem enhancement and the development of coping skills and healthy decision making have been demonstrated to reduce the risk of suicide among the youth Worldwide the prevention of suicide has not been adequately addressed due to basically a lack of awareness of suicide as a major problem and the taboo in many societies to discuss openly about it In fact only a few countries have included prevention of suicide among their priorities Reliability of suicide certification and reporting is an issue in great need of improvement It is clear that suicide prevention requires intervention also from outside the health sector and calls for an innovative comprehensive multi sectoral approach including both health and non health sectors e g education labour police justice religion law politics the media

Volition's Face Andrew Escobedo,2017-04-30 Modern readers and writers find it natural to contrast the agency of realistic fictional characters to the constrained range of action typical of literary personifications Yet no commentator before the eighteenth century suggests that prosopopoeia signals a form of reduced agency Andrew Escobedo argues that premodern writers including Spenser Marlowe and Milton understood personification as a literary expression of will an essentially energetic figure that depicted passion or concept transforming into action As the will emerged as an isolatable faculty in the Christian Middle Ages it was seen not only as the instrument of human agency but also as perversely independent of other human capacities for example intellect and moral character Renaissance accounts of the will conceived of volition both as the means to self creation and the faculty by which we lose control of ourselves After offering a brief history of the will that isolates the distinctive features of the faculty in medieval and Renaissance thought Escobedo makes his case through an examination of several personified figures in Renaissance literature Conscience in the Tudor interludes Despair in Doctor Faustus and book I of The Faerie Queen Love in books III and IV of The Faerie Queen and Sin in Paradise Lost These examples demonstrate that literary personification did not amount to a dim reflection of realistic fictional character but rather that it provided a literary means to explore the numerous conundrums posed by the premodern notion of the human will This book will be of great interest to faculty and graduate students interested in medieval studies and Renaissance literature

In the Fray David P. Gushee,2014-05-12 In the Fray collects David Gushee s most significant essays over twenty years as a Christian intellectual Most of the essays were written in situations of ethical conflict on the highly contested ground of Christian public ethics Topics addressed include torture climate change marriage and divorce the treatment of gays and lesbians in the church war genocide nuclear weapons race global poverty faith and politics Israel Palestine and even whether Christian ethics is a real academic discipline Quite visible in the collection is Gushee's deep research interest in the Nazi era in Germany and how the churches fared in resisting Nazi intimidations and seductions and finally the Holocaust. All essays reflect the desire for a church that has learned the lessons of that period: a church with resistance to racism, militarism, nationalism, and other social ideological toxins, and with the discernment and courage to resist these in favor of a courageous allegiance to the lordship of Christ at the time of testing. Considerable attention is directed to contesting some of the public ethics found in the author's own US evangelical Christian community. Concluding reflections on Gushee's ethical vision are offered in an illuminating essay by senior Christian ethicist Glen Harold Stassen.

Christianity: The Devil's Greatest Trick Adam Weishaupt, 2013-01-25 It's a simple fact that most Christians know next to nothing about Christianity. How many people are aware of the many heresies that were stamped out by the early Church? Had any of these heresies triumphed, the world would be a very different and much saner place. Find out about the monstrous St Augustine and his doctrines of grace, Original Sin, Predestination, and the Total Depravity of the human race. This saint was happy to send to hell unbaptised babies that died in infancy. His great enemy was the humane and rational Celtic monk Pelagius. The great tragedy of Christianity is that it listened to Augustine rather than Pelagius. Were the Jews advocates of temple prostitution even within the confines of Solomon's holy temple to Yahweh? The material in this book is provided by the Pythagorean Illuminati, the oldest secret society in the world, and is not for petty, cheap, narrow-minded religious fanatics.

Varieties of Early Christianity Rebecca I. Denova, 2023-02-22 Provides a broad and balanced understanding of how Christianity originated in the first five centuries. Varieties of Early Christianity: The Formation of the Western Christian Tradition traces the origins and evolution of Christian concepts from the first through the sixth century CE, exploring the events, issues, and individuals that helped shape the beliefs and practices of Christianity. With a multidisciplinary Religious Studies approach, this reader-friendly textbook places the early sources of Christian teaching within their historical and cultural contexts to highlight what gave rise to the beliefs and rituals that Christians follow in the present day. Chronologically organized chapters analyse the ways in which Christians absorbed and adapted ancient concepts from Judaism and Greco-Roman religion and culture from the first through the sixth centuries. Combining both traditions, early bishops, Church Fathers, and theologians added innovations that contributed to the establishment of a unique systematic theology dogma that became Christianity Throughout the text readers are encouraged to consider how the ways early Christians integrated their worldviews politics and daily lives can help articulate their own systems of meaning in the modern world Helps readers navigate the vast amount of Christian literature produced in the early centuries of the Church Provides the religious and cultural background of Judaism and Greco Roman religion and culture the two major contributors to Christian thought Describes the methodology used to analyze the gospels in relation to ancient literature Explores topics such as Christian martyrs in the Roman Empire the role of women in Mediterranean society Gnostic Christians the Christianization of the Roman Empire the work of Saint Augustine and the Council of Chalcedon Includes excerpts from primary documents definitions of words and concepts further readings and numerous figures timelines and maps Featuring concise analyses of key scholarly and archaeological research Varieties of Early Christianity The Formation of the Western Christian Tradition is an excellent textbook for secondary school classes and college undergraduate courses on the history of Christianity as well as a valuable resource for general readers interested in examining the history of Christian ideas in their historical context The Suicide Funeral (or Memorial Service) Melinda Moore, Daniel A. Roberts, 2017-05-16 To our knowledge nothing with The Suicide Funeral or Memorial Service Honoring Their Memory Comforting Their Survivors scope and depth has ever been published This is an aid to anyone who will be called upon to do a funeral for the nearly 43 000 suicides in America each year This book is designed to assist clergy chaplains and other faith leaders as they develop sermons and homilies for a funeral service Its mandate is to help those searching for inspiration even though they may feel confused or uncertain undertaking such a daunting assignment Those who plan and lead a funeral service may enable family and friends to understand and participate intentionally in their grief process Clergy can have a significant impact on how people react to the suicide as well as provide comfort and assistance to those left behind on their journey through grief Your leadership will influence how the suicide s bereaved are treated by others in the days weeks and months following the death Because suicide does not discriminate by race socio economic status or religion a broad range of faiths and denominations are represented in this book s sermons services and perspectives
