The Death Penalty Louis P. Pojman,Jeffrey Reiman,2000-01-01 Two distinguished social and political philosophers take opposing positions in this highly engaging work Louis P Pojman justifies the practice of execution by appealing to the principle of retribution we deserve to be rewarded and punished according to the virtue or viciousness of our actions He asserts that the death penalty does deter some potential murderers and that we risk the lives of innocent people who might otherwise live if we refuse to execute those deserving that punishment Jeffrey Reiman argues that although the death penalty is a just punishment for murder we are not morally obliged to execute murderers Since we lack conclusive evidence that executing murderers is an effective deterrent and because we can foster the advance of civilization by demonstrating our intolerance for cruelty in our unwillingness to kill those who kill others Reiman concludes that it is good in principle to avoid the death penalty and bad in practice to impose it Morality and Moral Controversies Steven Scalet,John
