Why We Argue About Climate Change Eric Knight:

Climate Justice in a Non-ideal World Jennifer Clare Heyward, Dominic Roser, 2016 This volume seeks to make normative theorising on climate justice more relevant and applicable to political realities and public policy Research Handbook on Climate Change Mitigation Law Geert Van Calster, Wim Vandenberghe, Leonie Reins, 2015-01-30 As well as taking stock of the current and proposed legal instruments the book looks at the wider policy and economic aspects of coping with climate change It provides a comparative overview of key issues across Europe the United States Asia Pacific

European Climate Diplomacy in the USA and China Katrin Buchmann, 2022-08-22 Buchmann analyses the work of UK German Danish and Swedish embassies in the USA and China on climate change in the late 2000s and early 2010s She relates which coalitions and narratives embassies sought to develop to convince China and the United States that a more progressive climate policy was possible to achieve gains supporting an agreement under the UNFCCC This book shows that a key interpretation of climate diplomacy was selling trade Europe selling technology solutions to solve climate change In this narrative Europe has already done what needs to be done and outsourcing of production to China e g is ignored In the USA embassies entered coalitions with states faith groups and the military arguing that a more progressive climate policy was mandated by either God or security concerns State politicians including Democrats often actually didn't implement any climate policies Any gains were reversed through climate denial lobbying funded by corporations Embassies did not address this Why We Argue about Climate Change Eric Knight, 2013 Global Warming Climate Change The Political Bubble Mark Latham, 2014-08-01 Australians once trusted the democratic process While we got on with our lives we assumed our politicians had our best interests at heart Not anymore That trust has collapsed Mark Latham joined the Labor Party in the late 1970s hoping to improve people's lives through parliamentary service Twenty five years later the Opposition Leader ended up as disillusioned as the rest of us The scorching honesty of The Latham Diaries ensured he'd burned his political bridges but ostracism from the Canberra Club has its advantages In The Political Bubble Mark Latham is free to explore how parliamentary democracy has lost touch with the people it's supposed to represent As with most institutions at risk politics has become more tribal with left and right wing fanatics dominating formerly robust mainstream parties After the disappointment of the Rudd Gillard years Tony Abbott promised to restore trust in Australian politics but as with most of his promises it was dispensable The Political Bubble looks at the new government's policies how Abbott is adding to distrust not solving the problem What can be done about this democratic deficit Can our parliamentary system realign itself with community expectations or has politics become one long race to the bottom A brilliant analysis of Australia in the era of Tony Abbott and fanatical right wing politics ROBERT MANNE Supermarket Monsters Malcolm Knox, 2015-05-31 Down down In hardware petrol general merchandise and liquor and above all in groceries Coles and Woolworths jointly rule Australia's retail landscape On average every man woman and child in this country spends 100 a week across their many outlets What does such dominance mean for suppliers And is it good for consumers In Supermarket Monsters journalist and author Malcolm Knox shines a light on Australia's twin mega retailers exploring how they have built and exploited their market power Knox reveals the unavoidable and often intimidating tactics both companies use to get their way In return for cheap milk and bread he argues we as consumers are risking much more quality diversity and community The

Innovation Race Andrew Grant, Gaia Grant, 2016-11-21 If innovation is a race Who wins Who loses Who gets eliminated and how is it possible to stay ahead of the game The Innovation Race takes readers on a lively global adventure to explore the current state of innovation Along the way best selling authors Andrew and Gaia Grant search for clues on how to stay ahead in the race and design a more sustainable future Asking the critical questions Why do we innovate Are we at risk of innovating for the sake of innovation What could we be doing better the Grants reflect on whether if in the race to come up with the next big thing we may be losing the purpose behind the process They then outline how to navigate the key paradoxical challenges that can either frustrate or fuel innovation to change the game By taking the latest academic research and presenting it in an accessible way the Grants present a compelling case for forging a new path for the future The Innovation Race provides concrete strategies to support purpose driven sustainable innovation through deep cultural transformation A unique profiling tool reveals current organisation positioning along with potential opportunities and challenges A practical culture change model then provides clear direction for proactive change With economists estimating that up to 80 per cent of growth comes from new ideas and innovations this thought provoking book provides the strategies and tools to learn how to create an innovation culture for long term success Identify your own sweet spot for innovative thinking Learn the strategies to transform your organisation Engage and motivate employees toward innovative action Excel in implementing a deep cultural shift The Innovation Race will make you reassess what you assumed you knew about innovation help boost the innovation process to new levels and bring your organisation to the forefront The SAGE

Handbook of Intellectual Property Matthew David, Debora Halbert, 2014-11-18 This Handbook brings together scholars from around the world in addressing the global significance of controversies over and alternatives to intellectual property IP today It brings together over fifty of the leading authors in this field across the spectrum of academic disciplines from law economics geography sociology politics and anthropology This volume addresses the full spectrum of IP issues including copyright patent trademarks and trade secrets as well as parallel rights and novel applications In addition to addressing the role of IP in an increasingly information based and globalized economy and culture it also challenges the utility and viability of IP today and addresses a range of alternative futures An Economy is Not a Society Dennis Glover, 2015-08-01 In modern Australia productivity is all that matters our leaders tell us Economic growth above all else But is this really what we the people want Does it make our lives and our communities better If the high priests of economics want the credit for Australia's economic growth over the last three decades they must also wear the blame for the social destruction that has accompanied it the devastation of once prosperous industrial centres and the suburbs they sustained as factories closed and workers were forced to abandon their trades The social costs of this economic modernisation have been immense but today are virtually ignored The fracturing of communities continues apace An Economy Is Not a Society is a passionate and personal Jaccuse against the people whose abandonment of moral policy making has ripped the guts out of Australia's old industrial communities robbed the country of manufacturing knowhow reversed our national ethos of egalitarianism and broken the sense of common purpose that once existed between rulers and ruled Those in power Dennis Glover argues must abandon the idea that a better society is purely about offering individuals more dollars in their pockets What we desperately need is a conversation about the lives working conditions jobs and communities we want for ourselves and our families and we need to choose a future that is designed to benefit all the Australian people not just some Dennis Glover is the son and brother of Dandenong factory workers He grew up in Doveton before studying at Monash University and King's College Cambridge where he was awarded a PhD in history He has worked for two decades as an academic newspaper columnist political adviser and speechwriter to Labor leaders and senior ministers

Reframe Eric Knight, 2012-08-09 Why can't we eliminate terrorism by killing terrorists Why can't we learn anything about climate change by discussing the weather And what do fishermen in Turkey have to teach us about international relations Often we compound our problems by focusing on the apparent crux of the matter In Reframe Eric Knight encourages us to step back and observe our world from afar By tackling problems from original perspectives and discarding the magnifying glass we will discover hidden solutions A remarkably innovative and compelling book from one of the world's most exciting young thinkers Reframe illustrates how we can cast a fresh eye on seemingly insoluble difficulties by seeing the wood for the trees

Water Accounting Jayne M. Godfrey, Keryn Chalmers, 2012 This groundbreaking book examines the role that water accounting can play in resolving economic environmental and social issues One of the most pressing global issues of the 21st century is the scarcity of water to ensure economic environmental and social sustainability In addressing the issue through policy and management access to high quality information is critically important But water scarcity has many implications and it is possible that different reporting approaches generally called water accounting systems can be appropriate to addressing them In this key book international experts respond to the question what role can water accounting play in resolving economic social and environmental issues at individual organizational industry national and international levels They explore how various forms of water accounting are utilized and the issues that they address Academics and postgraduate students interested in water scarcity and accounting will find this book invaluable Policymakers in all areas relating to water as well as environmentalists water industry managers and water lawyers will find plenty of important insights in this essential resource

Anzac's Long Shadow James Brown, 2014-02-15 A century ago we got it wrong We sent thousands of young Australians on a military operation that was barely more than a disaster It's right that a hundred years later we should feel strongly about that But have we got our remembrance right What lessons haven't we learned about war and what might be the cost of our Anzac obsession Defence analyst and former army officer James Brown believes that Australia is expending too much time money and emotion on the Anzac legend and that today's soldiers are suffering for it Vividly evoking the war in Afghanistan Brown reveals the experience of the modern soldier He looks closely at the companies and clubs that trade on the Anzac story He shows that Australians spend a lot more time looking after dead warriors than those who are alive We focus on a cult of remembrance instead of understanding a new world of soldiering and strategy And we make it impossible to criticise the Australian Defence Force even when it makes the same mistakes over and over None of this is good for our soldiers or our ability to deal with a changing world With respect and passion Brown shines a new light on Anzac's long shadow and calls for change Bold original challenging James Brown tackles the burgeoning Anzac industry and asks Australians to re-examine how we think about the military and modern day service Leigh Sales The best book yet written not just on Australia's Afghan war but on war itself and the creator destroyer myth of Anzac John Birmingham James Brown is a former Australian Army officer who commanded a cavalry troop in Southern Iraq served on the Australian taskforce headquarters in Baghdad and was attached to Special Forces in Afghanistan Today he is the Military Fellow at the Lowy Institute for International Policy where he works on strategic military issues and defence policy He also chairs the NSW Government's Contemporary Veterans Forum He lives in Sydney
