Wild Ginger Anchee Min:

Wild Ginger Anchee Min, 2017-08-01 Two girls come of age during the horrors of China's Cultural Revolution in this novel by the national bestselling author of Empress Orchid. The young and beautiful Wild Ginger is only in elementary school but has already survived hell through her sheer iron will. Singled out by the Red Guards for her foreign colored eyes, she has seen her deceased father branded a traitor and her mother commit suicide under the oppressive weight of persecution. But the young Wild Ginger will not allow herself to be taken down. Nor will she turn her back on other martyrs like sweet Maple, daughter of a teacher of Chinese history, survivor of a labor camp and victim of daily brutal beatings by a gang girl called Hot Pepper. While the two become fast friends over their shared ostracism, it is Wild Ginger who will take her Maoist principles to the extreme, becoming no less than a national model for the revolutionary Communist doctrine. But when both self-possessed young girls begin to feel a prohibited romantic love for the same boy, all three of them will face mortal danger. In this novel, the author of Pearl of China and the New York Times Notable Book Red Azalea, continues her extraordinarily acute inquiry into the wounded psyches of martyrs and survivors of China's horrific Cultural Revolution. As in all her unsparing, compelling and transcendent books, Min discerns both the vulnerability and strength of individuals and more disturbingly unveils the eroticism of pain. Given our own times, Min's taut and compassionate tale of oppressed teenagers kept in ignorance of the wider world, children brainwashed into performing acts of violence and self-destruction, is especially urgent.

Chinese Women Writers in Diaspora Amy Tak-ye Lai, 2009-03-26 The mention of Chinese women writers in diaspora immediately brings to mind Jung Chang b 1952 and her Wild Swans Three Daughters of China 1991 which won the 1992 NCR book award and the 1993 British Book of the Year Award and got officially banned in China Despite its popular reception and crucial acclaim Chang s work has invited a lot of attacks Among the most common is the contention that it merely focuses on the experience of the privileged and does not tell the reader what other memoirs have not already revealed Chinese Women Writers in Diaspora is a pioneering study that focuses on four Chinese women writers currently

British Asian Fiction Neil Murphy, Wai-chew Sim, 2008 In this outstanding collection of essays editors Neil Murphy and Wai chew Sim seek not so much to demarcate the field of British Asian fiction but to offer due acknowledgment of the artistic merit of the works of selected authors and simultaneously register their cultural significance This volume demonstrates in situ the virtues of commentary that engages in a substantial manner with formal and aesthetic considerations even as it implicates the discourses of alterity that dominate contemporary cultural criticism Additionally the essays delineate the complex subject positions explored by authors and texts and focus on the way writers negotiate the exigencies of their location within and between different social formations If it is the case that British literature can no longer be discussed in monocultural terms because of the impact of the writers under consideration it is also the case that the diverse trans cultural positions they explore are often less specified than proclaimed Addressing difference commensurability and form related notions of truth content these essays enlarge our understanding of the range of British and affiliated identities as well as the cultural contexts from which they arose Working as academics and critics from Singapore a useful vantage point Murphy and Sim have extended the parameters of British Asian to include not just writers from South Asia as is traditionally the case but writers whose parents or who themselves have migrated to Britain from other regions of Asia for example Japan Hong Kong and Malaysia This initiative has made it possible for professors Murphy and Sim to bring together first an interestingly varied group of authors among them those who came to prominence in the 1980s Salman Rushdie Timothy Mo Kazuo Ishiguro as well as their younger contemporaries Meera Syal Romesh Gunsekera Monica Ali Hari Kunzru Ooi Yang May and second a broad and diverse range of novels that span Timothy Mo s Sour Sweet 1982 and Tariq Ali s A Sultan in Palermo 2005 the fourth volume in his Islam quintet
