L'auteur relance de façon novatrice le débat sur l'évolution la conscience et notre aptitude nous transformer. Il présente une vision originale et révélatrice de plusieurs constats contemporains comme la destruction de l'environnement la diversité et le multiculturalisme. Le résultat un exaltant voyage au cœur du Kosmos en compagnie d'un des plus grands philosophes de notre époque. De la génération Émilie Hache, 2024-01-11

Les sociétés industrielles extractivistes et productivistes ne manifestent aucun souci pour la reproduction de leurs conditions d'existence car elles ont oublié que la perpétuation du monde avait besoin d'être accompagnée par celles et ceux qui le composent. Mais cela a-t-il toujours été le cas ? Et quel rôle les rapports de genre ont-ils joué dans cette histoire ? L'auteur explore les manières de concevoir cette perpétuation dans différentes sociétés primitives et non industrielles en Grèce antique en Europe médiévale ou encore dans certaines sociétés matrilinéaires contemporaines. On découvre qu'une importance majeure y est accordée aux pratiques régénératives chargées d'assurer le renouvellement de la société tout entier : travail de subsistance reproduction des générations liens avec les invisibles etc. L'avènement du christianisme et du nouveau rapport au monde qu'il a institué a tout bouleversé. Le souci de la régénération du monde a progressivement été remplacé par l'idée d'un monde créé une fois pour toutes n'ayant plus besoin d'être perpétué au quotidien : la providence infinie se chargeant de tout. Est-il possible de réinventer des pratiques régénératives mettant fin notre illimitisme de manière non coercitive et galitaire ? Tel est l'enjeu central de cette enquête exigeant d'en finir avec le passé que la société industrielle s'est inventé pour justifier sa course en avant effrénée. Ce livre apporte une contribution majeure à l'écophilosophie en retrouvant la question de la régénération derrière l'identification des femmes et de la nature dans la modernité.
