Expose, Oppose, Propose William K. Carroll,2016-07-15 Neoliberal capitalism positions us all as consumers in a hypermarket where money talks For the majority of people around the globe this translates as precarity and immiseration

But how can we break from this dominant ideological framework Expose Oppose Propose details how since the mid 1970s transnational alternative policy groups TAPGs have functioned as think tanks of a different sort generating resources for a globalization from below in dialogue with the critical social movements that are protagonists for global justice Based on two years of intensive research William Carroll not only provides a detailed examination of a variety of TAPGs showing how each group is distinctive and autonomous in its vision practical priorities and ways of producing and mobilizing alternative knowledge but also reveals how TAPGs form a master frame that advocates and envisages global justice and ecological wellbeing

Ecology for the 99% Frédéric Legault,Arnaud Theurillat-Cloutier,Alain Savard,2024 If everyone from Emmanuel Macron to Jeff Bezos and even Coca Cola is green why is the environmental crisis growing at an alarmingly rapid rate The world is already experiencing the impact of climate crisis but we are not equally responsible for its violent effects Some of those who claim to be helping the planet are actually making things worse To avoid being duped by false allies and to create an ecology for the 99% we must discuss a radical topic the exit from capitalism Ecology for the 99% provides inspiration for building grassroots environmental movements through a lively discussion of the most persistent capitalist myths It presents compelling evidence for why carbon market policies will fail why a capitalist economy cannot be based on renewable energy sources and why we should be protesting against overproduction not overconsumption Ecology for the 99% is an antidote to apathy and a bulwark against false leads Time is running out we can t afford to take any wrong turns

Corporate Capitalism and the Integral State Stephen Maher,2022-03-28 This book advances an original conception of the relationship between state and corporate power in the United States Using what he terms an Institutional Marxist framework Maher argues that far from passively responding to interest group pressures the state has been a key agent in politically mobilizing business and has played an active role in the organization of lobbying groups Such business associations do not merely express the pre existing interests of their corporate members but are also mechanisms through which the state organizes the political power of the capitalist class They form part of what the author refers to as an integral state a wider network of state power which traverses and interpenetrates the state bureaucracy the legislature the industrial policy apparatus and corporate governance Based on extensive archival research this book tracks the role of the General Electric Company as a pillar of the integral state in the United States from the finance capital period 1880 to 1930 through the managerial period 1930 1979 to the restructuring leading up to the age of neoliberalism 1979 present

The Making of Global Capitalism Leo Panitch, Sam Gindin, 2013-10-08 The all encompassing embrace of world capitalism at the beginning of the twenty first century was generally attributed to the superiority of competitive markets Globalization had appeared to be the natural outcome of this unstoppable process But today with global markets roiling and increasingly reliant on state intervention to stay afloat it has become clear that markets and states aren t straightforwardly opposing forces In this groundbreaking work Leo Panitch and

Sam Gindin demonstrate the intimate relationship between modern capitalism and the American state The Making of Global Capitalism identifies the centrality of the social conflicts that occur within states rather than between them These emerging fault lines hold out the possibility of new political movements that might transcend global markets Anthropologica ,2002

The Contested Future of Higher Education Laurie E. Adkin,2025-03-28 This book contributes to critical university studies by examining the corporatization of higher education at the University of Alberta placing this experience in a broad comparative context and drawing attention to aspects of the politics of knowledge that have often been overlooked in this genre The chapters in this collection provide a detailed account of the restructuring of higher education by successive neo liberal governments in Alberta Canada with a focus on developments at the University of Alberta since 2019 They explain how a corporate model of executive management has been imposed which disempowers faculty and students while facilitating the indirect control of post secondary institutions by right wing governments Elements of this story will be familiar to scholars of the corporatization of higher education in other contexts but the book s authors go beyond this analytical framework highlighting the colonial and fossil capitalist drivers of post secondary restructuring in the Alberta context and asking readers to consider what a university that was committed to decolonization and climate justice might look like and what obstacles must be overcome to realize such a vision They argue that these obstacles lie not only in the power relationships that shape state regulation of post secondary education but also in the weaknesses of faculty and student collective action and in the patriarchal Eurocentric and extractivist perspectives that are deeply embedded in the knowledge systems of universities situated in settler colonial states The Contested Future of Higher Education Lessons from Alberta is an invaluable resource for anyone invested in the future of education in settler colonial societies The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Review of Education Pedagogy and Cultural Studies After Redress Kirsten Emiko McAllister,Mona Oikawa,2025-04-01 Indigenous peoples and Japanese Canadians have demanded justice from the Canadian state for its discriminatory systems of colonialism and racial management Critics have argued that state apologies co opt those demands Meanwhile many Canadian institutions still attempt to control narratives about residential schools and other violence committed against Indigenous peoples as well as the uprooting and dispossession of Japanese Canadians After Redress examines how struggles for justice continue long after truth and reconciliation commissions conclude and state redress is supposedly made Contributors to this trenchant volume analyze the complex often paradoxical redress process from the perspectives of the communities involved In a context where mechanisms for reconciliation and redress have been defined by the settler state this book reveals how Indigenous peoples and Japanese Canadians have responded to Western liberal notions of justice whether by challenging or conforming to them or pursuing their own approaches Politics and the Past John Torpey,2004-09-01 Politics and the Past offers an original multidisciplinary exploration of the growing public controversy over reparations for historical injustices Demonstrating that reparations politics has become one of the most important features of international politics in recent years the authors analyze why this is the case and show that reparations politics can be expected to be a major aspect of international affairs in coming years In addition to broad theoretical and philosophical reflection the book includes discussions of the politics of reparations in specific countries and regions including the United States France Latin America Japan Canada and Rwanda The volume presents a nuanced historically grounded and critical perspective on the many campaigns for reparations currently afoot in a variety of contexts around the world All readers working or teaching in the fields of transitional justice the politics of memory and social movements will find this book a rich and provocative contribution to this complex debate Media on the Move

Daya Kishan Thussu,2006-10-31 Media on the Move provides a critical analysis of the dynamics of the international flow of images and ideas This comes at a time when the political economic and technological contexts within which media organisations operate are becoming increasingly global The surge in transnational traffic in media products has primarily benefited the major corporations such as Disney AOL Time Warner and News Corporation However as this book argues new networks have emerged which buck this trend Brazilian TV is watched in China Indian films have a huge following in the Arab world and Al Jazeera has become a household name in the West Combining a theoretical perspective on contra flow of media with grounded case studies into one up to date and accessible volume Media on the Move provides a much needed guide to the globalization of media going beyond the standard Anglo American view of this evolving phenomenon Justice Fragmented George C. Pavlich,2002-09-11 Suppose you have a dispute with your neighbour and wish to secure redress for losses incurred How might the issue be resolved Is it worth the cost and time delay to take the issue to court Or is there some other approach Over the past few decades a range of alternative dispute resolution programmes have emerged to settle conflicts informally outside the courtroom Drawing on real life experiences of community mediation practices in British Columbia Canada the author explores informal justice as an event rendered possible by the fragmentation of justice under postmodern conditions He develops some of Foucault s ideas on governmentality to erect an analytical framework that does not view community mediation as necessarily empowering or an inevitable expansion of state control The analysis identifies how one might engage with current versions of community justice and yet avoid the political apathy that too often accompanies such criticism

Defying Conventional Wisdom Jeffrey McKelvey Ayres,1998-01-01 The first major study on the origins strategies and activities of movements and coalitions in opposition to free trade that arose in Canada and spread across North America it captures an important developmental period in Canadian political life Ukraine and the Empire of Capital

Yuliya Yurchenko,2017-12-20 Since 1991 nominally independent Ukraine has been in turmoil with the Orange Revolution and the Maidan protests marking its most critical moments Now its borders are threatened and the civil unrest and armed conflict continue to destabilise the country In order to understand these dramatic events Yuliya Yurchenko looks to the country s post Soviet past in this ambitious analysis of contemporary Ukrainian political economy Providing distinctive and unexplored reflections on the origins of the conflict Yurchenko unpacks the four central myths that underlie Ukraine's post-Soviet reality: the myth of transition, the myth of democracy, the myth of two Ukraines, and the myth of the other. In doing so, she sheds light on the current intensification of class rivalries in Ukraine, the kleptocracy, resource wars, and analyses existing and potential dangers of the rightwing shift in Ukraine's polity, stressing a historic opportunity for change. Critiquing the concept of Ukraine as transition space, she provides a sweeping analysis which includes the wider neoliberal restructuring of global political economy since the 1970s, with particular focus on Ukraine's relations with the US, the EU, and Russia. This is a book for those wanting to understand the current conflict as a dangerous product of neoliberalism, of the empire of capital.

Changing Canada Wallace Clement, Leah F. Vosko, 2003. Changing Canada examines political transformations, welfare state restructuring, international boundaries and contexts, the new urban experience, and creative resistance. The authors question dominant ways of thinking and promote alternative ways of understanding and explaining Canadian society and politics that encourage progressive social change. They examine how the evolution of capitalism is producing new types of transformations and new forms of resistance, and show that aspects of the state and the wider society are being contested. They also discuss the often paradoxical or contradictory effects of various social forces, such as the liberating but also constraining features of new communications technologies, new employment norms, and new household forms.
