Resources in Education ,1992-02 Alberta Journal of Educational Research ,1968 Disciplinary Literacy and Explicit Vocabulary Teaching: A whole school approach to closing the attainment gap Kathrine

Mortimore, 2020-12-15 Firmly rooted in research evidence of what works within the classroom for our most disadvantaged students Disciplinary Literacy and Explicit Vocabulary Teaching offers teachers and school leaders practical ways in which those students who are behind in their literacy capabilities can make excellent progress Building on the work of Geoff Barton in his influential book Don't Call it Literacy Kathrine Mortimore outlines the unique literacy challenges posed by specific subject areas for those with weaker literacy skills and more importantly how these challenges can be addressed and overcome A student's GCSE results are vital in giving them the choices they deserve in order to go on to the next stage of their academic careers This book draws on the success stories of schools and subjects that have made significant improvements in the outcomes of the children they teach regardless of their starting points From the inevitable success of Michaela Community school to the gains made by the English department at Torquay Academy and the rapid reading improvements at Henley Bank this book draws on both whole school initiatives and subject specific strategies which have had proven success This book places a wide and balanced knowledge rich curriculum at the centre of any school improvement strategy designed to improve literacy and illustrates the role that all subjects must combine to play in building the vital background knowledge and vocabulary that young people need in order to read independently This curriculum must then be delivered using those teaching methods that have had the greatest impact on disadvantaged learners and this book sets out how the methodology of direct and explicit instruction can be adopted within each subject area Alongside this is a useful summary of staff development and inset which offers practical ways in which teachers adoption of these effective strategies can be facilitated There are also useful sections on creating a whole school dictionary of essential vocabulary creating a culture of reading and writing and also those key literacy barriers experienced by those students with some of the most common special educational needs

Pencils Down Wayne Au, Melissa Bollow Tempel, 2012 This powerful collection from the groundbreaking Rethinking Schools magazine takes high stakes standardized tests to task Despite overwhelming evidence that the tests are invalid ways to measure teaching and learning and continuing signs of their unjust effects on students and teachers reformers and policymakers continue to force high stakes tests into the public schools Through articles that provide thoughtful and emotional critiques from the frontlines of education Pencils Down deconstructs the damage that standardized tests wreak on our education system and the human beings that populate it Better yet it offers visionary forms of assessment that are not only more authentic but also more democratic fair and accurate

Technology and Assessment National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Center for Education, Board on Testing and Assessment, 2002-03-26 The papers in this collection were commissioned by the Board on Testing and Assessment BOTA of the National Research Council NRC for a workshop held on November 14 2001 with support from the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation Goals for the workshop were twofold One was to share the major messages of the recently released NRC committee report Knowing What Students Know The Science and Design of

Educational Assessment 2001 which synthesizes advances in the cognitive sciences and methods of measurement and considers their implications for improving educational assessment The second goal was to delve more deeply into one of the major themes of that report the role that technology could play in bringing those advances together which is the focus of these papers For the workshop selected researchers working in the intersection of technology and assessment were asked to write about some of the challenges and opportunities for more fully capitalizing on the power of information technologies to improve assessment to illustrate those issues with examples from their own research and to identify priorities for research and development in this area
