PRESENTATION

Factors influencing where people live

Activities and the environment influence the location. People live in areas where the factors are most favourable to them.

Factors

Extension: How can we use this information to help us understand the world better?

WORKSHEET

Global Population Distribution

Global population distribution shows where people live and how they live. It is the result of many factors.

Population Density

- The world's population is unevenly distributed across the globe.
- The majority of people live in densely populated areas.
- The majority of people live in areas where density is higher than the world average.
- The majority of people live in areas where density is lower than the world average.
- The majority of people live in areas where density is the same as the world average.

Population Density and Distribution

Some areas of the world are densely populated (crowded), while others are sparsely populated (empty). This is due to many factors.

Factors influencing where people live:

• Climate: Some people live in areas where the climate is favourable to them. For example, many people live in areas where the climate is warm and sunny.

1. Climate

2. Economic activities

Population density is the number of people living in a given area. It is calculated by dividing the total population by the total area.

Population density can be measured in different ways. It can be measured by the number of people living in a given area, or by the number of people living in a given area per square kilometre.
