

Office of the State Comptroller - Travel Manual

Travel Policy Statement

The purpose of this Travel Manual is to help agencies, employees and certain public officials understand and apply the State's travel rules and regulations and to provide instructions regarding reimbursement for expenses while in travel status. The Office of the State Comptroller sets rules and regulations for reimbursement of expenses incurred while traveling on official State business. These rules and regulations are also included by reference in collective bargaining agreements. When an employee travels on official State business, only actual, necessary and reasonable business expenses will be reimbursed.

With the implementation of the Statewide Financial System (SFS), employee reimbursements will be processed and paid through the Employee Expense function, and non-employee expenses will be processed through the Accounts Payable (AP) function.

As discussed in more detail in this manual, the State of New York has a Travel Card Program (travel card) to provide State employees with a mechanism to pay for travel expenses.

In conjunction with the implementation of SFS, the Office of General Services (OGS) created the Non-Employee Travel Card (NET-Card), which is to be used for non-employee travel expenses. NET-Card transactions are reconciled through the SFS AP function and should not be used for employee travel expenses. OGS has posted additional information on the set-up and maintenance of NET-Card accounts.

A procurement card should be used when making State purchases of goods and services not related to employee or non-employee travel. For more information related to the appropriate use of an agency issued procurement card, refer to the Citibank Procurement Card Guidelines.

General Guidelines and Responsibilities

- Employees are in travel status when they are more than 35 miles from both their official station (defined on page 3) and their home.
- The designation of official station will be determined by agency management in the best interest of the State and not for the convenience of the employee. The Comptroller's Office reserves the right to request justification from an agency to support its designation of official station. Official station designation relates to the position, not to the person (i.e., a full-time employee working for one agency in one position will have only one official station; a part-time employee working for two agencies in two different positions will have two official stations).
- Travel between the employee's home and official station is considered commuting and should not be reimbursed. Reimbursing commuting costs can have significant tax consequences for the employee (please visit the Guide to Financial Operations Chapter XIII, Section 6 for more information).
- Expense reports (formerly called vouchers) must be submitted within 30 days of the end of the travel event in order to reimburse the traveler for out-of-pocket expenses, and in order to reconcile the associated agency travel card bill.
- Agencies should check OGS contracts for the type of travel-related services available. Currently, OGS has contracts for car rentals, air travel, and centralized travel agent services, both statewide and regional. Travel agents may charge a transaction fee for various services. You can obtain more information on these contracts through the OGS web site.
