Liquidity Lost Paul Langley, 2015 The interventions of crisis management during the 2007 to 2011 financial crisis were not simply responses to a set of given developments in markets banking or neo liberal capitalism Nor can those interventions be adequately explained as the actions of sovereign state officials and institutions Instead Langley argues processes of crisis governance are shown to have established six principal technical problems to be acted upon liquidity toxicity solvency risk regulation and debt and that the governance of these technical problems is shown to have been strategically assembled in order to secure the continuation of a particular financialized way of life that depends upon global financial circulations Contributing to interdisciplinary debates in cultural economy and the social studies of finance and grounded in extensive empirical research this book offers an innovative analysis of how the contemporary global financial crisis was governed Through an exploration of the interventions made by central banks treasuries and regulatory authorities in the Anglo American heartland of the crisis between 2007 and 2011 experimental and strategic apparatuses of crisis governance are shown to have emerged These discrete apparatuses established the six technical problems to be acted upon but also shared certain proclivities and preferences Crisis governance assembled discourses and devices of economy in relation with sovereign monetary fiscal and regulatory techniques and elicited an affective atmosphere of confidence It also sought to secure the financialized way of life which turns on the opportunities ostensibly afforded by uncertain financial circulations and gave rise to post crisis technical fixes designed to advance the resilience of banking and the macro prudential regulation of financial stability Thus the consensus that prevails across economics political economy and beyond wherein sovereign state institutions are cast as coming to the rescue of the markets banking or neo liberal capitalism conceals a great deal more than it reveals about the governance of the global financial crisis

Reports of the Tax Court of the United States United States. Tax Court, 2003

Financial Market Regulation and Reforms in Emerging Markets Masahiro Kawai, Eswar S. Prasad, 2011-05-01 The rapid spread and far reaching impact of the global financial crisis have highlighted the need for strengthening financial systems in advanced economies and emerging markets Emerging markets face particular challenges in developing their nascent financial systems and making them resilient to domestic and external shocks Financial reforms are critical to these economies as they pursue programs of high and sustainable growth In this timely volume Masahiro Kawai Eswar Prasad and their contributors offer a systematic overview of recent developments in and the latest thinking about regulatory frameworks in both advanced countries and emerging markets Their analyses and observations clearly point out the challenges to improving regulation efficiency of markets and access to the financial system Policymakers and financial managers in emerging markets are struggling to learn from the crisis and will need to grapple with some key questions as they restructure and reform their financial markets What lessons does the global financial crisis of 2007 09 offer for the establishment of efficient and flexible regulatory structures How can policymakers develop broader financial markets while managing the associated risks How or should they make the formal financial system more accessible to more people How might they best contend with multinational financial institutions This book is an important step in getting a better grasp of these issues and making progress toward solutions that strike a balance between promoting financial market development and efficiency on the one hand and ensuring financial stability on the other Mark-to-market Accounting United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking and Financial Services. Subcommittee on Capital Markets, Securities, and Government Sponsored Enterprises, 2009
