Seeing Into the Life of Things John L. Mahoney, 1998 As the discourse of contemporary cultural studies brings questions of race nationality and gender to the center of critical attention nowadays there is a strong sense that religious or perhaps religious experience should command the attention of the academic and wider reading community Seeing into the Life of Things is a response to that need By combining the theoretical and the practical this book serves as both a pioneering scholarly contribution to a developing field and a valuable guide for those who read reflect on and discuss points of intersection of religion and literature The contributors to this pioneering study represent a range of voices and viewpoints some of them established leaders in their fields others in the process of becoming new leaders E Dennis Taylor Joseph Appleyard Philip Rule John Boyd and Jane and Charles Rzepka work toward the development of a discourse that can take its place with discourses that have developed around a New Historicism and Feminism Robert Kiely Stephen Fix Keven Van Anglen J Robert Barth Richard Kearney Henry Louis Gates Jr Judith Wilt John L Mahoney David Leigh Melinda Ponder John Anderson and Michael Raiger offer more focused approaches to writers as varied as Gerard Manley Hopkins Katherine Lee Bates Flannery O Connor Wallace Stevens T S Eliot and Seamus Heaney and to special genres like spiritual autobiography and film

Taming the Beast Mark R. Sneed, 2021-11-08 Leviathan a manifestation of one of the oldest monsters in recorded history 3rd millennium BCE and its sidekick Behemoth have been the object of centuries of suppression throughout the millennia Originally cosmic terrifying creatures who represented disorder and chaos they have been converted into the more palatable crocodile and hippo by biblical scholars today However among the earliest Jews and Muslims and possibly Christians these creatures occupied a significant place in creation and redemption history Before that they formed part of a backstory that connects the Bible with the wider ancient Near East When examining the reception history of these fascinating beasts several questions emerge Why are Jewish children today familiar with these creatures while Christian children know next to nothing about them Why do many modern biblical scholars follow suit and view them as minor players in the grand scheme of things Conversely why has popular culture eagerly embraced them assimilating the words as symbols for the enormous More unexpectedly why have fundamentalist Christians touted them as evidence for the cohabitation of dinosaurs and humans

The Complete Poetry and Prose of William Blake William Blake, 2008-07-07 Poetry How to Kill a Dragon Calvert Watkins, 1995-11-16 In How to Kill a Dragon Calvert Watkins follows the continuum of poetic formulae in Indo European languages from Old Hittite to medieval Irish He uses the comparative method to reconstruct traditional poetic formulae of considerable complexity that stretch as far back as the original common language Thus Watkins reveals the antiquity and tenacity of the Indo European poetic tradition Watkins begins this study with an introduction to the field of comparative Indo European poetics he explores the Saussurian notions of synchrony and diachrony and locates the various Indo European traditions and ideologies of the spoken word Further his overview presents case studies on the forms of verbal art with selected texts drawn from Indic Iranian Greek Latin Hittite Armenian Celtic and Germanic languages In the remainder of the book Watkins examines in detail the structure of the dragon serpent slaying myths which recur in various guises throughout the Indo European poetic tradition He finds the signature formula for the myth the divine hero who slays the serpent or overcomes adversaries occurs in the same linguistic form in a wide range of sources and over millennia including Old and Middle Iranian holy books Greek epic Celtic and Germanic sagas down to Armenian oral folk epic of the last century Watkins argues that this formula is the vehicle for the central theme of a proto text and a central part of the symbolic culture of speakers of the Proto Indo European language the relation of humans to their universe the values and expectations of their society Therefore he further argues poetry was a social necessity for Indo European society where the poet could confer on patrons what they and their culture valued above all else imperishable fame
