Israel Alive Again Fredrick Carlson Holmgren, 1987 When the Jews returned to Israel from captivity in Babylon in the 6th and 5th centuries B C they faced many hardships Despite these struggles Ezra and Nehemiah believed that God was working with them to accomplish his purpose which was to restore a faithful community Israel Alive Again interprets the books of Ezra and Nehemiah in the context of the Hebrew Bible exploring the theological meanings of these often slighted books and emphasizing their relevance for the church today Like the other commentaries in the series Israel Alive Again is intended for the layperson student and pastor Its theological exposition makes it valuable to scholars as well The Ming Prince and

Daoism Richard G. Wang, 2012-08-23 Scholars of Daoism in the Ming dynasty 1368 1644 have paid particular attention to the interaction between the court and certain Daoist priests and to the political results of such interaction the focus has been on either emperors or Daoist masters Yet in the Ming era a special group of people patronized Daoism and Daoist establishments these were the members of the imperial clan who were enfeoffed as princes By illuminating the role the Ming princes played in local religion Richard G W Wang demonstrates in The Ming Prince and Daoism that the princedom served to mediate between official religious policy and the commoners interests Locally the Ming princes played an important cultural role as well by promoting the development of local religions This book is the first to explore the interaction between Ming princes as religious patrons and local Daoism Barred by imperial law from any serious political or military engagement the Ming princes were ex officio managers of state rituals at the local level with Daoist priests as key performers Moreover institutionally most regular ceremonies related to a prince s life were mandated to be conducted by Daoist musician dancers and as a result the princely courtly rites were characterized by a Daoist flavor For this reason the princes became very closely involved in Daoist clerical and liturgical life Making Religion, Making the State Yoshiko

Ashiwa, David L. Wank, 2009-03-24 Making Religion Making the State combines cutting edge perspectives on religion with rich empirical data to offer a challenging new argument about the politics of religion in modern China The volume goes beyond extant portrayals of the opposition of state and religion to emphasize their mutual constitution It examines how the modern category of religion is enacted and implemented in specific locales and contexts by a variety of actors from the late nineteenth century until the present With chapters written by experts on Buddhism Protestantism Catholicism Daoism Islam and more this volume will appeal across the social sciences and humanities to those interested in politics religion and modernity in China Christian Zionism Stephen Sizer, 2021-09-13 I am glad to commend Stephen Sizer s groundbreaking critique of Christian Zionism His comprehensive overview of its roots its theological basis and its political consequences is very timely I myself believe that Zionism both political and Christian is incompatible with biblical faith Stephen s book has helped to reinforce this conviction Rev Dr John Stott I believe Stephen Sizer is one of the most authoritative scholars in the world on the vital issue of Christian Zionism He is a very important voice speaking out against this destructive movement that is killing us Palestinians through its theology Canon Naim Ateek Stephen Sizer's Christian Zionism Road Map to Armageddon is essential reading for any Western evangelical trying to understand the religious dimensions of American support for Israel Sizer writes as an insider within the church not as a critic watching from afar And he shows with exacting clarity how evangelical eschatology has now embedded itself in a modern political ideology One quick read of this book will change anyone's perspective on the Middle East permanently Professor Gary M Burge Congratulations on Christian Zionism The index alone makes my mouth water since this is the scholarly treatment to counteract the rabid prophecy pack for which I had been searching I couldn't be happier that this is published You and I see eye to eye on this issue Yours is a true prophetic voice so badly needed in the current prophecy frenzy And when this mania also affects national and international policy the danger takes on larger proportions Professor Paul Maier Stephen Sizer's work on Christian Zionism is the most important and comprehensive on the subject to date and should be read by all students of the Middle East and by Christians concerned about a just resolution to the Palestinian Israeli conflict Christian Zionism raises vital theological and political challenges that must be addressed head on by Christians in the West particularly evangelicals The impact of this terribly misguided movement is increasingly putting Christians in the Middle East at risk and it seems a far cry from the witness and message of Jesus Christ Dr Donald Wagner This study of Christian Zionism based on Stephen Sizer's doctoral thesis is of seminal significance It provides a fascinating survey of the history of Christian Zionism and an in depth analysis of the theology of this highly important and influential movement Rabbi Professor Dan Cohn Sherbok Up the Steep and Stony Road Byron G. Davis, 2019 This book examines temple renovation as a rhetorical topic within royal literature of the ancient Near East Unlike newly founded temples which were celebrated for their novelty temple renovations were oriented toward the past Kings took the opportunity to rehearse a selective history of the temple evoking certain past traditions and omitting others In this way temple renovations were a kind of historiography Andrew R Davis demonstrates a pattern in the rhetoric of temple renovation texts that kings in ancient Mesopotamia Israel Syria and Persia used temple renovation to correct or at least distance themselves from some turmoil of recent history and to associate their reigns with an earlier and more illustrious past Davis draws on the royal literature of the seventh and sixth centuries BCE for main evidence of this rhetoric Furthermore he argues for reading the story of Jeroboam I's placement of calves at Dan and Bethel 1 Kgs 12:25-33 as an eighth century BCE account of temple renovation with a similar rhetoric Concluding with further examples in the Hellenistic and Roman periods Reconstructing the Temple demonstrates that the rhetoric of temple renovation was a distinct and longstanding topic in the ancient Near East

Buddhism after Mao Ji Zhe, Gareth Fisher, André Laliberté, 2020-02-29 With well over 100 million adherents Buddhism emerged from near annihilation during the Cultural Revolution to become the largest religion in China today Despite this Buddhism's rise has received relatively little scholarly attention The present volume with contributions by leading scholars in sociology anthropology political science and religious studies explores the evolution of Chinese Buddhism in the post Mao period with a depth not seen before in a single study Chapters critically analyze the effects of state policies on the evolution of Buddhist institutions the challenge of rebuilding temples under the watchful eye of the state efforts to rebuild monastic lineages and schools left broken in the aftermath of Mao's rule and the development of new lay Buddhist spaces both at temple sites and online Through its multidisciplinary perspectives the book provides both an extensive overview of the social and political conditions under which Buddhism has grown as well as discussions of the individual projects of both monastic and lay entrepreneurs who dynamically and creatively carve out spaces for Buddhist growth in contemporary Chinese society As a wide ranging study that illuminates many facets of China's Buddhist revival Buddhism after Mao will be required reading for scholars of Chinese Buddhism and of Buddhism and modernity more broadly Its detailed case studies examining the intersections among religion state and contemporary Chinese society will be welcomed by sociologists and anthropologists of China political scientists focusing on the role of religion in state formation in Asian societies and all those interested in the relationship between religion and social change

Negotiating Local Knowledge Johan Pottier, Alan Bicker, Paul Sillitoe, 2003-04-20 This is an original approach to debates about indigenous knowledge Concentrating on the political economy of knowledge construction and dissemination they look at the variety of ways in which development policies are received and constructed to reveal the ways in which local knowledge are appropriated and recast either by local elites or by development agencies Until now debates about indigenous knowledge have largely been conducted in terms of agricultural and environmental issues such as bio piracy and gene patenting This collection breaks new ground by opening up the theoretical debate to include areas such as post war traumatic stress counselling representations of nuclear capability architecture mining and the politics of eco tourism

Jewish Messianic Thoughts in an Age of Despair Kenneth Seeskin, 2012-02-06 Belief in the coming of a Messiah poses a genuine dilemma From a Jewish perspective the historical record is overwhelmingly against it If despite all the tragedies that have befallen the Jewish people no legitimate Messiah has come forward has the belief not been shown to be groundless Yet for all the problems associated with messianism the historical record also shows it is an idea with enormous staying power The prayer book mentions it on page after page The great Jewish philosophers all wrote about it Secular thinkers in the twentieth century returned to it and reformulated it And victims of the Holocaust invoked it in the last few minutes of their life This book examines the staying power of messianism and formulates it in a way that retains its redemptive force without succumbing to mythology

Ninety Biblical Story Lessons for Adults Jim Roche, 2024-03-13 How would new untrained Christians kindly and humbly introduce God to their non Christian friends What if neither the Christian nor the non Christian could learn from printed materials such as pamphlets books or the Bible itself What if the new Christian was usually alone and untrained in a community hostile to Christian beliefs How could these new Christians continue the process of reproducing spiritual generations without first being fully taught themselves The strategy offered here is to tell biblical stories that can be easily retold Stories that revealed God's acts and perspectives leading to questions and discussion Stories that caused new listeners to question their own beliefs You're holding a collection of ninety stories designed to be retold by anyone thirty Old Testament stories chronologically arranged from creation to the return from Israel's exile thirty Gospel stories from the announcement of Jesus birth to his ascension to heaven and thirty stories from the New Testament from Pentecost to Jesus return from heaven to earth Each lesson is built upon the principles from Roch's first book Biblical Storytelling Design Understanding Why Oral Stories Work but modeled and explained in this book
