Vocationalisation Of Basic Education Curriculum In Kenya:

Vocationalisation of Secondary Education Revisited Jon Lauglo, R. Maclean, 2006-03-30 The book is a cutting edge contribution to the debate which has occurred for some time on the pros and cons of secondary education becoming more closely and explicitly related to preparing young people for the world of work The book provides concrete examples of the vocationalisation of secondary education with particular reference to the situation in Africa The target audience for the book includes policy makers practitioners administrators education planners researchers teachers and teacher educators with a concern about the relationship between secondary education and education for the world of work with particular reference to technical and vocational education and training TVET The book appears in the Springer book series on Technical and Vocational Education and Training Issues Concerns and Prospects and compliments the International Handbook of Technical and Vocational Education and Training and other publications in the International Library of TVET all of which are publications of the UNESCO UNEVOC International Centre for TVET in Bonn Germany Resources in Education, 1998

Education, Skills and International Cooperation Kenneth King, 2019-10-15 This book highlights some of Kenneth King's diverse contributions to international and comparative education African studies and development studies over more than four decades From his pioneering work on the first educational commissions to Africa through his research on skills training in the informal sector and on to his critical analysis of education analysis in development agencies this book makes influential materials available in one place Appropriately it illustrates his career long connections with Kenya but also his more recent engagement with Japan China and India It is the first CERC volume to pay significant attention to the policies and politics of skills development Kenneth King is an Emeritus Professor of the University of Edinburgh He was based in and directed its Centre of African Studies for many years and lectured on international perspectives in education and training in its School of Education His research interests have addressed the politics and planning of skills development including in the informal sector of the economy aid policies towards education of both Western and Asian donors and higher education cooperation He founded NORRAG the network for international policies and cooperation in education and training in 1986 and edited NORRAG News until 2016 He was President of the British Association for International and Comparative Education BAICE from 2014 2016 and was one of the founding members of the UK Forum on International Education and Training UKFIET

Vocational Education and Training in Times of Economic Crisis Matthias Pilz, 2016-12-20 This book brings together a broad range of approaches and methodologies relevant to international comparative vocational education and training VET Revealing how youth in transition is affected by economic crises it provides essential insights into the strengths and weaknesses of the various systems and prospects of VET in contexts ranging from North America to Europe e.g. Spain Germany or the UK to Asia such as China Thailand and India Though each country examined in this volume is affected by the economic crisis in a different way the effects are especially apparent for the young generation In many countries the youth unemployment rate is still very high and the job perspectives for young people are often limited at best. The contributions in this volume demonstrate that VET alone cannot solve these problems but can be used to support a smooth transition from school to work. If the quality of VET is high and the status and job expectations are good, VET can help to fill the skills gap especially at the intermediate skill level. Furthermore, VET can also offer a realistic alternative to the university track for young people in many countries.

Maintaining Universal Primary Education Council for Education in the Commonwealth (Great Britain), 2009. Explores the various economic, political and social pressures which may affect the progress of educational provision as well as the different national educational policies and strategies themselves as they play out in five very different Commonwealth African countries: Ghana, Kenya, Nigeria, Tanzania and Zambia.

Effects of Engagement and Resources on Learning Outcomes in Vocational Colleges: Emerging Research and Opportunities Malechwanzi, Joseph Muthiani, 2019-08-30. A main staple of today's world that has played a key role in the development of society is education and institutions of higher learning. An ongoing concern, however, has been the lack of access and resources to superior teaching in developing areas of the world. Student engagement and learning environments are just a few elements that play into the success of colleges in areas like the Coast Region of Kenya. Research must be done in understanding the correlation between the tools that these institutions are equipped with and the educational results of their students.

Effects of Engagement and Resources on Learning Outcomes in Vocational Colleges: Emerging Research and Opportunities is an essential reference source that discusses the relationship between college resources and students' learning outcomes as well as contributing factors in promoting quality education and training. Featuring research on topics such as research philosophies, teaching workloads, and student engagement, this book is ideally designed for teachers, deans, researchers, education professionals, administrators, policymakers, government officials, and academicians seeking coverage on the methods of acquiring and maintaining quality education in developing countries.

Research Anthology on Vocational Education and Preparing Future Workers Management Association, Information Resources, 2022-04-08. Many students across the globe seek further education for future employment opportunities. Vocational schools offer direct training to develop the skills needed for employment. New emphasis has been placed on reskilling the workforce as technology has infiltrated all aspects of business. Teachers must be prepared to teach these new skill requirements to allow students to directly enter the workforce with the necessary competences intact. As the labor market and industry are changing, it is essential to stay current with the best teaching practices within vocational education courses to provide the future workforce with the proper tools and knowledge.

The Research Anthology on Vocational Education and Preparing Future Workers discusses the development opportunities and challenges of vocational education courses and how to best prepare students for future employment. It presents the best practices in curriculum development for vocational education courses and analyzes student outcomes. Covering topics such as industry-academia collaboration, student satisfaction, and competency, Education in Africa A. Babs Fafunwa, J. U. Aisiku, 2022-09-01 First published in 1982 Education in Africa offers a comprehensive treatment of the development of education in Africa Until now only scattered documents on educational growth in individual countries have been available works devoted to Africa as a whole have tended towards the general and have by and large been written by outside observers This book is a collection of illuminating syntheses of major trends in educational development in Africa by renowned African educationists and is the first attempt to supply the need for a comprehensive book on African education written from an African viewpoint All but one of the chapters were written specially for the book by leading African educators each of whom has had a distinguished career and wide experience in education in his or her own country they represent eleven nations in all The volume is designed for African students teachers and administrators and will also be welcomed by educational planners and by scholars working in the fields of comparative education and the history of education It will be of special interest to departments institutions and faculties of education in all the universities and colleges of education in Africa and to educators and students worldwide who are concerned with comparative African education      Educational Curricula Jennifer N. Casey, 2008 In formal education a curriculum plural curricula is the set of courses and their content offered at a school or university As an idea curriculum stems from the Latin word for race course referring to the course of deeds and experiences through which children grow and mature in becoming adults Crucial to the curriculum is the definition of the course objectives that usually are expressed as learning outcomes and normally include the program s assessment strategy These outcomes and assessments are grouped as units or modules and therefore the curriculum comprises a collection of such units each in turn comprising a specialised specific part of the curriculum So a typical curriculum includes communications numeracy information technology and social skills units with specific specialised teaching of each This book presents research on educational curricula from around the world      The Vocational School Fallacy Revisited Kenneth King, 2000      Educational Response, Inclusion and Empowerment for SDGs in Emerging Economies Mustafa Öztürk, 2022-08-22 This volume analyzes cases from emerging economies in relation to the global endeavor to promote the vision of sustainable development in all forms of education It aims to discuss the significance of hearing local voices and understanding local discourse regarding strategies for action for change and the role of educational systems as a means to communicate promote and educate for the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs In this book emerging economies are defined as newly industrialized countries that have not yet reached developed status but have in a macro economic sense outpaced their developing counterparts In this context the book highlights how education in emerging economies could extend conventional economic methods to sustainability issues or depart from money based calculations and business dominated values to promotion of real life considerations and ethical environmental and humanistic values With the help of this volume readers will have a chance to look at educational response inclusion and empowerment for SDGs in countries with emerging economies and to grasp the synthesis of Education for Sustainable Development Global Citizenship Education ESD GCE within the overall national educational systems This volume focuses on early childhood through upper secondary education      Rural Extension, Education and Training Abstracts ,1986      *The Department of Labor's ...
