Physical Sciences November 2014 Memo Grade 1:

New Destinations of Empire Emily Mitchell-Eaton, 2024-11-01 In 1986 the Compact of Free Association marked the formal end of U S colonialism in the Republic of the Marshall Islands while simultaneously re entrenching imperial power dynamics between the two countries The U S RMI Compact at once enshrined exclusive U S military access to the islands and established the right of visa free migration to the United States for Marshallese citizens leading to a Marshallese diaspora whose largest population resettled in the seemingly unlikely destination of Springdale Arkansas An all white town by design for much of the twentieth century Springdale having nearly quadrupled in population since 1980 has been remade by Marshallese as well as Latinx immigration Through ethnographic policy based and archival research in Gu han Saipan Hawai i Arkansas and Washington D C New Destinations of Empire tells the story of these place based transformations revealing how U S empire both causes and constrains mobility for its subjects shaping migrants experiences of racialization citizenship and belonging in new destinations of empire In examining two spatial processes imperialism and migration together Emily Mitchell Eaton reveals connections and flows between presumably distant remote sites like Arkansas and the Marshall Islands showing them to be central to the United States most urgent political issues immigration racial justice militarization and decolonization

How We Teach Science John L. Rudolph, 2019-06-01 A former Wisconsin high school science teacher makes the case that how and why we teach science matters especially now that its legitimacy is under attack Why teach science The answer to that question will determine how it is taught Yet despite the enduring belief in this country that science should be taught there has been no enduring consensus about how or why This is especially true when it comes to teaching scientific process Nearly all of the basic knowledge we have about the world is rock solid The science we teach in high schools in particular laws of motion the structure of the atom cell division DNA replication the universal speed limit of light is accepted as the way nature works Everyone also agrees that students and the public more generally should understand the methods used to gain this knowledge But what exactly is the scientific method Ever since the late 1800s scientists and science educators have grappled with that question Through the years they ve advanced an assortment of strategies ranging from the laboratory method to the five step method to science as inquiry to no method at all How We Teach Science reveals that each strategy was influenced by the intellectual cultural and political circumstances of the time In some eras learning about experimentation and scientific inquiry was seen to contribute to an individual s intellectual and moral improvement while in others it was viewed as a way to minimize public interference in institutional science John Rudolph shows that how we think about and teach science will either sustain or thwart future innovation and ultimately determine how science is perceived and received by the public

Numerical Approximations of Stochastic Differential Equations with Non-Globally Lipschitz Continuous Coefficients Martin Hutzenthaler, Arnulf Jentzen, 2015-06-26 Many stochastic differential equations SDEs in the literature have a superlinearly growing nonlinearity in their drift or diffusion coefficient Unfortunately moments of the computationally efficient Euler Maruyama approximation method diverge for these SDEs in finite time This article develops a general theory based on rare events for studying integrability properties such as moment bounds for discrete time stochastic processes Using this approach the authors establish moment bounds for fully and partially drift implicit Euler methods and for a class of new explicit approximation methods which require only a few more arithmetical operations than the Euler Maruyama method These moment bounds are then used to prove strong convergence of the proposed schemes Finally the authors illustrate their results for several SDEs from finance physics biology and chemistry

Knowledge Discovery in Big Data from Astronomy and Earth Observation Petr Skoda, Fathallah Adam, 2020-04-09 Knowledge Discovery in Big Data from Astronomy and Earth Observation Astrogeoinformatics bridges the gap between astronomy and geoscience in the context of applications techniques and key principles of big data Machine learning and parallel computing are increasingly becoming cross disciplinary as the phenomena of Big Data is becoming common place This book provides insight into the common workflows and data science tools used for big data in astronomy and geoscience After establishing similarity in data gathering pre processing and handling the data science aspects are illustrated in the context of both fields Software hardware and algorithms of big data are addressed Finally the book offers insight into the emerging science which combines data and expertise from both fields in studying the effect of cosmos on the earth and its inhabitants

Army and Navy Journal, 1946 Bayesian Inference of State Space Models Kostas Triantafyllopoulos, 2021-11-12 Bayesian Inference of State Space Models Kalman Filtering and Beyond offers a comprehensive introduction to Bayesian estimation and forecasting for state space models The celebrated Kalman filter with its numerous extensions takes centre stage in the book Univariate and multivariate models linear Gaussian non linear and non Gaussian models are discussed with applications to signal processing econometrics economics and systems engineering Over the past years there has been a growing literature on Bayesian inference of state space models focusing on multivariate models as well as on non linear and non Gaussian models The availability of time series data in many fields of science and industry on the one hand and the development of low cost computational capabilities on the other have resulted in a wealth of statistical methods aimed at parameter estimation and forecasting This book brings together many of these methods presenting an accessible and comprehensive introduction to state space models A number of data sets from different disciplines are used to illustrate the methods and show how they are applied in practice The R package BTSA created for the book includes many of the algorithms and examples presented The book is essentially self contained and includes a chapter summarising the prerequisites in undergraduate linear algebra probability and statistics An up to date and complete account of state space methods illustrated by real life data sets and R code this textbook will appeal to a wide range of students and scientists notably in the disciplines of statistics systems engineering signal processing data science finance and econometrics With numerous exercises in each chapter and prerequisite knowledge conveniently recalled it is suitable and the Market Barbara Bridgman Perkins, 2017-08-16 Appraising cancer as a major medical market in the 2010s Wall Street investors placed their bets on single technology treatment facilities costing 100 300 million each Critics inside medicine called the widely publicized proton center boom crazy medicine and unsustainable public policy There was no valid evidence they claimed that proton beams were more effective than less costly alternatives But developers expected insurance to cover their centers staggeringly high costs and debts Was speculation like this new to health care Cancer Radiation Therapy and the Market shows how the radiation therapy specialty in the United States later called radiation oncology coevolved with its device industry throughout the twentieth century Academic engineers and physicians acquired financing to develop increasingly powerful radiation devices initiated companies to manufacture the devices competitively and designed hospital and freestanding procedure units to utilize them In the process they incorporated market strategies into medical organization and practice Although palliative benefits and striking tumor reductions fueled hopes of curing cancer scientific research all too often found serious patient harm and disappointing beneficial impact on cancer survival This thoroughly documented and provocative inquiry concludes that public health policy needs to re evaluate market driven high tech medicine and build evidence based health care systems
