Routledge Handbook of National and Regional Ocean Policies Biliana Cicin-Sain, David Vanderzwaag, Miriam C. Balgos, 2015-05-15 This comprehensive handbook prepared by leading ocean policy academics and practitioners from around the world presents in depth analyses of the experiences of fifteen developed and developing nations and four key regions of the world that have taken concrete steps toward cross cutting and integrated national and regional ocean policy All chapters follow a common framework for policy analysis While most coastal nations of the world already have a variety of sectoral policies in place to manage different uses of the ocean such as shipping fishing oil and gas development in the last two decades the coastal nations covered in the book have undertaken concerted efforts to articulate and implement an integrated ecosystem based vision for the governance of ocean areas under their jurisdiction This includes goals and procedures to harmonize existing uses and laws to foster sustainable development of ocean areas to protect biodiversity and vulnerable resources and ecosystems and to coordinate the actions of the many government agencies that are typically involved in oceans affairs The book highlights the serious conflicts of use in most national ocean zones and the varying attempts by nations to follow the prescriptions emanating from the 1982 UN Law of the Sea Convention and the outcomes of the 1992 2002 and 2012 sustainable development summits The interrelationship among uses and processes in the coast and ocean requires that ocean governance be integrated precautionary and anticipatory Overall the book provides a definitive state of the art review and analysis of national and regional ocean policies around the world , A Liberal Actor in a Realist World Andreas Goldthau, Nick Sitter, 2015 Since 1992 the European Union has put liberalisation at the core of its energy policy agenda This aspiration was very much in line with an international political economy driven by the neo liberal Washington consensus The central challenge for the EU is that the energy world has changed while the EU has not The rise of Asian energy consumers China and India more assertive energy producers Russia and the threat of climate change have securitized the IPE of energy and turned it more realist The main research question is therefore What does a liberal actor do in a realist world The overall answer as far as the EU is concerned is that it approaches energy challenges as a problem of market failure imperfect competition on the supply side inadequate supply of public goods on the demand side and in terms of infrastructure and large externalities that arise both from non energy events and from large scale consumption of fossil fuels A Liberal Actor in a Realist World assesses the changing nature of the global political economy of energy and the European Union s response and the external dimension of the regulatory state The book concludes that the EU s soft power has a hard edge which is derived primarily from its regulatory power This works best when it targets companies rather than governments and it is more effective in the Near Abroad than at the global level This makes the EU emerge an actor in its own right in the global political economy of energy a Regulatory Power Europe

Food for All in Africa Gordon Conway, Ousmane Badiane, Katrin Glatzel, 2019-11-15 Africa requires a new agricultural transformation that is appropriate for Africa that recognizes the continent s diverse environments and climates and that takes into account its histories and cultures while benefiting rural smallholder farmers and their families In this boldly optimistic book Sir Gordon Conway Ousmane Badiane and Katrin Glatzel describe the key challenges faced by Africa s smallholder farmers and present the concepts and practices of Sustainable Intensification SI as opportunities to sustainably transform Africa s agriculture sector and the livelihoods of millions of smallholders The way forward they write will be an agriculture sector deeply rooted within SI producing more with less using fertilizers and pesticides more prudently adapting to climate change improving natural capital adopting new technologies and building resilience at every stage of the agriculture value chain Food for All in Africa envisions a virtuous circle generated through agricultural development rooted in SI that results in greater yields healthier diets improved livelihoods for farmers and sustainable economic opportunities for the rural poor that in turn generate further investment It describes the benefits of digital technologies for farmers and the challenges of transforming African agricultural policies and creating effective and inspiring leadership Food for All in Africa demonstrates why we should take on the challenge and provides ideas and methods through which it can be met Climate Change and Natural Disasters Vinod

Thomas,2017-01-31 The start of the new millennium will be remembered for deadly climate related disasters the great floods in Thailand in 2011 Super Storm Sandy in the United States in 2012 and Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines in 2013 to name a few In 2014 17 5 million people were displaced by climate related disasters ten times more than the 1 7 million displaced by geophysical hazards What is causing the increase in natural disasters and what effect does it have on the economy Climate Change and Natural Disasters sends three messages human made factors exert a growing influence on climate related disasters because of the link to anthropogenic factors there is a pressing need for climate mitigation and prevention including climate adaptation ought not to be viewed as a cost to economic growth but as an investment Ultimately attention to climate related disasters arguably the most tangible manifestation of global warming may help mobilize broader climate action It can also be instrumental in transitioning to a path of low carbon green growth improving disaster resilience improving natural resource use and caring for the urban environment Vinod Thomas proposes that economic growth will become sustainable only if governments political actors and local communities combine natural disaster prevention and controlling climate change into national growth strategies When considering all types of capital particularly human capital climate action can drive economic growth rather than hinder it Uppsc Up Combined State/Upper Subordinate Services
