Problems And Solutions Anatoly B Schmidt, 2024-08-08 This book covers multifaceted problems and their possible solutions in sustainable investing. Written by experts in the field from academia and industry, the book includes three main topics. The general problems of sustainable investing are addressed in Part 1. They include the discussion of the concept of double materiality, current ESG legal framework and its specifics for private equity, the reviews of the sustainable investment indexes and funds as well as the machine learning techniques for deriving and analysing the ESG ratings. Part 2 is devoted to the climate change. It covers net zero portfolios, being the means of reducing the investment carbon footprint, estimation of the Scope 3 greenhouse gas emissions, venture investments in carbon dioxide removal technologies and an optimization problem of fuel production in carbon trading. Finally, Part 3 describes several sustainable investing strategies based on including sustainability indices and factors into the portfolio choice framework. It also introduces new portfolio performance measures relevant for sustainable investing. Core Curriculum for Pain Management Nursing - E-Book

ASPMN, 2024-05-15 Prepare for the nurse's role in assessing and managing pain. Core Curriculum for Pain Management Nursing 4th Edition uses an easy-to-read outline format to cover the entire scope of pain management. Written by the American Society of Pain Management Nurses (ASPMN), the leading nursing organization in pain management, this review begins with foundational concepts and follows with guidelines and tools for effective pain assessment. Coverage of evidence-based pain management strategies and therapies is included for all patient types and ages. Updated to reflect current best practices in nursing, this book provides an excellent review for the ASPMN pain management certification exam and the RN-BC credentialing exam. Content written by ASPMN ensures that information includes the latest in education, research, standards, and practice as well as a thorough review for the ASPMN certification exam and the RN-BC credentialing exam. Both pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic methods of pain management are described. Comprehensive coverage includes adult, pediatric, and geriatric patients along with key subsets of patients such as those who have concomitant addiction, those who have cancer, and those who are under sedation for a procedure. Wide-ranging content includes disparities in pain management, the roles of the clinical nurse specialist as well as the nurse practitioner, theories of pain management, the use of research, gender differences in how men and women respond to pain and analgesia, and the effect of depression on pain.

Nature, Enlightenment, and University Reforms in the Iberian Peninsula: A Comparative Analysis of the Universities of Salamanca and Coimbra (1766-1820) Carlos Fernando Teixeira Alves, 2024 The university reforms that took place in Europe throughout the 18th century were an important moment of change in the history of these institutions In the Iberian Peninsula this wave of reforms left its mark in Coimbra and Salamanca later reaching the other Spanish universities Portugal and Spain were no strangers to the motivations and even to the general lines of this wave of reforms Inseparable from the ideas of the Enlightenment and with a clear will to combat the backwardness and decadence of these institutions rather ambitious projects emerged albeit in different degrees Coimbra faced a rather disruptive initial situation while in Salamanca later plans 1807 for example proved to be quite ambitious as well All having a mandatory nature it would not be correct to say that these Universities did not participate in these processes of reform Individually or on behalf of collective bodies several initiatives and proposals emerged during this period in both Universities In addition the participation of professors in the statutes and plans that were launched since 1771 is recurrent Beyond this aspect it will not be forced to state that the curricular aspect was the most significant mark of these reforms Thus we chose to study in a comparative way subjects that sought to explain the concept of nature and its products With the clear objective of preparing a body of technicians capable of providing a rational and effective exploitation of the various natural products the faculties of mathematics and philosophy emerged In the case of medicine natural products were essential to produce medicines and in this sense the reform of this knowledge brought among other changes matters linked to pharmaceutical studies In the area of law a relevant introduction was natural law The perception of natural law was not similar in both countries and an evident consequence was the greater instability of this chair in Salamanca Inseparable from the curricular aspects was the adoption of foreign compendia and the encouragement given to the teachers to write their own textbooks The adoption of textbooks was quite similar and clearly shows us the lines that reformers sought to follow to modernize these university institutions

Research Data Management Joyce M. Ray, 2013-11-15 It has become increasingly accepted that important digital data must be retained and shared in order to preserve and promote knowledge advance research in and across all disciplines of scholarly endeavor and maximize the return on investment of public funds To meet this challenge colleges and universities are adding data services to existing infrastructures by drawing on the expertise of information professionals who are already involved in the acquisition management and preservation of data in their daily jobs Data services include planning and implementing good data management practices thereby increasing researchers ability to compete for grant funding and ensuring that data collections with continuing value are preserved for reuse This volume provides a framework to guide information professionals in academic libraries presses and data centers through the process of managing research data from the planning stages through the life of a grant project and beyond It illustrates principles of good practice with use case examples and illuminates promising data service models through case studies of innovative successful projects and collaborations

Mesopotamian Sculpture in Colour Astrid Nunn, Heinrich Piening, 2020-12-31 We can now be sure that Mesopotamian sculpture of the human form was typically coloured Our project which set out to reconstruct the polychromy of Mesopotamian stone statues dating from the fourth to the first millennium BCE is a part of a slow shift to incorporate more visual evidence in research about colour and perception in the ancient world that has long been dominated by ethno linguistic studies Our scientifically grounded reconstructions serve as a prelude to a more comprehensive exploration of the materiality and aesthetics of Mesopotamian sculpture which open many windows onto historical cultural and symbolic issues In this study we trace the chronological development of the use of colours and consider why they changed over time The manner in which colours served as social markers of gender ethnicity and class for example are explored from the material culture and textual perspectives When used to describe hair skin and garments Sumerian and Akkadian words for colour denote more than just physical properties They also evoke qualities such as lightness or darkness dullness or glossiness and encode specific symbolic values that impinge on many aspects of society In all cultures the notion of skin colour is subject to social concepts prejudices and ideals and is thus a matter of convention Our discovery that the face and body in particular were so vibrantly coloured provides an entirely new and unexpected view of ancient Near Eastern effigies Through such luminous radiant and lucid colours we are now able to recognise the true faces of the statues and to visualise what was considered beautiful and acceptable to the gods

Tools and Techniques for Implementing International E-Trading Tactics for Competitive Advantage Meral, Yurdagül, 2019-09-20

The use of ICT applications has dipped into almost every aspect of the business sector including trade. With the volume of e-commerce increasing, international traders must switch their rules and practices to e-trade to survive in such a competitive market. However, the complexity of international trade, which covers customs, processes, different legislation, specific documentation requirements, different languages, different currencies, and different payment systems, and risk presents its own challenges in this transition. Tools and Techniques for Implementing International E-Trading Tactics for Competitive Advantage examines the multidisciplinary approach of international e-trade as it applies to information technology, digital marketing, digital communication, online reputation management, and different legislation and risks. The content within this publication examines digital advertising, consumer behavior, and e-commerce and is designed for international traders, entrepreneurs, business professionals, researchers, academicians, and students.

Why Context Matters in Educational Leadership Colin Evers, Gabriele Lakowski, 2022-02-20. Why Context Matters in Educational Leadership: A New Theoretical Understanding is unique in the field of educational leadership studies. This book offers a systematic account of educational leadership from the perspective that context matters. It argues that studies of leadership in education can only progress if the importance of context is understood and presents context as a set of constraints under which leadership is exercised. A theoretical book that offers at least three major challenges to dominant positions in the field, in a systematic way, it provides a new coherent and more realistic way to think about leadership in context. The chapters offer concrete steps for complex problem solving in schools and will help schools tailor solutions to local constraints and circumstances. Written by leading scholars Colin W. Evers and Gabriele Lakowski, this book will be essential reading for students and researchers working in the fields of education, educational administration, and leadership.
