WHO Technical Manual on Tobacco Tax Administration World Health Organization, 2010 Tobacco use is the single largest cause of preventable death globally killing more than five million people each year Tobacco use also creates considerable economic costs from greater spending on health care to treat the diseases it brings on in users and those exposed to tobacco smoke to the lost productivity resulting from the premature deaths it causes Of all the many interventions for reducing tobacco use a significant increase in tobacco product taxes and prices has been demonstrated to be the single most effective and cost effective intervention particularly among the poor and the young At the same time because of the inelasticity of demand for tobacco products in most countries and the low share of tax in price in many significant increases in tobacco taxes generate significant increases in the revenues generated by these taxes This technical manual aims to help governments achieve both objectives by identifying a set of best practices for tobacco taxation It documents governments existing approaches to tobacco taxation discusses barriers to using tobacco taxes to achieve health and revenue objectives and provides case studies of effective tobacco tax administration This manual is intended to be useful to tax administrators at the Ministry of Finance level by making them aware of the practices used and challenges faced by other countries It will also be useful to officials in a country's Ministry of Health or similar organizations by providing them with a more thorough understanding of key issues in tax structure and administration trafficking wildlife sports betting counterfeit medicines alcohol and tobacco Weaponising Evidence Margherita Melillo, 2024-02-01 Weaponising Evidence provides the first analysis of the history of the international law on tobacco control. By relying on a vast set of empirical sources it analyses the negotiation of the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control (FCTC) and the tobacco control disputes lodged before the WTO and international investment tribunals (Philip Morris v Uruguay and Australia Plain Packaging). The investigation focuses on two main threads: the instrumental use of international law in the warlike confrontation between the tobacco control advocates and the tobacco industry, and the use of evidence as a weapon in the conflict. The book unveils important lessons on the functioning of international organizations, the role of corporate actors and civil society organizations, and the importance and limits of science in law making and litigation.

Effectiveness of Tax and Price Policies for Tobacco Control IARC Working Group on the Effectiveness of Tax and Price Policies for Tobacco Control, International Agency for Research on Cancer, 2011. This new volume of the IARC Handbooks of Cancer Prevention in Tobacco Control presents a critical review and evaluation of the evidence by 25 international experts from twelve countries on the economics, epidemiology, public policy, and tobacco control aspects of tax and price policies. The working group draws conclusions about the effectiveness of tax and price measures to control tobacco use in the population. The Handbook covers an overview of tobacco taxation, industry pricing strategies, and other industry initiatives diluting the effects of taxes on consumption, tax price, and aggregated demand for tobacco, as well as demand at the individual level in adults, young people, and the economically disadvantaged. It also covers tax avoidance and tax evasion, and the economic and health impacts of tobacco taxation. This body of evidence and the consensus evaluation of 18 concluding statements on the impact of interventions to increase the price of tobacco products can assist policy makers, government officials, evaluators, and researchers working in tobacco control and disease prevention to base their decisions on the latest scientific evidence.

Public Health Reports, 2008 Dual Markets Ernesto U. Savona, Mark A.R. Kleiman, Francesco Calderoni, 2017-11-14. This comprehensive volume analyzes dual markets for regulated substances and services and aims to provide a framework for their effective regulation. A dual market refers to the existence of both a legal and an illegal market for a regulated product or service, for example, prescription drugs. These regulations exist in various countries for a mix of public health, historical, political, and cultural reasons. Allowing the legal market to thrive while trying to eliminate the illegal market provides a unique challenge for governments and law enforcement. Broken down into nine main sections, the book studies comparative international policies for regulating these dual markets from a historical, legal, and cultural perspective. It includes an analysis of the markets for psychoactive substances that are illegal in most countries, such as marijuana, cocaine, opioids, and amphetamines; psychoactive substances which are legal in most countries and where consumption is widespread, such as alcohol and tobacco; and services that are generally regulated or illegal, such as sports betting, the sex trade, and gambling. For each of these nine types of markets, contributions focus on the relationship between regulation, the emerging illegal market and the resulting overall access to these services This work aims to provide a comprehensive framework from a historical cultural and comparative international perspective It will be of interest to researchers in criminology and criminal justice particularly with an interest in organized crime as well as related fields such as sociology public policy international relations and public health

Smoke Screen Mr.Serhan Cevik,2016-08-26 This paper estimates the magnitude and speed of tax pass through across tobacco products at different price points in Pakistan by using a novel dataset of monthly observations on cigarette prices in 50 cities during the period 2004 2015 The pass through of cigarette taxes to retail prices is found to occur within two months but is mostly incomplete in magnitude On average a one rupee tax increase is estimated to lead to an increase of only PRs 0.8 in retail cigarette prices This is driven by the fact that tobacco manufacturers absorb a significant part of the tax increase For the premium brand however I observe full passthrough indicating possibilities of different demand elasticities across product tiers These findings are likely to be attributable to competitive market pressures especially at the budget end of the price spectrum possibly stemming from changing consumption patterns with greater awareness of health risks as well as the impact of illicit domestic production

The Tobacco Epidemic R. Loddenkemper,M.
