GERMANY VICTOR IN FIRST NAVAL FIGHT; LIBAU AFLAME

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—The first naval battle of the war was staged at Libau, Russia. The German cruiser Angeltung dashed toward the harbor, one of the fleet on the north coast of Russia, annihilated an unknown Russian cruiser on ground, and annihilated the extensive destruction of the water harbor. The Angeltung reported by wireless today that the city was in flames.

The Russian cruiser was of the second class and was on watch for the Angeltung, one of the speediest of the German navy.

The shelling of Libau is regarded as an important victory. The port is still under the control of Russia. Originally only a commercial harbor, Russia built a great seaport and a long sea wall, making the port one of the best along her coast. It was fortified by extensive mine works.

Loss of the vast stores of grain at Libau will be a serious blow to Russia.

There are a score or more of elevators at the port. The navy has also a small store of ammunition there. The Russian navy has been the harbor of Libau for refueling and anchoring.

The German navy office receives from the Angeltung's report that the fortifications were captured and the stores of ammunition and grain destroyed. The Angeltung did not report the fate of the Russian cruiser.

GERMAN AGGRESSION ON BELGIUM SPECIFIC CAUSE FOR ACTION

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Following a speech by Sir Edward Grey, which left little to the imagination and showed conclusively that ultimatum of the cabinet was the war with Germany, the house of commons received with 7 o'clock tonight. At that time it is expected Premier Asquith will make a statement outlining the entire course of action of the government. It is expected to be a declaration for placing the entire blame for the break in Germany.

He will present a bill asking for £100,000,000 for war purposes. The settlement of the commons is distinctly in favor of the bill. It will probably be passed unanimously.

Mr. Edward Grey in his speech said, under limited shewing:

"England must now consider this crisis from the viewpoint of British honor and obligation, as well as from her interest."

"If the German fleet bombards the French coast, we cannot stand aside and watch it. We have been given to understand that Germany is willing to agree that her fleet will not attack the northern coast of France, provided we will remain neutral."

"The King of Belgium has telegraphed a supreme appeal to England to safeguard his country's integrity. The king appeals to England, the queen's country, for aid, in the name of Belgium, her neutrality, and the safeguarding of her integrity."

Mr. Edward Grey explained that the final word for peace or war must come from parliament. Up to the present, he explained, England's promise to her allies of France and Russia have been of diplomatic support.

There has been given and failed, he said.

The foreign minister then announced, in accordance with the precautionary measures, the cabinet has ordered the mobilization of the army immediately.

This step naturally followed the calling for the naval

The Evolution of Global Paper Industry 1800–2050 Juha-Antti Lamberg, Jari Ojala, Mirva Peltoniemi, Timo Särkkä, 2012-12-22 This book presents an historical analysis of the global paper industry evolution from a comparative perspective. At the centre are 16 producing countries: Finland, Sweden, Norway, the USA, Germany, Canada, Japan, the UK, the Netherlands, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Chile, Brazil, Uruguay, and Russia. A comparative study of the paper industry evolution can achieve the following important research objectives: First, we can identify the country-specific historical features of paper industry evolution and compare them to the general business trends explicable by existing theoretical knowledge. Second, we can identify and isolate the factors causing both the rise and fall of industrial populations. Third, a shared research agenda can produce an intensive analysis of global industry dynamics. Finally, an extended research period of 250 years can identify what is truly unique in the paper industry evolution and the extent to which it took the same path as other important manufacturing industries. *Catalogue of the Public Documents of the ... Aziz, Michael D. Turner, 2024-08-30 This unique title offers highlights of milestone or Classic papers in American oral and maxillofacial surgery as well as an engaging biography of the authors who were pioneers of the specialty. Written by a range of current leaders in the field, this fascinating book evolved from an exploration by the volume editors of what they considered to be the landmark papers contributing to the evolution of oral and maxillofacial surgery in the United States. Beyond the landmark paper itself, the editors were interested in the paper's author as well as their legacy and contribution to the specialty. As a result, each chapter author not only provides an informative overview and assessment of the classic paper and its impact on today's oral and maxillofacial surgeon but also provides a captivating biography of the person behind the paper, offering a valuable synthesis that adds important context to each paper. Because The Great War/World War 1 was a landmark period in the evolution of maxillofacial surgery, the editors organized the text into three sections: pre Great War, Great War, and post Great War. A major contribution to the clinical literature, Classic Papers and Pioneers in Maxillofacial and Oral Surgery will serve many different purposes for readers: as a comprehensive reference in general, as a starting point for maxillofacial surgeons who wish to learn more about the foundations of what is performed currently, as a resource for students looking for inspiration, and for all readers interested in the history and development of surgery. Brookings Papers on Economic Activity: Spring 2008 Douglas W.
