The Reluctant Land:

The Reluctant Land Cole Harris, 2009-01-01 Winner 2008 K D Srivastava Prize for Excellence in Scholarly Publishing UBC Press The Reluctant Land describes the evolving pattern of settlement and the changing relationships of people and land in Canada from the end of the fifteenth century to the Confederation years of the late 1860s and early 1870s It shows how a deeply indigenous land was reconstituted in European terms and at the same time how European ways were recalibrated in this non European space It also shows how an archipelago of scattered settlement emerged out of an encounter with a parsimonious territory and suggests how deeply this encounter differed from an American relationship with abundance The book begins with a description of land and life in northern North America in 1500 and ends by considering the relationship between the pattern of early Canada and the country as we know it today Intended to illuminate the background of modern Canada The Reluctant Land is an intelligent discussion of people and place that will be welcomed by scholars and lay readers alike

Canada in the Frame Philip J. Hatfield, 2018-06-18 Canada in the Frame explores a photographic collection held at the British Library that offers a unique view of late nineteenth century and early twentieth century Canada The collection which contains in excess of 4 500 images taken between 1895 and 1923 covers a dynamic period in Canada's national history and provides a variety of views of its landscapes developing urban areas and peoples Colonial Copyright Law was the driver by which these photographs were acquired unmediated by curators but rather by the eye of the photographer who created the image they showcase a grass roots view of Canada during its early history as a Confederation Canada in the Frame describes this little known collection and includes over 100 images from it The author asks key questions about what it shows contemporary viewers of Canada and its photographic history and about the peculiar view these photographs offer of a former part of the British Empire in a post colonial age viewed from the old Heart of Empire Case studies are included on subjects such as urban centres railroads and migration which analyse the complex ways in which photographers approached their subjects in the context of the relationship between Canada the British Empire and photography

Making Muskoka Andrew Watson, 2022-10-15 Muskoka Now a magnet for nature tourists and wealthy cottagers the region underwent a profound transition at the turn of the twentieth century Making Muskoka traces the evolution of the region from 1870 to 1920 Over this period settler colonialism upended Anishinaabe and Haudenosaunee communities but the land was unsuited to farming and within the first generation of resettlement tourism became an integral feature of life Andrew Watson considers issues such as rural identity tensions between large and household scale logging operations and the dramatic effects of consumer culture and the global shift toward fossil fuels on settlers ability to control the tourism economy after 1900 Making Muskoka uncovers the lived experience of rural communities shaped by tourism at a time when sustainable opportunities for a sedentary life were few on the Canadian Shield and reveals the consequences for those living there year round

Homelands and Empires Jeffers Lennox, 2017-05-08 The period from 1690 to 1763 was a time of intense territorial competition during which Indigenous peoples remained a dominant force British Nova Scotia and French Acadia were imaginary places that administrators hoped to graft over the ancestral homelands of the Mi kmaq Wulstukwiuk Passamaquoddy and Abenaki peoples Homelands and Empires is the inaugural volume in the University of Toronto Press's Studies in Atlantic Canada History In this deeply researched and engagingly argued work Jeffers Lennox reconfigures our general understanding of how Indigenous peoples imperial forces and settlers competed for space in northeastern North America before the British conquest in 1763 Lennox's judicious investigation of official correspondence treaties newspapers and magazines diaries and maps reveals a locally developed system of accommodation that promoted peaceful interactions but enabled violent reprisals when agreements were broken This outstanding contribution to scholarship on early North America questions the nature and practice of imperial expansion in the face of Indigenous territorial strength Hearings United States. Committee on Banking and Currency,1957 Wild Life at the Land's End John Coulson Tregarthen,2022-08-16 In Wild Life at the Land's End John Coulson Tregarthen invites readers into the mesmerizing world of Cornwall's natural history With an engaging and descriptive prose style Tregarthen intricately weaves together observations of flora and fauna with the unique geological features of the landscape The book serves as both a scientific exploration and a poetic homage to the vibrant biodiversity found at the southern tip of England emphasizing the interconnectedness of life and environment Rich with vivid imagery and reflective insights Tregarthen captures the essence of this rugged yet beautiful location while situating it within the broader context of early 20th century British nature writing marked by a growing appreciation for wildlife conservation and environmental consciousness John Coulson Tregarthen a native of Cornwall developed a deep affinity for his homeland's landscape from an early age informing his appreciation for its wildlife His background as a poet and naturalist is evident in this work where he combines artistic expression with scientific observation Tregarthen's early experiences in the Cornish countryside coupled with his later studies influenced his perspective allowing him to blend journalism with literary craftsmanship Wild Life at the Land's End is a must read for anyone passionate about nature wildlife enthusiasts and those curious about the rich ecological tapestry of Cornwall Tregarthen's ability to convey the beauty and intricacies of this landscape will resonate with readers awakening a sense of wonder and prompting a deeper appreciation for the natural world The Yazoo Land Companies Charles Homer Haskins,1891 The Making of an African Working Class Pnina Werbner,2014-07-20 It is now 50 years since E P Thompson published his classic The Making of the English Working Class The Making of an African Working Class follows Thompson in exploring the formation of working class identity among low paid African workers In arguing for a radical public anthropology of worker identity the book seeks to analyse the cultural legal ideological and experiential dimensions of labour activism often neglected in other labour studies Pnina Werbner shows that by fusing cosmopolitan and local popular cultural forms of protest unionists have created a distinctive vernacular way of being a worker in Botswana one that does not deny workers roots at home or in the countryside while being cognisant of a wider world of cosmopolitan labour rights The assertion of working class dignity honour and respect Pnina argues is a powerful motivating force for manual workers Against legal sceptical approaches The Making of an African Working Class argues that in challenging the government their employer in court manual workers protests and mobilisation are deeply embedded in ethics social justice and the law The Reluctant Journey Richard Leslie Parrott, Refraction, 2014-10-21 Imagine the God of the universe whispering in your ear What shall we create out of your life that will serve My purpose The path of authenticity is not a solo endeavor but a calling to a partnership with God that requires utter honesty trust commitment and wisdom God guides your path with a two fold promise You know I love you as you are but together we can make of your life what I created you to be Following the petitions of our Lord s Prayer Dr Richard Parrott examines a family of authentic partners the family of Abraham and Sarah their son Isaac grandson Jacob and great grandson Joseph This fresh telling of the story reveals practical answers to the question How can my partnership with God be genuine mature and significant The Reluctant Journey is an honest and practical guide for relating to God As authentic Christians we can live true in Christ and our love for him each day choosing His best for us so that together we advance His kingdom on earth as it is in heaven Features include Truths from the Lord s Prayer Stories of the founders of our faith Thought provoking questions for spiritual conversation or reflection The Reunification of China Peter Lorge, 2015-11-26 A groundbreaking work examining the military and political events that shaped the Song dynasty 960 1279 in China Peter Lorge examines the centrality of warfare and politics in the struggle for internal and external power as well as the influence of individuals and their relationships in political processes Quitting the Nation Eric R. Schlereth, 2024-04-09 Perceptions of the United States as a nation of immigrants are so commonplace that its history as a nation of emigrants is forgotten However once the United States came into existence its citizens immediately asserted rights to emigrate for political allegiances elsewhere Quitting the Nation recovers this unfamiliar story by braiding the histories of citizenship and the North American borderlands to explain the evolution of emigrant rights between 1750 and 1870 Eric R Schlereth traces the legal and political origins of emigrant rights in contests to decide who possessed them and who did not At the same time it follows the thousands of people that exercised emigration right citizenship by leaving the United States for settlements elsewhere in North America Ultimately Schlereth shows that national allegiance was often no more powerful than the freedom to cast it aside The advent of emigrant rights had lasting implications for it suggested that people are free to move throughout the world and to decide for themselves the nation they belong to This claim remains urgent in the twenty first century as limitations on personal mobility persist inside the United States and at its borders The Earthy Paradise: September: The death of Paris; The land east of the sun and west of the moon. Land Diversification Third Edition examines traditional farming and diversification in the light of tax and planning procedures It explores the current trend to diversify away from pure food production and the turn toward alternative land use for the purpose of profitable enterprise It also covers forms of tax planning that are necessary to cope with the upheavals facing all those in farming communities This new edition shows you how to protect the high value of farms and landed estates through the process of diversification and how to handle the rollover of gain from the sale of a business into a farm or estate Every chapter of Tax Planning for Farm and Land Diversification has been updated to take in the numerous changes in agriculture since the previous edition This is a significant book for all those who want to gain a greater understanding of the implications of diversifying from traditional farming and the taxes involved in the process Farm tax advisers farm accountants land agents and agricultural colleges will find this a very useful handbook as will tax advisers accountants and solicitors who do not have agricultural experience but who wish to gain a general understanding of farming diversification tax planning and the big changes that are facing the agricultural world

LAW, CUSTOM AND PROPERTY RIGHTS AMONG THE MA/NYIMA OF THE NUBA MOUNTAINS IN THE SUDAN Hunud Abia Kadouf, 2014-11-18 This book is based on an extensive field work in which the author tried to study the customary law of property of an African agrarian tribal community of ma also known as Nyima of the Nuba Mountains in the northern Sudan The writer has tried to explain the nature of property holding in the light of the people's philosophy evidenced in their social structure and their traditional beliefs Special attention is paid to the traditional structure of political leadership in this highly segmented society that was prone not only to inter tribal wars but was also in a constant fission and fusion among themselves when not at war with other neighboring tribes In discussing jurisdictional issues and traditional settlement mechanisms based partly on law and custom both adopted by this egalitarian society the study is made currently relevant by keen observation on the effect of modernity on traditional ethics and morality of the ma society that was once described by some authors as being impervious to foreign influence Furthermore the reception and assimilation of the state law together with the Shari'ah laws in various areas such as that relating to property devolution family institution and burial rites is treated as being of great significance in the overall development of the tribal customary laws Like any other Nuba tribe the consciousness of the ma people of their ethos of identity marks their ferociously guarded customs and traditions prevalent up to date The book is not only a precious academic endeavor full of keen observations in depth study and analysis of tribal customary laws of property but is also a memoir for the author to commemorate formidable tribal group of the ma people in the Nuba Mountains of the Sudan
