Tree Of Codes Jonathan Safran Foer

Nigel Krauth

Tree Of Codes Jonathan Safran Foer:

Tree of Codes Jonathan Safran Foer, 2010 A masterful work of storytelling a unique sculptural object created through a collaborative process between Visual Editions and author A curiosity with the die cut technique was combined with the pages physical relationship to one another and how this could somehow be developed to work with a meaningful narrative This led to Jonathan deciding to use an existing piece of text and cut a new story out of it his favourite book The Street of Crocodiles by Bruno Schulz Writing cutting and proto typing has created a new story cut from the words of an old favourite The Near-Death of the Author John Potts, 2022-11-01 In the modern world of networked digital media authors must navigate many challenges Most pressing the illegal downloading and streaming of copyright material on the internet deprives authors of royalties and in some cases it has discouraged creativity or terminated careers Exploring technology's impact on the status and idea of authorship in today's world The Near Death of the Author reveals the many obstacles facing contemporary authors John Potts details how the online culture of remix and creative reuse operates in a post authorship mode with little regard for individual authorship The book explores how developments in algorithms and artificial intelligence AI have yielded novels newspaper articles musical works films and paintings without the need of human authors or artists It also examines how these AI achievements have provoked questions regarding the authorship of new works such as Does the author need to be human And more alarmingly Is there even a need for human authors Providing suggestions on how contemporary authors can endure in the world of data the book ultimately concludes that network culture has provoked the near death but not the death of the author The 360° Gaze Christian Stiegler, 2021-05-25 A comprehensive study of the pervasive role of immersion and immersive media in postmodern culture from a humanities and social sciences perspective Virtual reality augmented reality mixed reality and other modes of digitally induced immersion herald a major cultural and economic shift in society Most academic discussions of immersion and immersive media have focused on the technological aspects In The 360 Gaze Christian Stiegler takes a humanities and social science approach emphasizing the human implications of immersive media in postmodern culture Examining characteristics common to all immersive experiences he uncovers dominant metaphors such as the rabbit hole and prevailing ideologies He raises fundamental questions about opportunities and risks associated with immersion as well as the potential effects on individuals communities and societies Seven Modes of Uncertainty C. Namwali Serpell, 2014-04-30 Literature is uncertain Literature is good for us These two ideas are often taken for granted But what is the relationship between literature's capacity to perplex and its ethical value Seven Modes of Uncertainty contends that literary uncertainty is crucial to ethics because it pushes us beyond the limits of our experience

The Rhetoric of the Page Laurie E. Maguire, 2020 A readable account of the book as an object a history of the page as well as a history of the book Drawing an arc from the medieval scriptorium to googlebooks this volume shows the creative and playful opportunities blank spaces on the page afforded readers and writers Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11 Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts. These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading. As a result, students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s, much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions. The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James's The Ambassadors to McCarthy's The Road. These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory. Instead, they distill the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background, the themes, the formal strategies, and the reception of influential literary texts, and they do so in a jargon-free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification.

9/11: Culture, Catastrophe and the Critique of Singularity Diana Gonçalves, 2016-10-24 Even though much has been said and written about 9/11, the work developed on this subject has mostly explored it as an unparalleled event, a turning point in history. This book wishes to look instead at how disruptive events promote a network of associations and how people resort to comparison as a means to make sense of the unknown, i.e. to comprehend what seems incomprehensible. In order to effectively discuss the complexity of 9/11, this book articulates different fields of knowledge and perspectives such as visual culture, media studies, performance studies, critical theory, memory studies, and literary studies to shed some light on 9/11 and analyze how the event has impacted on American social and cultural fabric and how the American society has come to terms with such a devastating event. A more in-depth study of Don DeLillo's Falling Man and Jonathan Safran Foer's Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close draws attention to the cultural construction of catastrophe and the plethora of cultural products 9/11 has inspired. It demonstrates how the event has been integrated into American culture and exemplifies what makes up the 9/11 imaginary.

The Cambridge Companion to Literature in a Digital Age Adam Hammond, 2024-05-31 This book explores the way that digital forms and methods are reconfiguring the foundational concepts of literary studies.

Succeeding Postmodernism Mary K. Holland, 2013-04-25 While critics collect around the question of what comes after postmodernism, this book asks something different about recent American fiction: what if we are seeing not the end of postmodernism but its belated success? Succeeding Postmodernism examines how novels by DeLillo, Wallace, Danielewski, Foer, and others conceptualize threats to individuals and communities posed by a poststructural culture of mediation and simulation and possible ways of resisting the disaffected solipsism bred by that culture. Ultimately, it finds that twenty-first-century American fiction sets aside the postmodern problem of how language does or does not mean in order to raise the reassuringly retro question of what it can and does mean. It finds that novels today offer language as a solution to the problem of language. Thus, it suggests a new way of reading antihumanist late postmodern fiction and a framework for understanding postmodern and twenty-first-century fiction as participating in a long and newly enlivened tradition of humanism and realism in literature Writing Cultures and Literary Media Anna Kiernan, 2021-07-20 This Pivot investigates the impact of the digital on literary culture through the analysis of selected marketing narratives social media stories and reading communities Drawing on the work of contemporary writers from Bernardine Evaristo to Patricia Lockwood each chapter addresses a specific tension arising from the overarching question How has writing culture changed in this digital age By examining shifting modes of literary production this book considers how discourses of writing and publishing and hierarchies of cultural capital circulate in a socially motivated post digital environment Writing Cultures and Literary Media combines compelling accounts of book trends reader reception and interviews with writers and publishers to reveal fresh insights for students practitioners and scholars of writing publishing and communications Bookishness Jessica Pressman, 2020-12-01 Twenty first century culture is obsessed with books In a time when many voices have joined to predict the death of print books continue to resurface in new and unexpected ways From the proliferation of shelfies to Jane Austen themed leggings and from decorative pillows printed with beloved book covers to bookwork sculptures exhibited in prestigious collections books are everywhere and are not just for reading Writers have caught up with this trend many contemporary novels depict books as central characters or fetishize paper and print thematically and formally In Bookishness Jessica Pressman examines the new status of the book as object and symbol She explores the rise of bookishness as an identity and an aesthetic strategy that proliferates from store window display to experimental writing Ranging from literature to kitsch objects stop motion animation films to book design Pressman considers the multivalent meanings of books in contemporary culture Books can represent shelter from or a weapon against the dangers of the digital they can act as memorials and express a sense of loss Examining the works of writers such as Jonathan Safran Foer Jennifer Egan Mark Z Danielewski and Leanne Shapton Pressman illuminates the status of the book as a fetish object and its significance for understanding contemporary fakery Bringing together media studies book history and literary criticism Bookishness explains how books still give meaning to our lives in a digital age The Routledge Companion to Experimental Literature Joe Bray, Alison Gibbons, Brian McHale, 2012-07-26 What is experimental literature How has experimentation affected the course of literary history and how is it shaping literary expression today Literary experiment has always been diverse and challenging but never more so than in our age of digital media and social networking when the very category of the literary is coming under intense pressure How will literature reconfigure itself in the future The Routledge Companion to Experimental Literature maps this expansive and multifaceted field with essays on the history of literary experiment from the beginning of the twentieth century to the present the impact of new media on literature including multimodal literature digital fiction and code poetry the development of experimental genres from graphic narratives and found poetry through to gaming and interactive fiction experimental movements from Futurism and Surrealism to Postmodernism Avant Pop and Flarf Shedding new light on often critically neglected terrain the contributors introduce this vibrant area define its current state and offer exciting new perspectives on its future This volume is the ideal introduction for those approaching the study of experimental literature for the first time or looking to further their knowledge

Translation and Repetition Ma Carmen África Vidal Claramonte, 2023-07-13 Translation and Repetition Rewriting Un original Literature offers a new and original perspective in translation studies by considering creative repetition from the perspective of the translator This is done by analyzing so called unoriginal literature and thus expanding the definition of translation In Western thought repetition has long been regarded as something negative as a kind of cliché stereotype or automatism that is the opposite of creation On the other hand in the eyes of many contemporary philosophers from Wittgenstein and Derrida to Deleuze and Guattari repetition is more about difference It involves rewriting stories initially told in other contexts so that they acquire a different perspective In this sense repeating is often a political act Repetition is a creative impulse for the making of what is new Repetition as iteration is understood in this book as an action that recognizes the creative and critical potential of copying The author analyzes how our time understands originality and authorship differently from past eras and how the new philosophical ways of approaching repetition imply a new way of understanding the concept of originality and authorship Deconstruction of these notions also implies subverting the traditional ways of approaching translation This is vital reading for all courses on literary translation comparative literature and literature in translation within translation studies and literature

Oxford IB Diploma Programme: English A: Language and Literature Course Companion Brian Chanen, Rob Allison, 2020-02-27 Developed in cooperation with the IB this student friendly concept based Course Book has been comprehensively updated to support all aspects of the new English A Language and Literature syllabus for first teaching in September 2019

Fictionality and Multimodal Narratives Torsa Ghosal, Alison Gibbons, 2023-08 Fictionality and Multimodal Narratives interrogates the relationship of fictionality and the multimodal use of fact in modern narrative construction

The Experimental Book Object Sami Sjöberg, Mikko Keskinen, Arja Karhumaa, 2023-11-30 The Experimental Book Object shows why and how books matter in the 21st century Digital and audio platforms are commonplace and other fields of art beyond literature have increasingly embraced books and publication as their medium of choice Nevertheless the manifold book object persists and continues to inspire various types of experimentation This volume sets forth an unprecedented approach where literary and media theory are entangled with design practitioners artistic research and process descriptions By probing the paradigm of the codex this collection of essays focuses on historical and contemporary experimentation that has challenged what books are and could be from the perspectives of materiality mediation and visual and typographic design Investigations into less studied areas and cases of performativity demonstrate what experimental books do by interacting with their systemic and cultural environments The volume offers a multifaceted and multidisciplinary view of the book object the book design and publishing processes and their significance in the digital age

Meaningful Absence Across Arts and Media, 2019-03-27 This volume focusses on a rarely discussed method of meaning production namely via the absence rather than presence of signifiers It does so from an interdisciplinary transmedial perspective which covers systematic media comparative and historical aspects and reveals various forms and functions of missing signifiers across arts and media The meaningful silences blanks lacunae pauses etc treated by the ten contributors are taken from language and literature film comics opera and instrumental music architecture and the visual arts Contributors are Nassim Balestrini Walter Bernhart Olga Fischer Saskia Jaszoltowski Henry Keazor Peter Revers Klaus Rieser Daniel Stein Anselm Wagner Werner Wolf Scripting Reading Motions Manuel

Portela,2013-09-13 In this work Manuel Portela explores the expressive use of book forms and programmable media in experimental works of both print and electronic literature and finds a self conscious play with the dynamics of reading and writing Creative Writing and the Radical Nigel Krauth,2016-07-18 The rise of digital publishing and the ebook has opened up an array of possibilities for the writer working with innovation in mind Creative Writing and the Radical uses an examination of how experimental writers in the past have explored the possibilities of multimodal writing to theorise the nature of writing fiction in the future It is clear that experimental writers rehearsed for technological advances long before they were invented Through an in depth study of writers and their motivations challenges and solutions the author explores the shifts creative writing teachers and students will need to make in order to adapt to a new era of fiction writing and reading

Figures of Radical Absence Alexandra-Ecaterina Irimia,2023-10-04 What is there to see in invisible artworks empty books or blank screens How do formal absences generate meaning Constructing an argument by way of montage this book is an annotated inventory of textual visual and conceptual figures of absence Spanning different media it reveals a creative tradition that uses absence not as a negative aesthetic category but as a productive state of radical indeterminacy with its own politics and poetics Although post structuralism highlighted the importance of what is offstage lost forgotten hidden or discarded silent or silenced the poetics and politics of absence much like its ethics and aesthetics have rarely been discussed across media and disciplines This book proposes the concept of radical absence to describe a certain tradition of resistance to ontology predication and representation contesting their reliance on a metaphysics of presence Apophatic speech empty signifiers and figural voids are some of the figures through which radical absence becomes apparent with unprecedented intensity in twentieth century theory literature film and the arts Phantasmatic and outrageous such figures play with creative strategies of dematerialization irony and other forms of discursive undoing Therefore absence becomes more than a simple theme it reflects back on the medium and the meaning making conditions under which it operates Elusive and imprecise as an object of study absence requires more subtle and flexible epistemological frameworks than have been available to date This monograph proposes we think of it not only as a counter concept for presence but also and perhaps more productively as infinite spacing deferral fragmentation and displacement
