C. Squire, 2013-11-26 This book explores the possibilities and difficulties of living with HIV and ARVs or antiretroviral treatment today It draws on HIV positive people s stories from both the UK and the South African epidemics and offers a deep understanding of the continuing difficulties of living with HIV and the effective strategies for coping that have evolved

The Thika Highway Improvement Project Renard Teipelke, 2013-12-04 Theory and practice of high capacity infrastructure projects are the major focus in the development of countries in the Global South Aiming at a more fine grained understanding of such projects Renard Teipelke studies the Thika Highway Improvement Project THIP and its outcomes in the peri urban Northern Nairobi Metropolitan Region The THIP is a large transportation infrastructure project that expanded the dual carriageway Thika Road into an eight lane highway from 2008 until 2012 Based on a strategic mix of methodological approaches such as interviews with experts in Kenya literature research and field visits the black box THIP is opened up In the empirical analysis the project s idea its design and its implementation are studied It is concluded that the project s outcomes are ambivalent partly living up to the expectations of THIP proponents but not resulting in shared benefits for all concerned stakeholders due to flaws in managing the development in this peri urban transport corridor area thereby fitting into the Kenyan context of politics and planning

Sea Level Variability and Change Ivan D. Haigh, Marta Marcos, Sönke Dangendorf, Francisco Calafat, 2017-04-27 In June 2015 we held a workshop on the beautiful island of Mallorca Spain with a focus on sea level variability and change Over 120 sea level experts from around the world attended this workshop from a range of different disciplines The main aims of the workshop were to 1 Evaluate the current state of knowledge of sea level science 2 Identify gaps and unresolved questions in any aspect of sea level science and 3 Design future research to address these issue All aspects of sea level changes were covered from global to regional observations and modelling processes driving mean sea level changes and extremes from the geological scale to the instrumental era and future projections and including impacts on the coastal zones This E Book presents papers that came out of that workshop Overall these papers illustrate the multi disciplinary nature of sea level research cross cutting many fields of research including oceanography meteorology geology coastal morphodynamics engineering and the social economic aspects Collectively theses articles represent an interesting range of perspectives and original studies that contribute to understanding the dynamic nature of sea level and its impacts across a wide range of time and space scales Enjoy reading them Whales and Elephants in International Conservation Law and Politics Ed Couzens,2013-11-07 Whales and elephants are iconic giants of the marine and terrestrial animal world Both are conspicuous representatives of wildlife conservation The issues of whaling and the ivory trade are closely linked both legally and politically in many ways some obvious and some surprising The treatment of both whales and elephants will be politically and legally contentious for years to come and is of great significance to conservation in general This book examines the current state of international environmental law and wildlife conservation through a comparative analysis of the treatment of whales and elephants In particular it describes the separate histories of international governance of both whales and elephants presenting the various treaties through which conservation has been implemented It is shown that international environmental law is influenced and shaped by important political actors many with opposing views on how best conservation and sustainable development principles are to be implemented Modern environmental treaties are changing as weaknesses and loopholes are exposed in older and possibly outdated treaties such as the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora CITES and the International Convention for the Regulation of Whaling ICRW Such weaknesses can be seen in the efforts made by some states to circumvent or weaken CITES and the International Whaling Commission and to resume commercial whaling and further in the efforts of countries to resume trade in ivory The argument is made that the Convention on Biological Diversity could be used to begin reconciling opposed views and to focus conservation efforts The argument is made that effective conservation of species cannot be achieved through individual treaties but only through a synergistic approach involving multilateral environmental agreements ecosystems of legal instruments Handbook on Agriculture, Biotechnology and

Development Stuart J. Smyth,Peter W.B. Phillips,David Castle,2014-03-28 This book is a compendium of knowledge experience and insight on agriculture biotechnology and development Beginning with an account of GM crop adoptions and attitudes towards them the book assesses numerous crucial processes concluding with detail Science Education: A Global Perspective Ben Akpan,2016-08-03 Science Education A Global Perspective is global both in content and authorship Its 17 chapters by an assemblage of seasoned and knowledgeable science educators from many parts of the world seek to bring to the fore current developments in science education and their implications The book thus covers a wide range of topics in science education from various national and international perspectives These include the nature of science science and religion evolution curriculum and pedagogy context based teaching and learning science and national development socially responsible science education equitable access for women and girls in science and technology education and the benefits of science education research It ends on an optimistic note by looking at science education in 50 years time with a recommendation among others for stakeholders to take the responsibility of preparing children towards a blossoming science education sector in an anticipated future world This book is suitable for use by discerning researchers teachers undergraduate and postgraduate students in science education and policy makers at all levels of education Other educationalists and personnel in science and technology vocations will also find it interesting and useful as the reader motivated approach has guided the presentation of ideas Science Education A Global Perspective is a rich compendium of the components of science education in context practice and delivery Dr Bulent Cavas Professor of Science Education Dokuz Eylul University Buca Izmir Turkey President Elect International Council of Associations for Science Education ICASE This book will be of immense relevance for current and future global strides in training and research in science education Surinder K Ghai Chairman Sterling Publishers Pvt Ltd New Delhi India This book provides a refreshing insight into the current status and future direction of science education It will be very useful to researchers those pursuing undergraduate and post graduate courses in science education and all other personnel involved in the policy and practice of science education Dr Bennoit Sossou Director Country Representative UNESCO Regional Office in Abuja Nigeria Africa in the Age of Globalisation Assoc Prof Edward Shizha, Assoc Prof Lamine Diallo, 2015-04-28 This is a collection of bold and visionary scholarship that reveals an insightful exposition of re visioning African development from African perspectives It provides an interdisciplinary conceptual base that can effectively guide the planning and implementing of programs for socio economic development in Africa The book provides up to date scholarly research on continental trends on various subjects and concerns of paramount importance to globalisation and development in Africa politics democracy education gender technology global relationships and the role of non governmental organisations Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility Un-Habitat, 2013-10-30 Urban transport systems worldwide are faced by a multitude of challenges Among the most visible of these are the traffic gridlocks experienced on city roads and highways all over the world The prescribed solution to transport problems in most cities has thus been to build more infrastructures for cars with a limited number of cities improving public transport systems in a sustainable manner However a number of challenges faced by urban transport systems such as greenhouse gas emissions noise and air pollution and road traffic accidents do not necessarily get solved by the construction of new infrastructure Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility argues that the development of sustainable urban transport systems requires a conceptual leap The purpose of transportation and mobility is to gain access to destinations activities services and goods Thus access is the ultimate objective of transportation As a result urban planning and design should focus on how to bring people and places together by creating cities that focus on accessibility rather than simply increasing the length of urban transport infrastructure or increasing the movement of people or goods Urban form and the functionality of the city are therefore a major focus of this report which highlights the importance of integrated land use and transport planning This new report of the United Nations Human Settlements Programme UN Habitat the world's leading authority on urban issues provides some thought provoking insights and policy recommendations on how to plan and design sustainable urban mobility systems The Global Report on Human Settlements is the most authoritative and up to date global assessment of human settlements conditions and trends Preceding issues of the report have addressed such topics as Cities in a Globalizing World The Challenge of Slums Financing Urban Shelter Enhancing Urban Safety and Security Planning Sustainable Cities and Cities and Climate Change Acta Theriologica ,2014 Water and Soil in Holy Matrimony? Munyaradzi Mabeza, Christopher,2017-02-10 This book is a biography based on a qualitative ethnographic study of adaptation to climate by Mr Zephaniah Phiri Maseko an award winning smallholder farmer from Zvishavane rural Zimbabwe Ethnographic data provides insight and lessons of Mr Phiri Maseko and other farmers practices for rethinking existing strategies for adaptation to climate change The concept of adaptation is probed in relationship to the closely related concepts of vulnerability resilience and innovation This study also explores the concept of conviviality and argues that Mr Phiri Maseko's adaptation to climate hinges on mediating barriers between local and exogenous knowledge systems The book argues that Mr Phiri Maseko offered tangible adaptive climate strategies through his innovations that marry water and soil so that it won't elope and run off but raise a family on his plot His agricultural practices are anchored on the Shona concept of hurudza an exceptionally productive farmer This book explores the concept and practices of uhurudza to suggest that the latter day hurudza commercial farmer as embodied by Mr Phiri Maseko offers an important set of resources for the development of climate adaptation strategies in the region This study of smallholder farmers adoption of innovations to climate highlights the complex interplay of multiple factors that act as barriers to uptake Such interplay of multiple stressors increases the vulnerability of smallholders The study concludes by arguing that in as much as the skewed colonial land policy impoverished the smallholder farmers Mr Phiri Maseko nonetheless redefined himself as a latter day hurudza and thus breaks free from the poverty cycle by conjuring ingenious ways of reducing vulnerability to climate The book does not suggest that Mr Phiri Maseko's innovations offer a silver bullet solution to the insecure rural livelihoods of smallholder farmers nevertheless they are a source of hope in an environment of uncertainty His steely tenacity in the face of a multi stressor environment is to be treasured The New Natural History of Madagascar Steven M. Goodman,2022-11-15 A marvelously illustrated reference to the natural wonders of one of the most spectacular places on earth Separated from Africa's mainland for tens of millions of years Madagascar has evolved a breathtaking wealth of biodiversity becoming home to thousands of species found nowhere else on the planet The New Natural History of Madagascar provides the most comprehensive up to date synthesis available of this island nation's priceless biological treasures Now fully revised and expanded this beautifully illustrated compendium features contributions by more than 600 globally renowned experts who cover the history of scientific exploration in Madagascar as well as the island's geology and soils climate forest ecology

It is now more than a decade since the Right to Food Guidelines were negotiated agreed and adopted internationally by states This book provides a review of its objectives and the extent of success of its implementation The focus is on the first key guideline Democracy good governance human rights and the rule of law with an emphasis on civil society participation in global food governance The five BRICS countries Brazil Russia India China and South Africa are presented as case studies representing major emerging economies they blur the line between the Global North and South and exhibit different levels of human rights realisation The book first provides an overview of the right to adequate food accountability and democracy and an introduction to the history of the development of the right to adequate food and the Right to Food Guidelines It presents a historical synopsis of each of the BRICS states experiences with the right to adequate food and an analysis of their related periodic reporting to the Committee on Economic Social and Cultural Rights as well as a specific assessment of their progress in regard to the first guideline The discussion then focuses on the effectiveness of the Right to Food Guidelines as both a policy making and monitoring tool based on the analysis of the guidelines and the BRICS states Ebook: Life-Span Development Santrock,2016-09-16 Ebook Life Span Development

Towards Democratic Development States in Southern Africa Kanyenze, Godfrey,Jauch, Herbert,2016-12-14 The dawn of the twenty first century heralded an apparent change of fortunes for most sub Saharan African economies with annual growth averaging over 5% for fifteen years However this was not accompanied by structural transformation poverty food insecurity unemployment and inequality persist Structural transformation has not been and indeed cannot be delivered by market forces and neoliberal economic policies it requires a state committed to development and to achieving it in a democratic way To what extent do the countries of Southern Africa exhibit the characteristics of such a developmental state What steps if any do they need to take in order to become one The book answers the questions with respect to South Africa Botswana Namibia Zimbabwe Angola and Malawi Godfrey Kanyenze and his colleagues have assembled a distinguished team of writers to take the temperature of the regional political economy and chart a path for its future development Engaging Youth in Leadership for Social and Political Change Michael P. Evans,Kathleen Knight Abowitz,2015-12-21 Youth leadership initiatives can help young people engage in democratic life participatory governance and social and political change Leadership education oriented towards political and social change must continue to evolve in response to the lived experience of youth This volume explores those new meanings through examining the theories and practices constituting the emerging ground of public leadership including research spanning secondary and higher education programs local and international contexts school based and out of school time initiatives and a broad diversity of youth The Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Student Leadership explores leadership concepts and pedagogical topics of interest to high school and college leadership educators Issues are grounded in scholarship and feature practical applications and best practices in youth and adult leadership education

The State of Food Insecurity in Lusaka, Zambia Mulenga, Chileshe, 2016-10-17 The Lusaka urban food security survey done by AFSUN as part of its baseline survey of 11 Southern African cities found that up to 93% of the households in the informal settlements which house three quarters of the Zambian capital's population were food insecure A paltry 8% were food secure Worse still most of the households in the informal urban settlements of Lusaka did not only have poor access to food they also consumed foods from a very narrow range of food groups Their diets were dominated by cereals and therefore likely to be deficient in essential vitamins minerals and proteins The AFSUN survey shows clearly that urban households obtain their food mainly through the market and therefore stable macro economic conditions are essential to their food security Since urban household food security is positively associated with levels of income promotion of decent employment is critical Among the urgent measures AFSUN recommends to address Lusaka's food insecurity are the promotion by government of decent employment including labour intensive public works programmes that would stimulate formal employment and supplementary feeding programmes in clinics and schools

State of the World's Cities 2012/2013 UN Habitat, 2013-10-23 The city is the home of prosperity It is the place where human beings find satisfaction of basic needs and access to essential public goods The city is also where ambitions aspirations and other material and immaterial aspects of life are realized providing contentment and happiness It is a locus at which the prospects of prosperity and individual and collective well being can be increased However when prosperity is restricted to some groups when it is used to pursue specific interests or when it is a justification for financial gains for the few to the detriment of the majority the city becomes the arena where the right to shared prosperity is claimed and fought for As people in the latter part of 2011 gathered in Cairo's Tahrir Square in Madrid's Puerta del Sol in front of London's St Paul's cathedral or in New York's Zuccotti Park they were not only demanding more equality and inclusion they were also expressing the need for prosperity to be shared across all segments of society What this new edition of State of the World's Cities shows is that prosperity for all has been compromised by a narrow focus on economic growth UN Habitat suggests a fresh approach to prosperity beyond the solely economic emphasis including other vital dimensions such as quality of life adequate infrastructures equity and environmental sustainability The Report proposes a new tool the City

Prosperity Index together with a conceptual matrix the Wheel of Prosperity both of which are meant to assist decision makers to design clear policy interventions The Report advocates for the need of cities to enhance the public realm expand public goods and consolidate rights to the commons for all as a way to expand prosperity This comes in response to the observed trend of enclosing or restricting these goods and commons in enclaves of prosperity or depleting them through unsustainable use The Report maps out major policy steps to promote a new type of city the city of the twenty first century that is a good people centred city One that is capable of integrating the tangible and more intangible aspects of prosperity and in the process shedding off the inefficient unsustainable forms and functionalities of the city of the previous century By doing this UN Habitat plays a pivotal role in ensuring that urban planning legal regulatory and institutional frameworks become instruments of prosperity and well being

Africa's Urban Revolution Doctor Edgar Pieterse, Susan Parnell, 2014-01-09 The facts of Africa's rapid urbanisation are startling By 2030 African cities will have grown by more than 350 million people and over half the continent's population will be urban Yet in the minds of policy makers scholars and much of the general public Africa remains a quintessentially rural place This lack of awareness and robust analysis means it is difficult to make a policy case for a more overtly urban agenda As a result there is across the continent insufficient urgency directed to responding to the challenges and opportunities associated with the world's last major wave of urbanisation Drawing on the expertise of scholars and practitioners associated with the African Centre for Cities and utilising a diverse array of case studies Africa's Urban Revolution provides a comprehensive insight into the key issues demographic cultural political technical environmental and economic surrounding African urbanisation

The Contested Idea of South Africa Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Busani Ngcaweni, 2021-11-29 This book reflects on the complex and contested idea of South Africa drawing on a wide range of disciplinary perspectives Ever since the delineation of South Africa as a country the many diverse groups of people contained within its borders have struggled to translate a mere geographical description into the identity of a people Today the new struggles for South Africa and to become South African are inextricably intertwined with complex challenges of transformation xenophobia claims of reverse racism social justice economic justice service delivery and the resurgent decolonization struggles reverberating inside the universities This book covers the genealogy of the idea of South Africa exploring how the country has been conceived of by a broad group of actors including the British Afrikaners diverse African nationalist traditions and new formations such as the Economic Freedom Fighters EFF Black First Land First BLF and student formations Rhodes Must Fall Fees Must Fall Over the course of the book a broad range of themes are covered including identity formation modernity race ethnicity indigeneity autochthony land gender intellectual traditions poetics of South Africanness language popular culture truth and reconciliation and national development planning Concluding with important reflections on how a colonial imaginary can be changed into a free and inclusive postcolonial nation state this book will be an important read for Africanist researchers from across the humanities and social sciences
