Won in Translation Roger Chartier, 2022-05-24 In Won in Translation Roger Chartier one of the world's leading historians of books publishing and reading considers the mobility of the early modern text and the plurality of circulating versions of the same work. The agent for both is translation for through their lexical aesthetic and cultural decisions translators always assign new meaning or new status to what they translate. Won in Translation proceeds by way of four case studies three dedicated to works originally in Spanish the fourth to a Portuguese dramatic adaptation of Don Quixote. Bartolom de Las Casas Brev sima relaci n de la destruic i n de las Indias first printed in 1552 was a powerful instrument for the construction of what was later called the black legend of Spanish monarchy. Baltasar Graci n s Or culo Manual published in 1647 became the most famous courtier's manual in Europe. Both traveled more widely and were translated more often than any other books of their era. For Chartier they illustrate the great power of translation which allowed Las Casas account to be placed in multiple and successive contexts and enabled Graci n s book to take on a range of meanings it had not originally had. Chartier's next two chapters are devoted to plays one by Lope de Vega the other by Ant nio Jos da Silva. In the case of Lope's Fuente Ovejuna the translation was one from historical chronicle to dramatic performance. In Ant nio Jos da Silva's Vida do Grande D Quixote the textual migration is twofold as Cervantes hero moves from Spanish to Portuguese and from novel to play. In an Epilogue Chartier moves three centuries forward to consider the paradox that it is the absolute immobility of the text reinvented word for word that creates its mobility in Jorge Luis Borges fiction. Pierre Menard. Author of the Quixote. Works are transformed through changes of genre or language to be sure but even when the texts remain fixed their readers give them different or inverted meaning.

Penned by one of the most knowledgeable commentators on the hobby.

Sex, Race, and Class—The Perspective of Winning Selma James, 2012-05-01 In 1972 Selma James set out a new political perspective. Her starting point was the millions of unwaged women who working in the home and on the land were not seen as workers and their struggles viewed as outside of the class struggle. Based on her political training in the Johnson Forest Tendency founded by her late husband C. L. R. James on movement experience South and North and on a respectful study of Marx she redefined the working class to include sectors previously dismissed as marginal. For James the class struggle presents itself as the conflict between the reproduction and survival of the human race and the domination of the market with its exploitation wars.

and ecological devastation She sums up her strategy for change as Invest in Caring not Killing This selection spanning six decades traces the development of this perspective in the course of building an international campaigning network It includes excerpts from the classic The Power of Women and the Subversion of the Community which launched the domestic labor debate the exciting Hookers in the House of the Lord which describes a church occupation by sex workers an incisive review of the C L R James masterpiece The Black Jacobins a reappraisal of the novels of Jean Rhys and of the leadership of Julius Nyerere the groundbreaking Marx and Feminism and more The writing is lucid and without jargon The ideas never abstract spring from the experience of organising from trying to make sense of the successes and the setbacks and from the need to find a way forward
