Winslow Homer At Prout S Neck:

Winslow Homer at Prout's Neck Philip C. Beam, 2014-11-07 Winslow Homer was the antithesis of the unkempt bohemian artist of the nineteenth century. He not only always maintained the appearance of an English country gentleman but was also an everyday sort of man both in his life and his paintings. Yet he is ranked as one of America's greatest painters. The reason is not hard to discover for Winslow Homer's powerful epic statements spoke for America with a breadth that few other artists have achieved. This is a lively intimate and immensely readable portrait of the artist that throws a new light on Homer's life and puts it in fresh perspective. This biography concentrates on Homer's years at Prout's Neck on Maine's rugged coast where he would create his finest paintings from 1883 until his death in 1920. Winslow Homer in the 1890s Winslow Homer, Philip C. Beam, 1990 This magnificent volume is devoted to Winslow Homer's great landscape and marine paintings in the 1890s which many believe to be the zenith of his art. By 1890 having spent hundreds of hours studying the ocean and its relationship to the cliffs at Prout's Neck, Maine, and penetrated meanings both universal and particular, he had achieved a complete mastery of marine painting and from then on produced masterpiece after masterpiece. A large majority of them inspired by his Prout's Neck surroundings. Provided by publisher. Winslow Homer in the 1890s Philip C. Beam, 1990 Winslow Homer Nicolai Cikovsky, Franklin Kelly, Judith Walsh, Winslow Homer, National Gallery of Art (U.S.), Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, 1995-01-01 This work examines Homer's artistic accomplishments. It focuses not only on his use of various media but also on the suites of works on the same subject that reflect the artist's modern practice of thinking and working serially and thematically. Winslow Homer and the Camera Frank H. Goodyear III, Dana E. Byrd, 2018-01-01 A revelatory exploration of Winslow Homer's engagement with photography, shedding new light on his celebrated paintings and works on paper. One of the greatest American painters of the 19th century, Winslow Homer (1836-1910) also maintained a deep engagement with photography throughout his career. Focusing on the important yet often overlooked role that photography played in Homer's art, this volume exposes Homer's own experiments with the camera; he first bought one in 1882. It also explores how the medium of photography and the larger visual economy influenced his work as a painter, watercolorist, and printmaker at a moment when new print technologies inundated the public with images. Frank Goodyear and Dana Byrd demonstrate that photography offered Homer new ways of seeing and representing the world from his early commercial engravings sourced from contemporary photographs to the complex relationship between his late career paintings of life in the Bahamas, Florida, and Cuba and the emergent trend of tourist photography. The authors argue that Homer's understanding of the camera's ability to create an image that is simultaneously accurate and capable of deception was vitally important to his artistic practice in all media. Richly illustrated and full of exciting new discoveries, Winslow Homer and the Camera is a long overdue examination of the ways in which photography shaped the vision of one of America's most original painters. Speculative Landscapes Ross Barrett, 2022-08-23 Speculative Landscapes offers the first comprehensive account of American artists financial involvements in and creative responses to the nineteenth century real estate economy Examining the dealings of five painters who participated actively in this economy Daniel Huntington John Quidor Eastman Johnson Martin Johnson Heade and Winslow Homer Ross Barrett argues that the experience of property investment exposed artists to new ways of seeing and representing land inspiring them to develop innovative figural landscape and marine paintings that radically reworked visual conventions This approach moved beyond just aesthetics however and the book traces how artists creatively interrogated the economic environmental and cultural dynamics of American real estate capitalism In doing so Speculative Landscapes reveals how the provocative experience of land investment spurred painters to produce uniquely insightful critiques of the emerging real estate economy critiques that uncovered its fiscal perils and social costs and imagined spaces outside the regime of private property American Paintings and Sculpture at the Sterling and Francine Clark Art Institute Margaret C. Griffin,2004 Randall Griffin's book examines the ways in which artists and critics sought to construct a new identity for America during the era dubbed the Gilded Age because of its leaders' taste for opulence Artists such as Winslow Homer Thomas Eakins and Thomas Anshutz explored alternative American themes and styles but widespread belief in the superiority of European art led them and their audiences to look to the Old World for legitimacy This rich never resolved contradiction between the native and autonomous on the one hand and on the other the European and borrowed serves as the armature of Griffin's innovative look at how and why the world of art became a key site in the American struggle for identity Not only does Griffin trace the interplay of issues of nationalism class and gender in American culture but he also offers insightful readings of key paintings by Eakins and other canonical artists Further Griffin shows that by 1900 the nationalist project in art and criticism had helped open the way for the formulation of American modernism Homer Eakins and Anshutz will be of importance to all those interested in American culture as well as to specialists in art history and art criticism Fodor's Maine Coast Fodor's Travel Guides,2023-03-21 Whether you want to eat lobster sail on
