Confessions of a Streetwalker David L. McKenna,2016-05-10 In 2005 my wife Jan and I moved into a condo along the shores of Lake Washington Even though I had served as President of Seattle Pacific University back in the 1970s I was unknown on the streets of the resort like village of Kirkland Washington Each morning Molly our Maltese puppy and I went across the street for her potty break and exercise Soon with Molly as the introducer I discovered a new world where strangers became friends through the connection of our dogs Later after two back surgeries Jan joined us on our daily walk down the street through the village and around the park by using a doggie stroller as a substitute for a walker The sight of the three of us walking down the street with Molly peering forward from her seat at the helm of the stroller became a phenomenon of its own on the streets of Kirkland Together we walked through an open door of learning and found that friendship based upon listening caring and giving is a grace that God reserves for plain people who walk daily and serve joyfully in common places

Travel Tales Collections: Airplane Stories Michael Brein, Ph.D., 2015-04-20 The Travel Tales Collection Airplane Stories No 9 April 2015 is part of Michael Brein's Collections travel tales series and contains among the best travel stories from Michael's huge collection of travel tales that he has gathered in interviews with nearly 1 750 world travelers and adventurers during his four decades of travel to more than 125 countries throughout the world. Travel Tales Collections are groups of very interesting similar travel stories of a kind on a variety of very specific travel subjects: themes or countries such as close calls, great escapes, pickpocketing, scams, safety and security in travel, Paris, Morocco, Mexico, and so on. Eventually, several hundred Collections on all sorts of specific travel subjects, themes, and countries will be available on all the major eReaders. An airline story is in the news today. And so it goes. There's hardly a day now that an airline incident of some sort or another is not in the news. We're taking a lot closer look at air travel these days than ever before. Therefore, as regards the psychology of travel, we should take a much closer look at what actually happens on airplanes. And so in The Travel Psychologist Travel Tales Series that's exactly what I do. Air travel life stories include the full range of the human air travel experience from pre-boarding incidents to arrivals from the cabin to the loo, from the public and private lives of airline personnel as well as passengers from the pilots to the stewards to you from that which makes us laugh to that which makes us cry, as well as unfortunately to that which creates abject fear and terror in the skies. Air travel is now more in the public eye than ever before. Thus it is no wonder now that regarding the experience of traveling in the skies like any other aspect of travel, we are not only more circumspect than ever before, we are on closer view now, much more aware of how air travel is now seen to elicit the full range of the human experience. And in this one particular unique microcosmic window of scrutiny, we see that air travel is but one unique travel environment in a cornucopia of many others, and one that is neither unimportant, insignificant, indistinct, nor independent with respect to the overall experience of travel. Love it, hate it, or simply endure it, the lure of traveling in the skies, whether as just a means to a place or as an end in and of itself, the activity of flying per se, airplane travel stories not only endure, they are on the increase. Whether you've survived a crash, been bombed by terrorists, been part and parcel of other scares and frights, been harassed upon departure or on arrival, or even laughed yourself stupid on a flight, your tales are memorable, and it is my personal mission that some of them are repeated here. Introduction to Travel Tales of Airplanes: Terror in the Skies. Part 1: Travel Tales of Airplanes: Terror in the Skies is divided into two parts simply because there is so much material. Part 1 appears here in the current Travel Tales Collection issue No. 9, Apr. 2015, and serves as a general introduction to this subject matter. Part 2: The unabridged, expanded forthcoming ebook Travel Tales of Airplanes: Terror in the Skies, part of The Travel Psychologist Travel Tales Series, is a larger volume and includes both Parts 1 and 2. The travel stories in Part 1 consist mainly of the personal air travel tales of Michael Brein, me, the author, plus those of a few other contributors. The travel stories in Part 2 are largely the air travel stories of world travelers and adventurers whom I've encountered and interviewed all throughout my travels over the last four decades to 125 countries. Mostly, your own air travel will typically be exciting, interesting, and without incident, but odd things can and do happen to you at almost any turn along the way in your travels, and air travel is no exception. Unfortunately, the restricted constricted and microcosmic environment of the airplane lends itself sometimes to a variety of episodes illustrating the vagaries of the human temperament and behavior that rear their ugliness on airplanes from time to time whereby air passengers and crew sometimes act and behave in ways that are often atypical and different from how we normally would behave at home I hope only peaceful and laughable events happen to you in your air travels I sincerely hope that the negative travel tales of airplanes do not happen to you in your own travels If something interesting happens to you in your air travels you deserve to also be in these pages Got an interesting travel tale for The Travel Psychologist Travel Tales Series Please contact Michael Brein at michaelbrein gmail com Note Some stories may be repeated in other eBooks in the series depending on the countries and subjects covered
