Maureen T. Reddy

Something More Than Night:

Something More Than Night Peter Wolfe, 1985 Raymond Chandler's eminence as a mystery writer is unchallenged. Somerset Maugham and George Grella both rate him above Dashiell Hammett. Eric Partridge deems him a serious artist and a very considerable novelist while praising him as one of the finest novelists of his time. Peter Wolfe examines the many sides of Chandler and his work: his apparent will to self-destruct, his obsession with beautiful women, and his apparent brush with homosexuality, and casts much new and needed light on this major American author.

Something More than Night Kim Newman, 2021-11-02. Anno Dracula author Kim Newman reimagines the lives of Raymond Chandler and Boris Karloff with his signature wit in this gripping and horrifying tale of late 1930s Hollywood. Raymond Chandler writes detective stories for pulp magazines and drinks more than he should. Boris Karloff plays monsters in the movies and is a genial cricket playing member of the British film colony on the shores of the Pacific. Both understand that these streets are dark with something more than night. Together these English public school men in exile investigate mysterious matters in a town run by human and inhuman monsters. Under Home House, the mock gothic mock mansion of a film mogul, is a mad science dungeon just like in the movies where an experiment has gone dangerously wrong or even more dangerously right. Fiery death spills onto Sunset Boulevard. John Devlin, an investigator for the District Attorney's office who scores high on insubordination, and Laurel Ives, a woman with as many lives as a cat and names to match, barely escape Home House. Fired by the DA, Devlin enlists Ray and Billy, Raymond Chandler and William Pratt, Boris Karloff to work the case which threatens to expose Hollywood's most horrific secrets. These people will find out more than they should about the way this town works. And about each other. And oh yes, monsters aren't just for the movies.

The Cinematic City David Clarke, 2005-08-19. Illustrated throughout with movie stills, a diverse selection of film genres, cities, and historical periods are examined by leading names in the field to offer an innovative insight into the interconnection of city and screenscapes.

Cinema and Language Loss Tijana Mamula, 2013. Cinema and Language Loss provides the first sustained exploration of the relationship between linguistic displacement and visuality in the filmic realm, examining in depth both its formal expressions and theoretical implications. In tracing the encounter between cinema and language loss across a wide range of films from Billy Wilder's Sunset Boulevard to Chantal Akerman's News from Home to Michael Haneke's Caché, Mamula reevaluates the role of displacement in postwar Western film and makes an original contribution to film theory and philosophy based on a reconsideration of the place of language in our experience and understanding of cinema.

The Dark Tide Josh Lanyon, 2021-01-08. To say goodbye is to die a little. Like recovering from heart surgery, beneath the gaze of his over-protective family isn't exasperating enough, someone keeps trying to break into Adrien English's bookstore. What is this determined midnight intruder searching for? When a half-century-old skeleton is discovered beneath rotting floorboards in the midst of Cloak and Dagger Bookstore's renovation, Adrien turns to hot and handsome ex-lover Jake Riordan, now out of the closet and working as a private detective Jake is only too happy to have reason to stay in close contact with Adrien but there are more surprises in Adrien's past than either one of them expects and one of them may prove hazardous to Jake's own heart

American Anti-Pastoral Thomas Gustafson, 2024-06-14 One of the best known novels taking place in New Jersey Philip Roth's 1997 American Pastoral uses the fictional hamlet of Old Rimrock NJ as a microcosm for a nation in crisis during the cultural upheavals of the 1960s 70s Critics have called Old Rimrock mythic but it is based on a very real place the small Morris county town of Brookside New Jersey American Anti Pastoral reads the events in Roth's novel in relation to the history of Brookside and its region While Roth's protagonist Seymour Swede Levov initially views Old Rimrock as an idyllic paradise within the Garden State its real world counterpart has a more complex past in its origins as a small industrial village as well as a site for the politics of exclusionary zoning and a 1960s anti war protest at its celebrated 4th of July parade Literary historian and Brookside native Thomas Gustafson casts Roth's canonical novel in a fresh light as he studies both Old Rimrock in comparison to Brookside and the novel in relationship to NJ literature making a case for it as the Great New Jersey novel For Roth fans and history buffs alike American Anti Pastoral peels back the myths about the bucolic Garden State countryside to reveal deep fissures along the fault lines of race and religion in American democracy

Traces, Codes, and Clues Maureen T. Reddy, 2003 This text explores the ways in which crime fiction manipulates cultural constructions such as race and gender to inscribe dominant cultural discourses It notes that even those writers who set out to revise conventions repeatedly produce some of the genre's most conservative elements

Creatures of Darkness Gene D. Phillips, 2021-03-17 An exhaustively researched survey of Raymond Chandler's thorny relationship with Hollywood during the classic period of film noir Alain Silver film producer and author Raymond Chandler's seven novels including The Big Sleep 1939 and The Long Goodbye 1953 with their pessimism and grim realism had a direct influence on the emergence of film noir Chandler worked to give his crime novels the flavor of his adopted city Los Angeles which was still something of a frontier town rife with corruption and lawlessness In addition to novels Chandler wrote short stories and penned the screenplays for several films including Double Indemnity 1944 and Strangers on a Train 1951 His work with Billy Wilder and Alfred Hitchcock on these projects was fraught with the difficulties of collaboration between established directors and an author who disliked having to edit his writing on demand Creatures of Darkness is the first major biocritical study of Chandler in twenty years Gene Phillips explores Chandler's unpublished script for Lady in the Lake examines the process of adaptation of the novel Strangers on a Train discusses the merits of the unproduced screenplay for Playback and compares Howard Hawks's director's cut of The Big Sleep with the version shown in theaters Through interviews he conducted with Wilder Hitchcock Hawks and Edward Dmytryk over the past several decades Phillips provides deeper insight into Chandler's sometimes difficult personality Chandler's wisecracking private eye Philip Marlowe has spawned a thousand imitations Creatures of Darkness lucidly explains the author's dramatic impact on both the literary and cinematic worlds demonstrating the immeasurable debt that both detective fiction and the neo noir films of today owe to Chandler's stark vision Tinsley's Magazine, 1873

'Un-American' Hollywood Peter Stanfield, Frank Krutnik, Brian Neve, Steve Neale, 2007-12-27 The concept of un Americanism so vital to the HUAC crusade of the 1940s and 1950s was resoundingly revived in the emotional rhetoric that followed the September 11th terrorist attacks Today's political and cultural climate makes it more crucial than ever to come to terms with the consequences of this earlier period of repression and with the contested claims of Americanism that it generated Un American Hollywood reopens the intense critical debate on the blacklist era and on the aesthetic and political work of the Hollywood Left In a series of fresh case studies focusing on contexts of production and reception the contributors offer exciting and original perspectives on the role of progressive politics within a capitalist media industry Original essays scrutinize the work of individual practitioners such as Robert Rossen Joseph Losey Jules Dassin and Edward Dmytryk and examine key films including The Robe Christ in Concrete The House I Live In The Lawless The Naked City The Prowler Body and Soul and FTA

Overdrive Wim de Wit, Christopher James Alexander, 2013 The drawings models and images highlighted in the Overdrive exhibition and catalogue reveal the complex and often underappreciated facets of Los Angeles and illustrate how the metropolis became an internationally recognized destination with a unique design vocabulary canonical landmarks and a coveted lifestyle This investigation builds upon the groundbreaking work of generations of historians theorists curators critics and activists who have researched and expounded upon the development of Los Angeles In this volume thought provoking essays shed more light on the exhibition's narratives including Los Angeles's physical landscape the rise of modernism the region's influential residential architecture its buildings for commerce and

The Crime World of Michael Connelly David Geherin, 2022-10-27 Since his first novel in 1992 Michael Connelly has become one of America's most popular and critically acclaimed crime writers He is best known as the author of a long running series featuring LAPD homicide detective Harry Bosch a compelling figure in contemporary crime fiction He also created several additional series featuring a criminal defense attorney Mickey Haller known as the Lincoln Lawyer an FBI profiler Terry McCaleb a newspaper reporter Jack McEvoy and an LAPD policewoman Renee Ballard who works the night shift When he began incorporating all his characters into the Bosch megaseries he expanded the notion of what a crime series can accomplish This work takes an in depth look at all of Connelly s work including the 34 novels that comprise the Bosch megaserie the film adaptations of his books the popular Bosch TV series and his standalone novels short stories and podcasts It includes chapters on his novelistic artistry and his portraits of Los Angeles and its police department Siren City Robert Miklitsch,2011-02-01 Hailed for its dramatic expressionist visuals film noir is one of the most prominent genres in Hollywood cinema Yet despite the boom in sound studies the role of sonic effects and source music in classic American noir has not received the attention it deserves Siren City engagingly illustrates how sound tracks in 1940s film noir are often just as compelling as the genre s vaunted graphics Focusing on a wide range of celebrated and less well known films and offering an introductory discussion of film sound Robert Miklitsch mobilizes the notion of audiovisuality to investigate period sound technologies such as the radio and jukebox phonograph and Dictaphone popular American music such as hot black jazz and big numbers featuring iconic performers such as Lauren Bacall Veronica Lake and Rita Hayworth Siren City resonates with the sounds and source music of classic American noir gunshots and sirens swing riffs and canaries Along with the proverbial private eye and femme fatale these audiovisuals are central to the noir aesthetic and one important reason the genre reverberates with audiences around the world A Companion to James Joyce Richard Brown,2013-06-06 A Companion to James Joyce offers a unique composite overview and analysis of Joyce s writing his global image and his growing impact on twentieth and twenty first century literatures Brings together 25 newly commissioned essays by some of the top scholars in the field Explores Joyce s distinctive cultural place in Irish British and European modernism and the growing impact of his work elsewhere in the world A comprehensive and timely Companion to current debates and possible areas of future development in Joyce studies Offers new critical readings of several of Joyce s works including Dubliners A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man and Ulysses Politics, Desire, and the Hollywood Novel Chip Rhodes,2008-09 The story of what happens when a serious writer goes to Hollywood has become a cliché the writer is paid well but underappreciated treated like a factory worker and forced to write bad formulaic movies Most fail become cynical drink to excess and at some point write a bitter novel that attacks the film industry in the name of high art Like many too familiar stories this one neither holds up to the facts nor helps us understand Hollywood novels Instead Chip Rhodes argues these novels tell us a great deal about the ways that Hollywood has shaped both the American political landscape and American definitions of romance and desire Rhodes considers how novels about the film industry changed between the studio era of the 1930s and 1940s and the era of deregulated film making that has existed since the 1960s He asserts that Americans are now driven by cultural rather than class differences and that our mainstream notion of love has gone from repressed desire to abnormal desire to finally strictly business Politics, Desire, and the Hollywood Novel pays close attention to six authors Nathanael West Raymond Chandler Budd Schulberg Joan Didion Bruce Wagner and Elmore Leonard who have toiled in the film industry and written to tell about it More specifically Rhodes considers both screenplays and novels with an eye toward the different formulations of sexuality art and ultimately political action that exist in these two kinds of storytelling
