Something Beautiful A Novella English Edition:

The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000 This guide highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the process of translating and the choices involved making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Hungarian Korean to Turkish For some works e g Virgil's Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available The Novel Michael Schmidt, 2014-05-12 With contributions from Great Britain Ireland America Canada Australia India and Southern Africa influenced by great novelists working in other languages and encompassing a range of genres the story of the novel in English unfolds like a richly varied landscape that invites exploration rather than a linear journey Something Beautiful Happened Yvette Manassis Corporon, 2017-09-12 Yvette Manassis Corporon grew up listening to her grandmother's stories about how the people of the small Greek island Erikousa hid a Jewish family a tailor named Savvas and his daughters from the Nazis during World War II Nearly 2 000 Jews from that area died in the concentration camps but even though everyone on Erikousa knew Savvas and his family were hiding on the island no one ever gave them up and the family survived the war Years later Yvette couldn't get the story of the Jewish tailor out of her head She decided to track down the man's descendants and eventually found them in Israel Their tearful reunion was proof to her that evil doesn't always win But just days after she made the connection her cousin's child was gunned down in a parking lot in Kansas a victim of a Neo Nazi out to inflict as much harm as he could Despite her best hopes she was forced to confront the fact that seventy years after the Nazis were defeated it was still happening today As Yvette and her family wrestled with the tragedy in their own lives the lessons she learned from the survivors of the Holocaust helped her confront and make sense of the present Godey's Lady's Book, 1843 The Politics of Home Rosemary Marangoly George, 1999-10-29 A groundbreaking move beyond the first generation of postcolonial criticism Nancy Armstrong Brown University Translation in French and Francophone Literature and Film James T. Day, 2009 This volume collects papers presented at the annual French Literature Conference sponsored by the Department of Languages Literatures and Cultures of the University of South Carolina Literature as Translation/Translation as Literature Christopher Conti, James Gourley, 2014-03-17 Broadly conceived literature consists of aesthetic and cultural processes that can be thought of as forms of translation By the same token translation requires the sort of creative or interpretive understanding usually associated with literature Literature as Translation Translation as Literature explores a number of themes centred on this shared identity of literature and translation as creative acts of interpretation and understanding The metaphor or motif of translation is the touchstone of this volume which looks at how an expanded idea of translation sheds light not just on features of literary composition and reception but also on modes of intercultural communication at a time when the pressures of globalization threaten local cultures with extinction The theory of ethical translation that has emerged in this context which fosters the practice of preserving the foreignness of the text at the risk of its misunderstanding bears relevance beyond current debates about world literature to the framing of contemporary social issues by dominant discourses like medicine as one contributor s study of the growing autism rights movement reveals The systematizing imperatives of translation that forcibly assimilate the foreign to the familiar like the systematizing imperatives of globalization are resisted in acts of creative understanding in which the particular or different finds sanctuary The overlooked role that the foreign word plays in the discourses that constitute subjectivity and national culture comes to light across the variegated concerns of this volume Contributions range from case studies of the emancipatory role translation has played in various historical and cultural contexts to the study of specific literary works that understand their own aesthetic processes and the interpretive and communicative processes of meaning more generally as forms of translation Several contributors including the English translators of Roberto Bola o and Hans Blumenberg were prompted in their reflections on the creative and interpretive process of translation by their own accomplished work as translators All are animated by the conviction that translation whether regarded as the creative act of understanding of one culture by another as the agent of political and social transformation as the source of new truths in foreign linguistic environments and not just the bearer of established ones or as the limit of conceptuality outlined in the silhouette of the untranslatable is a creative cultural force of the first importance

Present Imperfect Andrew van der Vlies, 2017-05-19 Present Imperfect asks how South African writers have responded to the end of apartheid to the hopes that attended the birth of the new nation in 1994 and to the inevitable disappointments that have followed The first full length study of affect in South Africa s literature it understands disappointment both as a description of bad feeling and as naming a missed appointment with all that was promised by the anti colonial and anti apartheid Struggle a disappointment Attending to contemporary writers treatment of temporality genre and form it considers a range of negative feelings that are also experiences of temporal disjuncture including stasis impasse boredom disaffection and nostalgia Present Imperfect offers close readings of work by a range of writers some known to international Anglophone readers including J M Coetzee Nadine Gordimer Ivan Vladislavic and Zo Wicomb some slightly less well known including Afrikaans language novelists Marlene van Niekerk and Ingrid Winterbach and others from a new generation including Songeziwe Mahlangu and Masande Ntshanga It addresses key questions in South African studies about the evolving character of the historical period in which the country now finds itself It is also alert to wider critical and theoretical conversations looking outward to make a case for the place of South African writing in global conversations and mobilizing readings of writing marked in various ways as South African in order to complicate the contours of World Literature as category discipline and pedagogy It is thus also a book about the discontents of neoliberalism the political energies of reading and the fates of literature in our troubled present The Haggerty, 2018-03-29 Friendship in the classical world was celebrated as among the highest human achievements nothing was more likely to lead to the divine than looking for it in the eyes of a friend In exploring the complexities of male male relations beyond the simple labels of sexuality Queer Friendship shows how love between men has a rich and varied history in English literature The friend could offer a reflection of one's own worth and a celebration of a kind of mutuality that was not connected to family or home These same sex friendships are memorable because they give shape to the novels of which they are a part and question the assumption that the love between friends is different from the love between lovers Queer Friendship explores English literary friendship in three ways the elegiac the erotic and the platonic by considering a myriad of works including Sterne's Tristram Shandy Tennyson's In Memoriam A H H and Dickens Great Expectations Queer Reading Practices and Sexology in Fin-de-Siècle Literature Zsolt Bojti, 2025-07-28 This book scrutinises the production and transnational distribution of sexological knowledge at the turn of the century The works of three transnationally mobile authors are in the focus The Picture of Dorian Gray 1890 1891 and Teleny 1893 by and attributed to Oscar Wilde The True Story of a Vampire 1894 by Count Stanislaus Eric Stenbock and Imre A Memorandum 1906 by Edward Prime Stevenson The textual analysis is governed by references in all four works to Hungarian culture to demonstrate how they conceptualised Hungarianness and same sex desire simultaneously in the light of the new classificatory science of sexualities coming from German speaking Central Europe By foregrounding a timely literary angle and a culturalist approach this book offers non Anglocentric insights not bound by either language or nationality to shed new light on the interdisciplinary reading practices of late Victorian subjects and the ways they contributed to the emergence of fin de siècle queer fiction The Independent ,1899 A Beauty So Rare (A Belmont Mansion Novel Book #2) Tamera Alexander, 2014-03-25 Pink is not what Eleanor Braddock ordered but maybe it would soften the tempered steel of a woman who came through a war and still had one to fight Plain practical Eleanor Braddock knows she will never marry but with a dying soldier's last whisper she believes her life can still have meaning and determines to find his widow Impoverished and struggling to care for her ailing father Eleanor arrives at Belmont Mansion home of her aunt Adelia Acklen the richest woman in America and possibly the most demanding as well Adelia insists on finding her niece a husband but a simple act of kindness leads Eleanor down a far different path building a home for destitute widows and fatherless children from the Civil War While Eleanor knows her own heart she also knows her aunt will never approve of this endeavor Archduke Marcus Gottfried has come to Nashville from Austria in search of a life he determines instead of one determined for him Hiding his royal heritage Marcus longs to combine his passion for nature with his expertise in architecture but his plans to incorporate natural beauty into the design of the widows and children s home run contrary to Eleanor s wishes As work on the home draws them closer together Marcus and Eleanor find common ground and a love neither of them expects But Marcus is not the man Adelia has chosen for Eleanor and even if he were someone who knows his secrets is about to reveal them all From USA Today bestselling author Tamera Alexander comes a moving historical novel about a bold young woman drawn to a group of people forgotten by Nashville society and to the one man with whom she has no business falling in love
