First published in 1991 The European Association of Development Research and Training Institutes EADI organised its 6th General Conference in Oslo 27-30 June 1990 The general theme was New Challenges for European Development Research with particular reference to the changes taking place in Europe East and West and to sustainable development More than 200 papers were presented in the plenary sessions in two parallel special sessions on the two main themes and in the sessions of 23 working groups and five ad hoc panels It is from this harvest that the editors of the previous and the present issues of the EJDR have selected contributions No 2 1990 focused on the changes in Europe and their effects The present issue focuses on the other main theme of the conference sustainable development      Engineering Systems Olivier L. De Weck, Daniel Roos, Christopher L. Magee, 2011 An overview of engineering systems that describes the new challenges posed for twenty first century engineers by today s highly complex sociotechnical systems Engineering for much of the twentieth century was mainly about artifacts and inventions Now it s increasingly about complex systems As the airplane taxis to the gate you access the Internet and check email with your PDA linking the communication and transportation systems At home you recharge your plug in hybrid vehicle linking transportation to the electricity grid Today s large scale highly complex sociotechnical systems converge interact and depend on each other in ways engineers of old could barely have imagined As scale scope and complexity increase engineers consider technical and social issues together in a highly integrated way as they design flexible adaptable robust systems that can be easily modified and reconfigured to satisfy changing requirements and new technological opportunities Engineering Systems offers a comprehensive examination of such systems and the associated emerging field of study Through scholarly discussion concrete examples and history the authors consider the engineer s changing role new ways to model and analyze these systems the impacts on engineering education and the future challenges of meeting human needs through the technologically enabled systems of today and tomorrow      Key Concepts in Public Archaeology Gabriel Moshenska, 2017-09-28 This book provides a broad overview of the key concepts in public archaeology a research field that examines the relationship between archaeology and the public in both theoretical and practical terms While based on the long standing programme of undergraduate and graduate teaching in public archaeology at UCL s renowned Institute of Archaeology the book also takes into account the growth of scholarship from around the world and seeks to clarify what exactly public archaeology is by promoting an inclusive socially and politically engaged vision of the discipline Written for students and practitioners the individual chapters provide textbook level introductions to the themes theories and controversies that connect archaeology to wider society from the trade in illicit antiquities to the use of digital media in public engagement and point readers to the most relevant case studies and learning resources to aid their further study This book was produced as part of JISC s Institution as e Textbook Publisher project Find out more at <https://www.jisc.ac.uk/projects/institution-as-e-textbook-publisher> Praise for Key Concepts in Archaeology Littered throughout with concise and well chosen case studies Key Concepts in Public Archaeology could become essential reading for undergraduates and is a welcome reminder of where archaeology sits in UK society today British Archaeology Economic and Political Weekly ,1988 The Politics of Environmental Discourse Maarten A. Hajer,1995-12-14 Dr Hajer s path breaking study opens the way for a better understanding of the environmental conflict showing how language can be seen to shape our view of what environmental politics is really about and how those perceptions can differ between countries The author identifies the emergence and increasing political importance of ecological modernization as a new concept in the language of environmental politics This concept which has come to replace the antagonistic debates of the 1970s stresses the opportunities of environmental policy for modernizing the economy and stimulating the technological innovation Combining abstract social theory with detailed empirical analysis Martin Hajer illustrates the social and political dynamics of ecological modernization in a detailed analysis of the acid rain controversies in Great Britain and the Netherlands He concludes by reflecting on the institutional challenge of the environmental politics in the years to come Agrekon ,1998
