We Need To Talk About Kevin Lionel Shriver:

We Need To Talk About Kevin Lionel Shriver, 2010-07-09 WINNER OF THE WOMEN S PRIZE FOR FICTION 2010 ONE MILLION COPIES SOLD Eva never really wanted to be a mother certainly not the mother of a boy named Kevin who murdered seven of his fellow high school students a cafeteria worker and a teacher who had tried to befriend him Now two years after her son s horrific rampage Eva comes to terms with her role as Kevin s mother in a series of startlingly direct correspondences with her absent husband Franklyn about their son s upbringing Fearing that her own shortcomings may have shaped what her son has become she confesses to a deep long standing ambivalence about motherhood How much is her fault In Lionel Shriver s hands this sensational chilling and memorable story of a woman who raised a monster becomes a metaphor for the larger tragedy the tragedy of a country where everything works nobody starves and anything can be bought but a sense of purpose

We Need to Talk about Kevin by Lionel Shriver Kevin Brophy, 2007 We Need to Talk about Kevin Lionel Shriver, 2005 WINNER OF THE ORANGE PRIZE read more Interactive online message board now live visit here Reading group questions here but don t spoil the plot Read an extract Two years ago Eva Khatchadourian s son Kevin murdered seven of his fellow high school students a cafeteria worker and a popular algebra teacher Because he was only fifteen at the time of the killings he received a lenient sentence and is now in a prison for young offenders in upstate New York Telling the story of Kevin s upbringing Eva addresses herself to her estranged husband through a series of letters Fearing that her own shortcomings may have shaped what her son has become she confesses to a deep long standing ambivalence about both motherhood in general and Kevin in particular How much is her fault Lionel Shriver tells a compelling absorbing and resonant story while framing these horrifying tableaux of teenage carnage as metaphors for the larger tragedy the tragedy of a country where everything works nobody starves and anything can be bought but a sense of purpose

The Death of the Poet N Quentin Woolf, 2014-04-04 John Knox falls passionately and irrevocably in love with Rachel McAllistair the first time they meet He interviews her for his radio show and afterwards when he tells her how impressive she was she hits him square on the jaw Undeterred he pursues her promising to love her and never to leave her This promise becomes his burden as her behaviour whirls out of control She is abusive and cruel And yet he stays Even when she does something so awful that his life is changed forever And that point on which his life turns leads him to an unexpected connection with a man who suffered a terrible injury in the first world war The Death of the Poet is a daringly honest transfixing story about being in thrall to someone being a victim and a protector and how early promise can turn into an utterly unrecognisable life An exploration of violence and what it means to be a man in the modern world it s controversial devastating and in a complicated way romantic too

They Shoot Horses, Don't They? Horace McCoy, 2011-05-26 During the Depression Gloria and Robert enter a dance marathon in return for three square meals a day and a chance at winning the big money prize Under the intense scrutiny of the media corporate sponsors and obsessive fans the competing couples are put through a series of gruelling and humiliating feats of endurance until they begin to fight among themselves and betray each other As days and weeks go by the tension reaches boiling point and this pitch black tale of desire and desperation heads towards a violent conclusion

Cruel Children in Popular Texts and Cultures Monica Flegel, Christopher Parkes, 2018-04-19 This book explores how alarmist social discourses about cruel young people fail to recognize the complexity of cruelty and the role it plays in child agency Examining representations of cruel young people in popular texts and popular culture the collected essays demonstrate how gender race and class influence who gets labeled cruel and which actions are viewed as negative aggressive and disruptive It shows how representations of cruel young people negotiate the violence that shadows polite society and how narratives of cruelty and aggression are used to affirm or to deny young people's agency

Voices and Silence in the Contemporary Novel in English Vanessa Guignery, 2009-10-02 This volume examines the various processes at work in expressing silence and excessive speech in contemporary novels in English covering the whole spectrum from effusiveness to muteness Even if in the postmodern episteme language is deemed inadequate for speaking the unspeakable contemporary authors still rely on voice as a mode of representation and a performative tool and exploit silence not only as a sign of absence block or withdrawal but also as a token of presence and resistance Logorrhoea and reticence are not necessarily antithetical as compulsive verbosity may work as a smokescreen to sidestep the real issues while silences and gaps may reveal more than they hide By submitting their texts to both expansion and retention hypertrophy and aphasia writers persistently test the limits of language and its ability to make sense of individual and collective stories The present volume analyses the complex poetics of silence and speech in fiction from the 1960s to the present with special focus on Will Self Graham Swift John Fowles Kazuo Ishiguro Jenny Diski Lionel Shriver Michelle Roberts Margaret Atwood Jonathan Safran Foer Salman Rushdie Arundhati Roy Zadie Smith Jamaica Kincaid Ryhaan Shah and J M Coetzee

Ethics at the Beginning of Life James Mumford, 2013-06-13 Many declare the debate about abortion to be hopelessly polarised between conservatives and liberals between forces religious and secular In this book Mumford upends this received wisdom and challenges consensus arguing that many dominant attitudes and argument fail to take into account the particular way human beings emerge in the world

Will Spook You For Real Christina Maria Huber, 2018 Popular fiction can be more than feel good diversion Stories which are intended to entertain are uniquely suited to affect their recipients feelings or moods and tend to leave a more sustained impression than lectures or lists of facts It is hardly surprising therefore that story telling keeps on thriving in the 21st century with ever new media providing ever new space for narratives In Will Spook You For Real Huber examines a wide range of strategies used in fiction to trigger a specific emotion in the readers anxiety regarding the social constructs they live in and their specific positions within these constructs Can we trust our neighbours Can we rely on our governments What do big corporations have in mind And what happens if I cannot conform to the role which has been assigned to me Textual Mothers/Maternal Texts Elizabeth Podnieks, Andrea O'Reilly, 2011-04-07 Textual Mothers Maternal Texts focuses on mothers as subjects and as writers who produce auto biography fiction and poetry about maternity International contributors examine the mother without child with child and in her multiple identities as grandmother mother and daughter The collection examines how authors use textual spaces to accept negotiate resist or challenge traditional conceptions of mothering and maternal roles and how these texts offer alternative practices and visions for mothers Further it illuminates how textual representations both reflect and help to define or re shape the realities of women and families by examining how mothering and being a mother are political personal and creative narratives unfolding within both the pages of a book and the spaces of a life The range of chapters maps a shift from the daughter centric stories that have dominated the maternal tradition to the matrilineal and matrifocal perspectives that have emerged over the last few decades as the mother s voice moved from silence to speech Contributors make aesthetic cultural and political claims and critiques about mothering and motherhood illuminating in new and diverse ways how authors and the protagonists of the texts read their own maternal identities as well as the maternal scripts of their families cultures and nations in their quest for self knowledge agency and artistic expression nineteenth century detective fiction has developed into one of the most popular genres of literature and popular culture more widely In this monograph Mary Evans examines detective fiction and its complex relationship to the modern and to modernity She focuses on two key themes the moral relationship of detection and the detective to a particular social world and the attempt to restore and even improve the social world that has been threatened and fractured by a crime usually that of murder It is a characteristic of much detective fiction that the detective the pursuer is a social outsider this status creates a complex web of relationships between detective institutional life and dominant and subversive moralities Evans questions who and what the detective stands for and suggests that the answer challenges many of our assumptions about the relationship between various moralities in the modern world Deception Ziyad Marar,2014-12-05 Most of us think we are about 15 per cent cleverer nicer more attractive and better drivers than others think we are It seems deception begins at home After all the most convincing liars convince themselves first Sellers and buyers parents and children friends and lovers must conceal from each other the unutterable truth that they don t believe or want the same things In this book Ziyad Marar throws a revealing light on the many ways deception is woven into the texture of human life our wiring leaves us easily suckered by persuasive illusions while our contradictory desires for sex and honesty money and kindness for cake and losing weight force us to cook up self serving stories We manage flattering impressions with effortless skill while pretending our sins and self indulgences are beyond our control Drawing on insights from philosophy psychology and literature Marar explores the implications for living well in the shadow of Kant s humbling thought that out of the crooked timber of humanity no straight thing was ever made The Green Bookshop John Salinsky,Iona Heath,Matthew Walters,2018-04-19 This collection that was first published in 2009 and is recommended reading for doctors and others includes The Green Bookshop opens its doors Books that won prizes Great books that should have won prizes Two books by one writer A handful of classic novels Short stories and essays Books and the cinema Biography and memoirs Classic books about general practice Best new books about general practice Consultation and communication Education for primary care Psychiatry psychology and a bit of philosophy and Reading for pleasure Faithful Davitt Sigerson,2005 Nick is a trader on the London Stock Exchange and when he meets Trish he falls in love They are married within a few months and expecting their first child then Trish s past catches up with her in the form of Joe an ex lover she abandons Nick and follows her old love Eat My Heart Out Zoe Pilger,2014-01-30 Meet 2014 s most outrageous funny and shocking anti heroine Ann Marie She s 23 her life has collapsed and she s blaming everyone but herself Heartbroken skint and furious she s convinced that love sweet love is the answer to all of her problems until she meets legendary feminist Stephanie Haight a woman who could be her saviour or her final undoing From neo burlesque pop up strip clubs to ironic Little Mermaid themed warehouse parties via ritual worship ceremonies summoning ancient power goddesses disastrous one night stands with extravagantly unsuitable men naked cleaning jobs a forced appearance on Woman s Hour and baby boomer house parties in Islington Ann Marie hurtles through

The Subject of Murder Lisa Downing, 2013-05 The subject of murder has always held a particular fascination for us. But since at least the nineteenth century we have seen the murderer as different from the ordinary citizen, a special individual like an artist or a genius who exists apart from the moral majority, a sovereign self who obeys only the destructive urge, sometimes even commanding cult followings. In contemporary culture we continue to believe that there is something different and exceptional about killers, but is the murderer such a distinctive type? Are they degenerate beasts or supermen as they have been depicted on the page and the screen? Or are murderers something else entirely? In The Subject of Murder Lisa Downing explores the ways in which the figure of the murderer has been made to signify a specific kind of social subject in Western modernity. Drawing on the work of Foucault in her studies of the lives and crimes of killers in Europe and the United States, Downing interrogates the meanings of media and texts produced about and by murderers. Upending the usual treatment of murderers as isolated figures or exceptional individuals, Downing argues that they are ordinary people, reflections of our society at the intersections of gender, agency, desire, and violence.

Lacan in the End Times Rob Weatherill, 2022-09-21 This book explores themes around the Father. His absence in modern society and the decline of mental health. The nature of this decline can be uniquely psychoanalytically theorised in both the corresponding ferocity of the internal object and exposure to the Real. The first part of this book underlines what psychoanalysis and psi sciences continue to overlook, what now provides what Lacan called the narrow footbridge between anxiety and death. What terror must replace the father? How can reality be stabilised once more? The second part follows the atomised world as it turns towards extremism and utopian dreams in Ireland via Hanaghan's radical psychoanalysis in Levinasian ethics, in Gnostic belief in an evil world, and in the clinic of the death drive. The conclusion turns finally to the God beyond God and the overwhelming evidence for God's presence in the world. Lacan in the End Times will be of interest to psychoanalysts, psychotherapists, counsellors, social workers, and scholars in critical theory, philosophy, cultural theory, literary theory, and theology.

Embodied Encounters Agnieszka Piotrowska, 2014-11-13 What is the role of the unconscious in our visceral approaches to cinema? Embodied Encounters offers a unique collection of essays written by leading thinkers and writers in film studies with a guiding principle that embodied and material existence can and perhaps ought to also allow for the unconscious. The contributors embrace work which has brought the body back into film theory and question why psychoanalysis has been excluded from more recent interrogations. The chapters included here engage with Jung and Freud, Lacan and Bion, and Klein and Winnicott in their interrogations of contemporary cinema and the moving image. In three parts, the book presents examinations of both classic and contemporary films, including Black Swan, Zero Dark Thirty, and The Dybbuk. Part 1: The Desire, the Body, and the Unconscious. Part 2: Psychoanalytical Theories and the Cinema. Part 3: Reflections and Destructions Mirrors and Transgressions Embodied Encounters is an eclectic volume which presents in one book the voices of those who work with different psychoanalytical paradigms It will be essential reading for psychoanalysts and psychotherapists scholars and students of film and culture studies and film makers
