We Still Kill The Old Way:

Revolution in 35mm Andrew Nette, Samm Deighan, 2024-09-24 Revolution in 35mm Political Violence and Resistance in Cinema from the Arthouse to the Grindhouse 1960-1990 examines how political violence and resistance was represented in arthouse and cult films from 1960 to 1990. This historical period spans the Algerian war of independence and the early wave of post colonial struggles that reshaped the Global South through the collapse of Soviet Communism in the late 80s. It focuses on films related to the rise of protest movements by students, workers, and leftist groups, as well as broader countercultural movements like Black Power, the rise of feminism, and so on. The book also includes films that explore the splinter groups that engaged in violent urban guerilla struggles throughout the 1970s and 1980s, as the promise of widespread radical social transformation failed to materialize. The Weathermen, the Black Liberation Army, and the Symbionese Liberation Army in the United States, the Red Army Faction in West Germany, and Japan and Italy's Red Brigades. Many of these movements were deeply connected with and expressed their values through art, literature, popular culture, and of course, cinema. Twelve authors, including academics and well-known film critics, deliver a diverse examination of how filmmakers around the world reacted to the political violence and resistance movements of the period and how this was expressed on screen. This includes looking at the financing, distribution, and screening of these films, audience and critical reaction, the attempted censorship or suppression of much of this work, and how directors and producers eluded these restrictions. Including over two hundred illustrations, the book examines filmmaking movements like the French, Japanese, German, and Yugoslavian New Waves, subgenres like spaghetti westerns, Italian poliziotteschi, Blaxploitation, and mondo movies, and films that reflect the values of specific movements like feminists, Vietnam War protesters, and Black militants. The work of influential and well-known political filmmakers such as Costa Gavras, Gillo Pontecorvo, and Glauber Rocha is examined side by side with grindhouse cinema and lesser-known titles by a host of all but forgotten filmmakers, including many from the Global South that are deserving of rediscovery.

Elio Petri Roberto Curti, 2021-07-14 Elio Petri (1929-1982) was one of the most commercially successful and critically revered Italian directors ever. A cultured intellectual and a politically committed filmmaker, Petri made award-winning movies that touched controversial social, religious, and political themes, such as the Mafia in We Still Kill the Old Way (1967), police brutality in Investigation of a Citizen Above Suspicion (1970), and workers' struggles in Lulu the Tool (1971). His work also explored genre in a thought-provoking and refreshing manner, with a taste for irony and the grotesque. Among his best works are the science fiction satire The 10th Victim (1965), the ghost story A Quiet Place in the Country (1968), and the grotesque giallo Todo modo (1976). This book examines Elio Petri's life and career and places his work within the social and political context of postwar Italian culture, politics, and cinema. It includes a detailed production history and critical analysis of each of his films, plenty of never-before-seen bits of information recovered from the Italian ministerial archives, and an in-depth discussion of the director's unfilmed projects.

Roberto Curti, 2023-09-15 From its birth in 1913 to its abolition in 2021 film censorship marked the history of Italian cinema and its evolution mirrored the social political and cultural travail of the country During the Fascist regime and in the postwar period censorship was a powerful political tool in the hands of the ruling party many films were banned or severely cut By the end of the 1960s censors had to cope with the changing morals and the widespread diffusion of sexuality in popular culture which led to the boom of hardcore pornography With the crisis of the national industry and the growing influence of television censorship gradually changed its focus and targets The book analyzes Italian film censorship from its early days to the present discussing the most controversial cases and protagonists These include such notorious works as Last Tango in Paris and Salo or the 120 Days of Sodom and groundbreaking filmmakers such as Luchino Visconti Federico Fellini and Pier Paolo Pasolini who pushed the limits of what was acceptable on screen causing scandal and public debate      The Gorgon's Gaze Paul Coates, 1991-04-26 This interdisciplinary study of recurrent themes in German cinema as it has developed since the early twentieth century focuses on pertinent films of the pre and post World War II eras The author explores the nature of expressionism which is generally agreed to have ended with the advent of sound and its persistence in the styles of such modern masters of film noir as Orson Welles and Ingmar Bergman In considering the possibility of homologies between the necessary silence of pre sound cinema and the widespread modernist aspiration to an aesthetic of silence Coates relates theories of the sublime the uncanny and the monstrous to his subject He also reflects upon problems of representability and the morality of representation of events that took place during the Nazi era      Darkness Calls Sue Short, 2019-09-14 This book examines the contrasting forms neo noir has taken on screen asking what prompts our continued interest in tales of criminality and moral uncertainty Neo noir plots are both familiar and diverse found in a host of media formats today and now span the globe Yet despite its apparent prevalence and increased academic attention many core questions remain unanswered What has propelled noir's appeal half a century on after its supposed decline What has led film makers and series creators to rework given tropes What debates continue to divide critics And why are we as viewers so drawn to stories that often show us at our worst Referencing a range of films and series citing critical work in the field while also challenging many of the assumptions made this book sets out to advance our understanding of a subject that has fascinated audiences and academics alike Theories relating to gender identity and neo noir's tricky generic status are discussed together with an evaluation of differing comic inflections and socio political concerns concluding that although neo noir is capable of being both progressive and reactionary it also mobilises potentially radical questions about who we are and what we might be capable of      Scoring Italian Cinema Giorgio Biancorosso, Roberto Calabretto, 2025-05-12 Scoring Italian Cinema Patterns of Collaboration redefines what it means to write music for the cinema In eight richly illustrated chapters and a deft introduction nine leading music and film scholars revisit the great theme of artistic collaboration from a heretofore unexplored angle the relationship between film directors and composers in the Long Italian Post War ca 1945 1975 Spurred by the surfacing of printed and manuscript scores sketches drafts tapes letters and miscellaneous notes the authors of Scoring Italian Cinema examine afresh the partnerships between such figures as Federico Fellini and Nino Rota Michelangelo Antonioni and Giovanni Fusco Elio Petri and Ennio Morricone and Dario Argento and Goblin The volume also brings to light the role of conductors and performers as well as producers and screenwriters in creating the soundtracks of some of the most important films in the history of Italian cinema including Bitter Rice 1949 La strada 1954 and Salvatore Giuliano 1962 The intrinsically polyvocal nature of the process of completing a score such as it emerges in the case studies gathered in Scoring Italian Cinema invites us to rethink of composing for the films as a new kind of expanded distributed musical practice Meticulously researched and written in an accessible style Scoring Italian Cinema will appeal to scholars and practitioners in the fields of music film and media studies
