Large-Scale Knowledge Resources. Construction and Application

Takenobu Tokunaga, Antonio Ortega, 2008-02-29 At the start of the 21st century we are now well on the way towards a knowledge intensive society in which knowledge plays ever more important roles Thus research interest should inevitably shift from information to knowledge with the problems of building organizing maintaining and utilizing knowledge coming central issues in a wide variety of fields. The 21st Century COE program Framework for Systematization and Application of Large scale Knowledge sources COE LKR conducted by the Tokyo Institute of Technology is one of several early attempts worldwide to address these important issues. Inspired by this project LKR2008 aimed at bringing together diverse contributions in cognitive science, computer science education and linguistics to explore design construction extension maintenance validation and application of knowledge. Responding to our call for papers we received 38 submissions from a variety of research areas.

Each paper was reviewed by three Program Committee members. Since we were aiming at an interdisciplinary conference covering a wide range of topics concerning large scale knowledge resources LKR each paper was assigned a reviewer from a topic area outside the main thrust of the paper. This reviewer was asked to assess whether the authors described the motivation and importance of their work in a comprehensible manner even for readers in other research areas. Following a rigorous reviewing process we accepted 14 regular papers and 12 poster papers.

Learning by Effective Utilization of Technologies: Facilitating Intercultural

Understanding R. Mizoguchi, P. Dillenbourg, Z. Zhu, 2006-11-15 A major theme of this book is the use of computers for supporting collaborative learning. This is not surprising since computer supported collaborative learning has become both a widespread educational practice and a main domain of research. Moreover collaborative learning has deep roots in Asian educational traditions. Given the large number of researchers within this field its scope has become very broad. Under this umbrella one finds a variety of more specific topics such as interaction analysis, collaboration scripts e.g. the Jigsaw script, communities of practice, sociocognitive conflict resolution, cognitive apprenticeship, various tools for argumentation, online discussion or collaborative drawing tools, whiteboards, collaborative writing and the role of facilitators. Most research work on collaborative learning focuses on interactions rather than on the contents of environments which had been the focus in the previous decades of learning technology research. However there is no reason to focus on one aspect to the detriment of the other. The editors are pleased that the selected papers also cover multiple issues related to the storage, representation and retrieval of knowledge, ontologies for learning environments and the semantic web, knowledge bases and data mining, meta data and content management systems and so forth. This publication also reveals a growing interest for non verbal educational material namely pictures and video materials which are already central to new popular web based applications. This book includes contributions that bridge both research tracks the one focusing on interactions and the other on contents, the pedagogical use of digital portfolios both for promoting individual reflections and for scaffolding group interactions.

Frameworks of IT Prosumption for Business Development Pa?kowska, Ma?gorzata, 2013-07-31 Separation distinction between the roles of the producer and consumer has become blurred with the development of new science and technologies enabling the emergence of the prosumer or the active consumer. In the IT sector the role of the end user has broadened to include innovation and development practices in addition to the traditional consumer activities As such businesses must create opportunities for product development and innovation by the consumers Frameworks of IT Prosumption for Business Development investigates the latest empirical research on active use of information technology resources enabling users with new methodologies tools and opportunities to impact application development processes The objective of this reference book is to mobilize end users to take a more active role in their own IT solutions which will in turn assist in the development of best practices in IT at all levels

Information and Communication Technologies and Real-Life Learning Tom J. van Weert, Arthur Tatnall, 2006-01-28 Information and Communication Technologies in Real Life Learning presents the results of an International Federation for Information Processing IFIP working conference held December 2004 in Melbourne Australia The working conference was organized by IFIP Working Group 3 2 Informatics and ICT in Higher Education and IFIP Working Group 3 4 Professional and Vocational Education in Information Technology The papers in this book present a cross section of issues in real life learning in which Information and Communication Technology ICT plays an important role Some of the issues covered include education models for real life learning enabled by ICT effective organization of a real life learning environment the changing role of the student the changing role of educational institutions and their relationship with business and industry the changing role of teachers and their use of ICT and management of ICT rich education change
