When He moves among us all that He does all of His mercy and all of His love and the pen of the writer could write everyday even this world could never contain how I've been blessed Cho.

The warmth in winter the flowers in spring the laughter in summer and the changing of leaves the food on my table a good place to sleep clothes on my back and shoes on my feet I have been blessed

2.
I have been blessed God's so good to me precious are His thoughts of you and me no way I could count them there's not enough time so I'll just thank Him for being so kind God has been good so good
I have been blessed

3.
Arms that will raise a voice that can talk hands that can touch and legs that can walk ears that can listen eyes that can see oh I've got to praise Him as long as I breathe
I have been blessed

4.
A father and mother who nurtured and raised a brother and sister memories made our pastor to lead us the altar to pray stripes that can heal the blood that can save I have been blessed

5.
We live in a country the greatest on earth our flag stands for freedom and what it is worth she stands in the harbor Miss Liberty calls all have gave some but some have gave all for me to be blessed

6.
He's my shoulder to lean on when I am down the rock where He leads me when I'm overwhelmed the place where He hides me under His wings He's not just a song He's the reason I sing
I have been blessed

Competitive Spirits R. Andrew Chesnut, 2003-08-07 For over four centuries the Catholic Church enjoyed a religious monopoly in Latin America in which potential rivals were repressed or outlawed Latin Americans were born Catholic and the only real choice they had was whether to actively practice the faith Taking advantage of the legal disestablishment of the Catholic Church between the late 1800s and the early 1900s Pentecostals almost single handedly built a new pluralist religious economy By the 1950s many Latin Americans were free to choose from among the hundreds of available religious products a dizzying array of religious options that range from the African Brazilian religion of Umbanda to the New Age group known as the Vegetable Union R Andrew Chesnut shows how the development of religious pluralism over the past half century has radically transformed the spiritual economy of Latin America In order to thrive in this new religious economy says Chesnut Latin American spiritual firms must develop an attractive product and know how to market it to popular consumers Three religious groups he demonstrates have proven to be the most skilled competitors in the new unregulated religious economy Protestant Pentecostalism the Catholic Charismatic Renewal and African diaspora religions such as Brazilian Candomble and Haitian Vodou have emerged as the most profitable religious producers Chesnut explores the general effects of a free market such as introduction of consumer taste and product specialization and shows how they have played out in the Latin American context He notes for example that women make up the majority of the religious consumer market and explores how the three groups have developed to satisfy women s tastes and preferences Moving beyond the Pentecostal boom and the rise and fall of liberation theology Chesnut provides a fascinating portrait of the Latin American religious landscape

Words Made Flesh Caroline Egan, 2025-11-25 Examines the role of the body in Indigenous language religious texts from colonial Latin America Words Made Flesh examines the role played by corporeality in a series of missionary linguistic and poetic projects from Brazil Peru and Mexico in early colonial Latin America Caroline Egan analyzes how works produced in Indigenous languages for the purpose of evangelization were shaped by and in turn transformed native understandings of embodiment Egan follows the trajectories of specific understudied words in the colonial corpus tracing their usage through grammars dictionaries doctrinal translations and hymns in Tupi Quechua and Nahuatl These words however might not be the first to come to mind when thinking about missionary projects in the colonial world such as God and trinity heaven and hell angel and demon Instead the book examines words like the Tupi uk to kill and man to die the Quechua sunqu now often translated as heart and the Nahuatl ch ca to weep cu ca to sing and ihuinti to get drunk With complementary emphases on regional specificity and comparative ramifications Words Made Flesh argues that the changing fortunes of these words speak to significant areas of dialogue and debate between Indigenous communities and missionary writers in the late sixteenth century

Jamaica Journal, 2000 Guarded by Two Jaguars Eric Hoenes del Pinal, 2023-03-14 In communities in and around Cobán Guatemala a small but steadily growing number of members of the Q'eqchi' Maya Roman Catholic parish of San Felipe began self identifying as members of the Catholic Charismatic Renewal Their communities dramatically split as mainstream and charismatic Catholic parishioners who had been co congregants came to view each other as religiously distinct and problematic others In Guarded by Two Jaguars Eric Hoenes del Pinal tells the story of this dramatic split and in so doing addresses the role that language and gesture have played in the construction of religious identity Drawing on a range of methods from linguistic and cultural anthropology the author examines how the introduction of the Catholic Charismatic Renewal movement in the parish produced a series of debates between parishioners that illustrate the fundamentally polyvocal nature of Catholic Christianity This work examines how intergroup differences are produced through dialogue contestation and critique It shows how people's religious affiliations are articulated not in isolation but through interaction with each other Although members of these two congregations are otherwise socially similar their distinct interpretations of how to be a good Catholic led them to adopt significantly different norms of verbal and nonverbal communication These differences became the idiom through which the two groups contested the meaning of being Catholic and Indigenous in contemporary Guatemala addressing larger questions about social and religious change
