- a. assuming that the observed cases in this case study (the 16,814 cases) were representative of all appropriate
- b. assume otherwise (comment this question, assuming that physicians in this study were not the same as those physicians elsewhere (why would there be differences in treatment?)
- c. for better, assume that each physician gave equal care to all of the cases (the thousands that were sent to doctors) (comment this question, assuming appropriate attention to cases that are complicated and the role of these doctors with the cases that are not)
