

2024 Scaling Report

VCAA provides VTAC with study scores (relative positions). These study scores are scaled in order to calculate scaled aggregates and Australian Tertiary Admission Ranks (ATARs). Candidates are in the 2024 scaling population if, excluding small studies, they have obtained at least one VCAA study score in 2024, at least four in total, at least one in an English study (English, English as an Additional Language, English Language or Literature), but do not already have an ATAR. The scaling population is therefore a subset of the entire population. The means and standard deviations below pertain to the scaling population in 2024.

The following table gives the 2024 scaled means and standard deviations as well as the VTAC scaled study scores (rounded to the nearest integer) corresponding to the study scores of 20, 25, 30, 35, 40, 45 and 50. The formal aggregation process uses VTAC scaled study scores to two decimal places, but the following information gives an indication of how scaling adjusts scores in the various studies.

Aspiration and Anxiety Christina Ho, 2020-06-02 The children of Asian migrants are often perceived to be perfect students ambitious studious and compliant They are remarkably successful routinely outperforming other students in exams dominating selective school intakes and disproportionately winning places at prestigious universities While their hard work and success have been praised their achievements have ignited fierce debates about whether their migrant parents are pushing too hard or whether they ought to be lauded for their commitment to education Critics see a dark side symbolised by the tiger mother who is obsessed with producing overachieving dragon children What is often missing in these debates is an understanding of what drives Asian migrant parents approaches to education This book explores how aspirations for their children s future reinforce their anxieties about being newcomers in an unequal society

Credential Market Quentin Maire, 2021-09-22 This book makes an original contribution to credential sociology by analysing how high school certificates become and remain valuable in a context of mass high school participation i e credentialism Building on a detailed analysis of the International Baccalaureate IB Diploma a senior secondary school certificate offered in over 150 countries Quentin Maire argues that the advent of new private credentials can be understood as a phenomenon of credential stratification in a context of intensified academic competition Using original data on high school credentials in Australia and internationally the author makes a strong case for certificates to be studied relationally by locating them in the credentialing structures in which they are inserted He systematically applies the comparative method to explain the role of the curriculum family resources school segregation and higher education selection in creating a credential hierarchy His robust combination of theoretical construction and detailed empirical work allows him to offer new insights into social inequality in education systems credential theory and the IB Diploma
