

C182 Study Guide

1. System Administrator:

- Most common role in IT
- Maintains the operating system of a computer system
- Must understand the operating system well enough to configure the software appropriately for the given organization, create accounts, and safeguard the system from outside attack
- Requires installing new hardware and troubleshooting existing hardware, plus installing device driver software whenever new hardware is added
- Will often have to write their own shell scripts, a program designed to be run by a Unix command-line interpreter (used by an administrator to automate a process), to accomplish both simple and complex tasks.
- Common tasks of a system administrator include:
 - Account management
 - Password management
 - File protection management
 - Security
 - Installing and configuring new hardware and software

2. Network Administrator:

- Separate from the system administrator
- In charge of all aspects of the computer network
- Duties include physically laying down cable, making connections, troubleshooting the network (physical and software), and working with the network hardware (routers and switches, for example).
- Has to configure the individual machines to be able to communicate via the network
- Like the system administrator, the network administrator edits configuration files, installs software and patches (related to the network), etc.

3. Website Administrator:

- Also known as a webmaster, but more precisely referred to as a web server administrator
- Responsible for maintaining websites, which differs from the development of websites
 - Must install, configure, maintain, secure, and troubleshoot the web server
- Will have to work with the system administrator on some aspects of installation and configuration

Resources in Education, 1998 Research Anthology on Preparing School Administrators to Lead Quality Education Programs Management Association, Information Resources, 2020-07-24 The delivery of quality education to students relies heavily on the actions of an institution's administrative staff. Effective leadership strategies allow for the continued progress of modern educational initiatives. It is crucial to investigate how effective administrators lead their organizations in challenging and difficult times and promote the accomplishments of their organization. Research Anthology on Preparing School Administrators to Lead Quality Education Programs is a vital reference source that offers theoretical and pedagogical research concerning the management of educational systems on both the national and international scale. It also explores academic administration as well as administrative effectiveness in achieving organizational goals. Highlighting a range of topics such as strategic planning, human resources, and school culture, this multi-volume book is ideally designed for educators, administrators, principals, superintendents, board members, researchers, academicians, policymakers, and students.

Assessment, Bureaucracy, and Consolidation Donald Parkerson, Jo Ann Parkerson, 2015-06-09 American education has changed dramatically over the last century. The small, locally controlled school supported by a concerned educational village fostered learning personal accountability patriotism and economic growth for a young nation Today however American schools are typically large consolidated bureaucratic organizations controlled by state and or municipal governments The administration of these schools is hierarchical and corporate in form while its curriculum is oriented toward the needs of the business community Assessment through standardized testing moreover has become the cornerstone of American education Assessment Bureaucracy and Consolidation TheIssues Facing Schools Today examines this remarkable transformation in the form and function of education and assesses the problems and possibilities for the future of schools and our nation Additional key features of this book include A clear comprehensive history of the modern American school from the nineteenth century to the present and its impact on teachers students parents and the community at large An Explanation of the impact of bureaucratic organization and the movement toward large schools Critiques of past reform experiments in public education A Placement of the contemporary standardized assessment movement in historical context A reevaluation of the relationship between education and business An evaluation of returning education to locally controlled schools reconnecting educational practitioners with the educational village
