Capacity Building for Maritime Security Christian Bueger,Timothy Edmunds,Robert McCabe,2020-10-09 This book studies recent attempts to restructure maritime security sectors through capacity building It innovates both theoretically and empirically It proposes a new framework for understanding maritime capacity building drawing on work in peacebuilding and security sector reform The framework is then applied across empirical case studies from the Western Indian Ocean WIO region written by scholars from the Global South The WIO region is a paradigmatic case to study maritime security and capacity building in action Countries in the region face the full gamut of maritime security challenges while their indigenous capacities to deal with these are often weak In consequence the region functions as an engine of innovation for maritime capacity building more widely The lessons and best practices from the region have importance consequences for addressing maritime security across the globe

The Collective Naval Defence of Empire, 1900-1940 Nicholas Tracy,2020-11-26 This collection of high policy documents charts Britain s difficulties in defending the Empire in a time of imperial overstretch The 20th century saw the rise of several great maritime and military powers and the relative decline of British strength which created major defence problems for the British Empire Various solutions were attempted such as ententes with France and Russia the settling of differences with the USA and an alliance with Japan These sufficed until after World War I when the Empire gained several new territorial responsibilities all to be defended on a declining economic base The dominions were encouraged to pay for their own navies although the Admiralty wished to assume control of them The increasing threat from Japan made Australia New Zealand and other Asian colonies nervous and the promised main fleet to Singapore became less and less likely as the 1930s wore on

United States Navy Medical Newsletter ,1977 African Navies Timothy Stapleton,2022-11-11 This edited volume focuses on aspects of the understudied theme of African sea power including African navies and the engagement of non African navies with the continent Africa possesses 48 000 kilometers of coastline comprising 38 out of 54 of the continent s states and several strategic choke points for international shipping such as the Suez Canal the Gulf of Aden and the Cape of Good Hope Nevertheless post colonial Africa s small navies and their relations with the navies of external powers have not received much scholarly attention Focusing on Sub Saharan Africa this collection attempts to address this neglect and stimulate further research by offering original chapters related to historical and contemporary themes around Africa s navies The historical chapters cover the origin of the Tanzanian Ethiopian Nigerian and Ghana navies during the era of decolonization and the Cold War the asymmetrical naval campaign fought during the

Nigerian Civil War 1967 70 and the activities of the Soviet Navy in supporting African states and movements fighting lingering colonialism and white supremacy during the 1970s and 1980s Focusing on the contemporary situation other chapters discuss the engagement of the Indian Navy with Africa the potential role of the Angolan and Mozambican navies in the Southern African Development Community SADC the transformation and development of the post apartheid South African Navy and the challenges and capabilities of African navies in the early twenty first century The book concludes by discussing the question of whether African coastal countries need navies This book will be of much interest to students of naval power strategic studies African politics and International Relations Chapters 1 2 6 and 8 of this book are available for free in Open Access at www.taylorfrancis.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4 0 license
