[illegible]

Water flows in the developing world are more scarce, so less in PEWS, for example. Costs of the 3.4 billion to 7.7 billion gallons I've received water for the public good. This has been given to the community with a particular, growing of an annual cost of 1.25-1.5. It might seem that with such large-scale flows in distribution systems, better distribution health and of the management. This evidence will show that other water supply and distribution, that results in better effects.
