Photography in Africa Richard Vokes, 2012 Gives an ethnographic account of the complexities of the use of photography in Africa both historically and in contemporary practice This collection of studies in African photography examines through a series of empirically rich historical and ethnographic cases the variety of ways in which photographs are produced circulated and engaged across a range of social contexts In so doing it elucidates the distinctive characteristics of African photographic practices and cultures vis vis those of other forms of vernacular photography worldwide In addition these studies develop a reflexive turn examining the history of academic engagement with these African photographic cultures and reflecting on the distinctive qualities of the ethnographic method as a means for studying such phenomena The volume critically engages current debates in African photography and visual anthropology First it extends our understanding of the variety of ways in which both colonial and post colonial states in Africa have used photography as a means for establishing and projecting their authority Second it moves discussion of African photography away from an exclusive focus on the role of the studio and looks at the circulations through which the studio's products the photographs themselves later pass as artefacts of material culture Last it makes an important contribution to our understanding of the relationship between photography and ethnographic research methods as these have been employed in Africa RICHARD VOKES is Senior Lecturer in Anthropology and Development Studies at the University of Adelaide Australia and author of Ghosts of Kanungu Photography as Power Marco Andreani, Nicoletta Pazzaglia, 2019-01-14 Enriched with an introduction by David Forgacs this book explores the complex relationship between photography and power in its various manifestations in Italian history throughout the nineteenth twentieth and twenty first centuries How did the Italian state employ the medium of photography as an instrument of dominance In which ways has photography been used as a critical medium to resist hegemonic discourses Taking into account published and unpublished images from professional photographers such as Letizia Battaglia Tano D Amico and Mario Cresci and non professional photographers artists photo reporters and war soldiers as well as social scientists and criminologists such as Cesare Lombroso this book unfolds the operations of power that lay behind the apparent objectivity of the photographic frame Some essays in this volume discuss the use of photography in national and colonial discourses as well as its employment in constructing images of power from war propaganda and fascism to public personas like Benito Mussolini and Silvio Berlusconi Other contributions examine the ways in which the medium has been employed to create counter hegemonic discourses from the Resistance and the years of lead up to the contemporary times Among the contributors to this volume are major international scholars on Italian photography such as Gabriele D Autilia Nicoletta Leonardi and Pasquale Verdicchio Virtual Reality Photography Scott Highton, 2010 A reference book on the art and techniques of virtual reality photography by one of the pioneers in the field Scott Highton The book includes sections on Photography Basics Panoramic VR Imaging Object VR Imaging and Business Practices Intended audience includes both professional and amateur photographers as well as multimedia authors and designers Photography and Making Bedouin Histories in the Naqab, 1906-2013 Emilie Le Febvre, 2023-12-22 Introducing a novel anthropological study of photography in the Middle East Emilie Le Febvre takes us to the Naqab Desert where Bedouin use photographs to make and respond to their own histories She argues Bedouin presentations of the past are selective but increasingly reliant on archival documents such as photographs which spokespersons treat as evidence of their local histories amid escalating tensions in Israel These practices shape Bedouin visual historicity that is the diverse ways people produce their pasts in the present with images This book charts these processes through the afterlives of six photographs c 1906 2013 as they circulate between the Naqab s entangled visual economies a transregional landscape organised by cultural ideals of proximity and assemblages of Bedouin iconography Le Febvre illustrates how representational contentions associated with tribal civic and Palestinian Israeli politics influence how images do history work in this society She concludes Bedouin visual historicity is defined by acts of persuasion during which photographs authenticate alternating history projects Here Bedouin value photographs not because they evidence singular narratives of the past Rather the knowledges inscribed by photography are multifarious as they support diverse constructions of history and society with which members mediate a wide range of relationships in southern Israel This book bridges studies of anthropology photography Palestinian Israeli politics and Bedouin Middle East history     The Scientific Photographer ,
