Subtraction Acrostic Poem:

The Inscription of Things Thomas Kelly, 2023-11-14 Why would an inkstone have a poem inscribed on it Early modern Chinese writers did not limit themselves to working with brushes and ink and their texts were not confined to woodblock printed books or the boundaries of the paper page Poets carved lines of verse onto cups ladles animal horns seashells walking sticks boxes fans daggers teapots and musical instruments Calligraphers left messages on the implements ordinarily used for writing on paper These inscriptions terse compositions in verse or epigrammatic prose relate in complex ways to the objects on which they are written Thomas Kelly develops a new account of the relationship between Chinese literature and material culture by examining inscribed objects from the late Ming and early to mid Qing dynasties He considers how the literary qualities of inscriptions interact with the visual and physical properties of the things that bear them Kelly argues that inscribing an object became a means for authors to grapple with the materiality and technologies of writing Facing profound social upheavals from volatility in the marketplace to the violence of dynastic transition writers turned to inscriptions to reflect on their investments in and dependence on the permanence of the written word Shedding new light on cultures of writing in early modern China The Inscription of Things broadens understandings of the links between the literary and the material

Wax Tablets of the Mind Jocelyn Penny Small, 2003-09-02 In this volume the author argues that literacy is a complex combination of various skills not just the ability to read and write the technology of writing the encoding and decoding of text symbols the interpretation of meaning the retrieval and display systems which organize how meaning is stored and memory The book explores the relationship between literacy orality and memory in classical antiquity not only from the point of view of antiquity but also from that of modern cognitive psychology It examines the contemporary as well as the ancient debate about how the writing tools we possess interact and affect the product why they should do so and how the tasks required of memory change and develop with literacy's increasing output and evoking technologies

Creatures of the Sea Gr. 2-4 , Mathematics in Twentieth-Century Literature and Art Robert Tubbs, 2014-07-15 Chips away at the notion of an accidental relationship between math and art and literature During the twentieth century many artists and writers turned to abstract mathematical ideas to help them realize their aesthetic ambitions Man Ray Marcel Duchamp and perhaps most famously Piet Mondrian used principles of mathematics in their work Was it mere coincidence or were these artists simply following their instincts which in turn were ruled by mathematical underpinnings such as optimal solutions for filling a space If math exists within visual art can it be found within literary pursuits In short just what is the relationship between mathematics and the creative arts In this provocative original exploration of mathematical ideas in art and literature Robert Tubbs argues that the links are much stronger than previously imagined and exceed both coincidence and commonality of purpose Not only does he argue that mathematical ideas guided the aesthetic visions of many twentieth century artists and writers Tubbs further asserts that artists and writers used math in their creative processes even though they seemed to have no affinity for mathematical thinking In the end Tubbs makes the case that art can be better appreciated when the math that inspired it is better understood An insightful tour of the great masters of the last century and an argument that challenges long held paradigms Mathematics in Twentieth Century Literature and Art will appeal to mathematicians humanists and artists as well as instructors teaching the connections among math literature and art

The Question of Meter in Biblical Hebrew Poetry Donald R. Vance, 2001 In a revision of his 1997

doctoral thesis for the Iliff School of Theology Vance biblical languages and literature Oral Roberts U contributes to the long debate about the meter of poetry in the Bible and what if any relationship it has to classical Hebrew poetry as it is found in the Hebrew Bible He argues that none of the metrical theories proposed has been thoroughly tested against the entire corpus of Hebrew poetic texts relying instead on sampling and extrapolation He reviews those theories beginning with that of Philo of Alexandria by categories such as quantitative accentual and syllabic Then he analyzes the meter of selected texts particularly from Lamentations and Psalms He indexes only ancient and modern authors Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Obsessive Images Joseph Warren Beach,1960 Obsessive Images was first published in 1960 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions As Mark Schorer comments this is the last unfinished work of a distinguished well loved critic poet and professor After the death of Joseph Warren Beach his colleague and friend William Van O Connor professor of English at the University of Minnesota prepared the unfinished manuscript of this work for publication and wrote the foreword The work is primarily a study of certain words phrases and images that turn up with unusual frequency in modern American poetry especially that of the decades of the 1930 s and 1940 s and which are used in unusual senses to carry special symbolisms or to imply peculiar philosophical attitudes Since the study is concerned with such recurring images and themes many poets of distinction in whose work they are not to be found are left out but Professor Beach also discusses the significance of the absence of these poets Students and critics will gain insight through this work into the characteristic attitudes of a generation of poets The book is moreover a delight to read reflecting as it does Mr Beach s own love for the study of poetry As Professor O Connor points out the tone is much more personal than that of Mr Beach s other books
