At Home with the Holocaust Lucas F. W. Wilson, 2025-03-11 At Home with the Holocaust examines the relationship between intergenerational trauma and domestic space focusing on how Holocaust survivors' homes became extensions of their traumatized psyches that their children inhabited Analyzing second and third generation Holocaust literature such as Art Spiegelman's Maus Jonathan Safran Foer's Everything Is Illuminated Sonia Pilcer's The Holocaust Kid and Elizabeth Rosner's The Speed of Light as well as oral histories of children of survivors Lucas F W Wilson's study reveals how the material conditions of survivor family homes along with household practices and belongings rendered these homes as spaces of traumatic transference As survivors' traumas became imbued in the very space of the domestic their homes functioned as material archives of their Holocaust pasts creating environments that not uncommonly second handedly wounded their children As survivor family homes were imaginatively transformed by survivors' children into the sites of their parents' traumas like concentration camps and ghettos their homes catalyzed the transmission of these traumas

The Erotic Whitman Vivian R. Pollak, 2000-08-04 Absorbing and incisive The Erotic Whitman makes an important contribution not only to our understanding of the dynamics of nineteenth century literary history but also more generally to American studies and gender studies in particular to the increasingly lively study of the subject now called masculinities Sandra Gilbert author of Wrongful Death A Medical Tragedy and with Susan Gubar of The Madwoman in the Attic The Erotic Whitman moves skillfully between Whitman's use of the sexualized body and his dreams for the body politic drawing on Whitman's biography to provide newly informed illuminating readings of his work This work should place Pollak solidly alongside other elite Whitman scholars such as Michael Moon M Jimmie Killingsworth and Betsy Erkkila Emory Elliott Distinguished Professor of English University of California Riverside This is an incisive venturesome carefully argued contribution to an often discussed but still insufficiently understood dimension of Whitman's life writing and significance its biographical historical bases its aesthetics its cultural political implications One may at certain points dispute but at no point fail to respect Pollak's thoughtful unfolding of her subject from Whitman's early family life to the myth of democratic maternalism in his later poetry Lawrence Buell author of The Environmental Imagination Thoreau Nature Writing and the Formation of American Culture This is an imaginative and sensitive book about the profoundly personal sources of Whitman's poetry in his relations with his family and his male lovers Through illuminating readings of Whitman's early fiction his various editions of Leaves of Grass and Democratic Vistas Pollak argues that Whitman's democratic and homoerotic dream vision is frequently at odds with the realities of his life as son brother and lover Pollak's scholarship is impressive and massive and she brings new insights to bear on many dimensions of Whitman's life and writing She is particularly attentive to the place and plight of women in Whitman's work Her book will be widely read and appreciated especially by Whitman scholars and others interested in the psychosexual and biographical sources of art Betsy Erkkila author of Whitman the Political Poet
