Love Letters and the Romantic Novel during the Napoleonic Wars Sharon Worley,2017-01-06 Love letters during the Napoleonic wars were largely framed by concepts of love which were promoted through novels and philosophy The standard texts so to speak which were written by major authors who inherited this Enlightenment bearing responded to the emerging concepts of love found in novels and philosophical essays Love among this Napoleonic coterie is unique because it demonstrates the reciprocal relationship between the love letter and the romantic novel Germaine de Sta l Juiette R camier Chateaubriand Benjamin Constant Lady Emma Hamilton Napoleon Bonaparte and his brother Lucien Bonaparte were the authors and recipients of some of the most passionate love letters of this period They were also avid readers of the newly emerging genre of the romantic novel and many of them were also authors of such works where they projected their personal romances onto the characterization of their fictional heroes and heroines In addition these authors had lived through the recent French Revolution and the Terror Imprisoned during the Revolution or branded as emigr s upon their return to Paris their mature adult lives were spent in the shadows of the Napoleonic wars in which they shifted political loyalties as the specter of Napoleon's powers grew from First Consul to Emperor of Europe The looming threat of war ignited the depths of their passions and inspired their intellectual analysis of love happiness and suicide Their evolving concept of love was a romantic all consuming passion which gripped the lovers in fatal embraces This book's analysis of their love letters and romantic novels reveals the emerging political landscape of the period through extended metaphors of love and patriotism

The English Novel, Vol I Richard W. F. Kroll,2014-07-21 The English Novel Volume I 1700 to Fielding collects a series of previously published essays on the early eighteenth century novel in a single volume reflecting the proliferation of theoretical approaches since the 1970s The novel has been the object of some of the most exciting and important critical speculations and the eighteenth century novel has been at the centre of new approaches both to the novel and to the period between 1700 and 1750 Richard Kroll s introduction seeks to frame the contributions by reference to the most significant critical discussions These include the question of whether and how we can talk about the rise of the novel the vexed question of what might constitute a novel the relationship between the novel and possibly competing genres such as history or the romance the relationship between early male writers like Defoe and popular novels by women in the early eighteenth century the general ideological role played by novels relative to eighteenth century culture are they means of ideological conscription or liberation poststructuralist analyses of identity and gender and the emergence of sentimental and domestic codes after Richardson Since the modern European novel is often thought to have been formed in this period these debates have clear implications for students of the novel in general as well as for those interested in the early enlightenment Headnotes place each essay within the map of these wider concerns and the volume offers a useful further reading list Taken as a whole this collection encapsulates the state of criticism at the present moment

Ming Erotic Novellas Richard G Wang, 2011-03-13

Richard Wang's Ming Erotic Novellas is path breaking in its attention to a virtually ignored body of literature that certainly influenced the writing of the Jin Ping Mei the Sanyan vernacular stories and most likely Li Yu s fiction Compared to other titles in the field this is the first scholarly monograph in any language to contextualize the erotic novellas of late imperial China Moreover existing studies in this area have tended to concentrate on a limited number of works of Chinese erotic fiction or have only brushed up against these works tangentially during more general discussion of Ming and Qing literature Ming Erotic Novellas adopts a provocative approach to fiction moving beyond the traditional textual analyses of gender politics and the ging cult and examining these erotic novellas as a new genre within the contexts of print culture readership consumption patterns as well as religious dimensions Ming Erotic Novellas focuses on a group of mid to late Ming literary wenyan novellas which are all stories of erotic romance. These novellas include a profusion of poems mixed with prose narratives that are characterized by simple literary Chinese with a tendency toward the vernacular Their plots are complex with some running 20 000 characters or more allowing for nuanced character development rich dialogue and psychological description Circulated widely during the Ming the novellas had a significant impact on later erotic and scholarbeauty caizi jiaren novels This particular group of novellas was of great importance in the development of Chinese fiction functioning as a transitional link between the classical tale to the vernacular novel By approaching these works through the lens of a cultural study Wang is able to explore the social functions of the novellas as well as their significance in the development of Chinese The Epistolary Novel Godfrey Frank Singer, 2016-11-11 This book is a volume in the fiction in the Ming cultural context Penn Press Anniversary Collection To mark its 125th anniversary in 2015 the University of Pennsylvania Press rereleased more than 1 100 titles from Penn Press s distinguished backlist from 1899 1999 that had fallen out of print Spanning an entire century the Anniversary Collection offers peer reviewed scholarship in a wide range of subject areas Katharine Ann Jensen, 1995 In this compelling new addition to Sandra M Gilbert's Ad Feminam Women and Literature series Katharine Ann Jensen examines the cultural form of the love letter and its intersection with the novel in the works of seventeenth and eighteenth century French women writers Traditionally French literary history has focused on eighteenth century male writers Rousseau and Laclos as the master artists of the epistolary novel That emphasis on one century one gender and one epistolary form the novel obscures the history of women s writing in France In the seventeenth century the love letter was viewed as a feminine literary form in which a woman's passionate and emotional nature found its logical expression Such emotional writing was criticized for its structural and grammatical imperfections rendering it in the eyes of men invalid as true literary material However men often wrote under female pseudonyms composing letters of seduction and betrayal that were published as true accounts Jensen contends that men disquised their words as women s words because writing as women allowed them to experiment with narrative fiction at a time when men s writing was rigidly defined by classical rhetoric She further argues that men were able to moderate women s linguistic strengths by limiting their epistolary expertise to a social rather than literary practice thereby maintaining literature as an almost exclusively male province Jensen argues for a tradition of women s writing by examining both the love letters and novels of such writers as Desjardins Ferrand Graffigny Riccoboni and Lespinasse In her novel Les D sordres de l amour Desjardins Madame de Villedieu creates an ambitious letter writing heroine Through an analysis of the textual similarities between the heroine s letters and Desjardins s personal love letters to her unfaithful lover Jensen concludes that Desjardins rewrites her own unfortunate epistolary relationship Jensen draws similar conclusions from an examination of the personal letters of Ferrand in relation to her novel Histoire des amours de Cl ante et de B lise In order to chart the legacy of seventeenth century feminine epistolarity Jensen goes on to consider the works of eighteenth century French women writers Like Desjardins's novel Graffigny's Lettres d une P ruvienne and Riccoboni s Lettres de Mistress Fanni Butlerd present letter writing heroines who overturn the conventions of seduction and betrayal in order to claim their independence and desire to write This desire correlates to Graffigny's and Riccoboni's own writing ambitions thereby asserting the ability of women to write self consciously rather than emotionally and to create narrative fiction rather than cyclical letters of love and suffering Jensen demonstrates that these assertions constitute a significant break with seventeenth century ideas about feminine letter writing that inextricably bind women to a supposedly natural language of sexual and literary disempowerment This important and insightful book will prove a valuable addition to the libraries of scholars in French seventeenth and eighteenth century studies feminist studies epistolary fiction and novel and narrative studies NEP British American And Indian Popular Fiction 5th Sem Amit Ganguly Jay Bansal, 2024-01-15 1 Literary Terms 2 Earlier Trends in Fiction 3 Trends in 20th and 21st Century Fiction British Fiction 4 Charles Dickens A Tale of Two Cities 5 Jane Austen Pride and Prejudice American Fiction 6 Harper Lee To Kill a Mockingbird 7 Ernest Hemingway The Old Man and the Sea Indian Popular Fiction 8 Arvind Adiga The White Tiger 9 Ancient Love Letters Anna Tiziana Drago, Owen Hodkinson, 2023-01-30 This volume Sudha Murthy Dollar Bahu investigates the form of love letters and erotic letters in Greek and Latin up to the 7th Century CE encompassing both literary and documentary letters the latter inscribed and on papyrus and prose and poetry The potential for and utility of treating this large and diverse corpus as a genre is examined To this end approaches from ancient literary criticism and modern theory of genre are made mutual influences between the documentary and the literary form are sought and origins in proto epistolary poetic texts are examined In order to examine the boundaries of a form limit cases which might have less claim to the label love letter are compared with more clear cut examples A series of case studies focuses on individual letters and letter collections Some case studies situate their subjects within the history and literary evolution of the love letter using both intertextuality and comparative approaches others placing them in their cultural and historical contexts particularly uncovering the contribution of epistolarity to erotic discourse and to the history of sexuality and gender in diverse eras and locations within Classical to Late Antiquity Novel Minds R. The Novel in Letters Natascha Würzbach, 2023-07-28 First published in 1969 The Novel in Letters is a collection of nine novels in letters representative of certain tendencies in narrative technique and subject matter between 1678 and 1740 The editor shows how the narrative attitude of the letter writer his humorous or sentimental viewpoint give the events the flavour of personal experience Motifs such as the arranged betrothal or the gradual decline of an innocent girl to a common whore thus become more immediate The increasing importance of the narrator the use of the point of view technique sentimental analysis and a new interest in characterisation through direct or indirect self revelation all mark the transition from the romance to the realistic novel In the introduction the editor traces the structure of the epistolary novel back to the sub literary forms which it most resembles and illustrates how the novel is rooted in journalism and other forms of non literary writing such as the genuine letter the diary autobiography manuals and didactic literature There is also an examination of the problem of differentiating between historical reality and literary fiction This book will be of interest to students and teachers of literature The Epistolary Novel Joe Bray, 2003-08-29 The epistolary novel is a form which has been neglected in most accounts of the development of the novel This book argues that the way that the eighteenth century epistolary novel represented consciousness had a significant influence on the later novel Critics have drawn a distinction between the self at the time of writing and the self at the time at which events or emotions were experienced This book demonstrates that the tensions within consciousness are the result of a continual interaction between the two selves of the letter writer and charts the oscillation between these two selves in the epistolary novels of amongst others Aphra Behn Eliza Haywood Samuel Richardson Fanny Burney and Charlotte Smith Cultural Institutions of the Novel Deidre Lynch, William Beatty Warner, 1996 The story of the development of the novel its origin rise and increasing popularity as a narrative form in an ever expanding range of geographic and cultural sites is familiar and according to the contributors to this volume severely limited In a far reaching blend of comparative literature and transnational cultural studies this collection shifts the study of the novel away from a consideration of what makes a particular narrative a novel to a consideration of how novels function and what cultural work they perform from what novels are to what they do The essays in Cultural Institutions of the Novel find new ways to analyze how a genre notorious for its aesthetic unruliness has become institutionalized defined legitimated and equipped with a canon With a particular focus on the status of novels as
