Membering the Rhodesian Linguistic Agenda in Zimbabwe reports on a study carried out in Zimbabwe to ascertain the degree and effect of honouring the colonial linguistic agenda. The book employs an interpretivist philosophy and qualitative research approach that relies on participatory observations, interviewing purposively sampled informants, and focus group discussions involving snowball-sampled graduates. It was inspired by the Critical Language Policy Theory that considers language choice a critical determinant factor in how communities are administered politically, economically, socioculturally, and educationally. It establishes that whereas linguistic imperialism meant to serve as the lifeblood of the Southern Rhodesian colonial machine, the former coloniser ensured coloniality in Zimbabwe by presenting the English language as a sacred media in political, economic, sociocultural, and educational settings forever. The study establishes that the only way Zimbabwe and other such post-colonies could find redemption is by eradicating the sacredness of former colonisers' languages by adding value to all their languages and the indigenous knowledge systems associated with them. It also demonstrates that the bigger the delay, the more is irretrievably lost, together with custodians of the languages. This book will be informative for undergraduates, postgraduates, and researchers in linguistics, communication, sociology, anthropology, and history. It may also serve well as a resource to government researchers, politicians, and other policymakers. African

Womanhood and the Feminist Agenda Musingafi, Maxwell Constantine Chando, Hungwe, Chipso, 2024-01-16. Within academic circles there is a longstanding issue concerning the portrayal and understanding of African womanhood. Frequently these narratives are crafted by outsiders predominantly Western scholars often distorting the lived experiences and unique perspectives of African women. This has led to a skewed and sometimes negative perception of African women reinforcing stereotypes and sidelining their voices in critical discussions. Moreover this misrepresentation has real world consequences as it impacts social justice initiatives and development projects that rely on misguided narratives rather than the authentic voices of African women. African Womanhood and the Feminist Agenda emerges as an essential solution to the misrepresentation of African women. This comprehensive and meticulously researched book offers an alternative narrative one that is rooted in African perspectives and experiences. It addresses the historical cultural and political dimensions of African womanhood providing a rich and nuanced understanding of this multifaceted topic.

Violence, Peace and Everyday Modes of Justice and Healing in Post-Colonial Africa Marongwe, Ngonidzashe, Thomas Duri, Peter Fideli, 2019-02-06

Violence in its various proportions genres and manifestations has had an enduring historical legacy the world over. However works speaking to approaches aimed at mitigating violence characteristic of Africa are very limited. As some scholars have noted Africans have experienced cycles of violence since the pre colonial epoch such that overt violence has become banalised on the African continent. This has had the effect of generating complex results legacies and perennial emotional wounds that call for healing reconciliation justice and positive peace. Yet in the absence of systematic and critical approaches to the study of violence on the continent discourses on violence would hardly challenge the global matrices of violence that threaten peace and development in Africa. This volume is a contribution in the direction of such urgently needed systematic and critical approaches. It interrogates from different angles and with inspiration from a multidisciplinary perspective the contentious production and resilience of violence in Africa. It calls for a paradigm shift an alternative approach that forges and merges African customary dispute resolution and Western systems of dispute resolution towards a framework of positive peace holistic restoration sustainable development and equity. The book is a welcome contribution to students and practitioners in security studies African studies development studies global studies policy studies and political science.

Now That the Dust Has Settled Athanasio Dzadagu, 2015-03-26

In this book I try to explore why one section of the Catholic Community connected with the late Archbishop Chakaipa was overtaken by great remorse when he died while another went into jubilation. This leads me into the examination of what kind of person Archbishop Chakaipa was. I do this in the context of his family background and his priestly and Episcopal ministries. He was of the Unendoro clan with a history tracing back to Karanga roots. In his Seminary years he wrote five Shona novels which became very influential in developing Shona literacy. He earned enduring respect across the entire Zimbabwean nation for this achievement Within Church circles Archbishop Chakaipas name is synonymous with the policy of self reliance which was his signal achievement in the Archdiocese of Harare He was determined to see the development of indigenous Zimbabwean writers frustrated that the world of ideas in Zimbabwe was dominated by Eurogenic of European origin missionaries In his view such Eurogenic intellectual domination undermined Zimbabwean and African independence In the book I argue that while Archbishop Chakaipa was a hero indeed one deserving of canonisation as a Catholic saint true respect for him should also acknowledge his negative qualities Theatre from

Rhodesia to Zimbabwe Samuel Ravengai,Owen Seda,2021-07-06 The voices that are represented in this collection come from various parts of the world and express the views of practitioners and scholars who have all had first hand experience working in Zimbabwean theatre from the last days of Rhodesia to Zimbabwe The collection views the long continuum of developments in local theatre history as a case of the intrusive hegemonies that came with colonial Rhodesia as a conquest society and localised identities in the form of the persistence of indigenous and syncretic popular forms With time all these came together to constitute the makings of a contested post colony in contemporary theatre practice in Zimbabwe The primary interest of scholars who are represented here is located at the intersection of political cultural and performative discourses and the flow of Zimbabwean history The focus moreover is not only on the history of performance cultures in postcolonial Zimbabwe it extends its critical gaze to include the history of political ideas that gave rise to cultural contestation in the field of theatre and performance All Change! Marketing and Consuming the Menopause Transition

Jennifer Takhar,Anna Schneider-Kamp,Shona Bettany,2025-08-26 This book critically examines the marketisation of the menopause transition a phenomenon that in recent years has given rise to an array of products services investment opportunities and the supposed empowerment of women navigating midlife transitions As venture capitalists and well being brands converge on this new frontier in marketing opportunity our book critically assesses the issues that accompany the latest menopause market trends and evolving consumer predilections These include biomedical possibilities rebranding feminism the rise of menopause influencers celebrity and social media enabled menopause advocacy novel advertising rhetoric and corporeal representations that challenge the public s expectations of ageing women s bodies and attitudes The chapters in this book adopt interdisciplinary perspectives to reveal how sociocultural narratives influence menopause marketing strategies and suggest how they may be utilised to rethink advertising rhetoric to faithfully represent lived experiences of the menopause This book addresses an international readership of scholars and practitioners of marketing consumer behaviour advertising rhetoric life course representation gender and health studies This book will be beneficial for scholars researchers and practitioners across a range of fields including marketing consumer behaviour advertising gender studies health studies and sociology The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Journal of Marketing Management Speaking Subjects in Multilingualism Research Judith Purkarthofer,Mi-Cha

Flubacher,2022-07-22 This book discusses salient moments of multilingual encounters and brings together contributions focused on the interplay between language use by individuals and societies and language related inequalities or opportunities for speakers The chapters demonstrate how biographical and speaker centred approaches can contribute to an understanding of linguistic diversity how researchers can empirically account for lived experiences of languages and how such accounts are embedded in a larger discussion on social inequality Together the chapters make a powerful case for the importance of speaker centred methodologies in multilingual and multilingualism research The book is a rich source of theoretical and methodological reflections and will thus be a valuable resource for both experienced researchers and students beginning to explore biographical research methods
