Smart Things Mike Kuniavsky, 2010-09-14 The world of smart shoes appliances and phones is already here but the practice of user experience UX design for ubiquitous computing is still relatively new Design companies like IDEO and frogdesign are regularly asked to design products that unify software interaction device design and service design which are all the key components of ubiquitous computing UX and practicing designers need a way to tackle practical challenges of design Theory is not enough for them luckily the industry is now mature enough to have tried and tested best practices and case studies from the field Smart Things presents a problem solving approach to addressing designers needs and concentrates on process rather than technological detail to keep from being quickly outdated It pays close attention to the capabilities and limitations of the medium in question and discusses the tradeoffs and challenges of design in a commercial environment Divided into two sections frameworks and techniques the book discusses broad design methods and case studies that reflect key aspects of these approaches The book then presents a set of techniques highly valuable to a practicing designer It is intentionally not a comprehensive tutorial of user centered design as that is covered in many other books but it is a handful of techniques useful when designing ubiquitous computing user experiences In short Smart Things gives its readers both the why of this kind of design and the how in well defined chunks Tackles design of products in the post Web world where computers no longer have to be monolithic expensive general purpose devices Features broad frameworks and processes practical advice to help approach specifics and techniques for the unique design challenges Presents case studies that describe in detail how others have solved problems managed trade offs and met successes Public and Situated Displays K. O'Hara, M. Perry, E. Churchill, D. Russell, 2013-03-09 Public and situated display technologies can have an important impact on individual and social behaviour and present us with particular interesting new design considerations and challenges While there is a growing body of research exploring these design considerations and social impact this work remains somewhat disparate making it difficult to assimilate in a coherent manner This book brings together the perspectives of key researchers in the area of public and situated display technology The chapters detail research representing the social technical and interactional aspects of public and situated display technologies The underlying concern common to these chapters is how these displays can be best designed for collaboration coordination community building and mobility Presenting them together allows the reader to examine everyday display activities within the context of emerging technological possibilities Developing In-House Digital Tools in Library Spaces Costello, Laura, Powers, Meredith, 2017-08-11 Library services are dependent on technology tools in order to host distribute and control content Today many libraries are creating testing and supporting their own tools to better suit their particular communities Developing In House Digital Tools in Library Spaces is a pivotal reference source with the latest empirical research on organizational issues examples of library automation case studies of developing library products and assessment of the impact and usefulness of in house technologies Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as linked data mobile applications and web analytics this book is ideally designed for academicians researchers students and librarians seeking current research on technological products and their development in library use Intelligent Perceptual Systems Vito Roberto,1993-11-10 Perceptual processes in humans and machines investigated and simulated by means of the computational approach are the subject matter of this volume Researchers in artificial intelligence pattern recognition and psychology discuss aspects of vision speech understanding sensory motor coordination and their interplay with cognitive and behavioral functionalities The papers adopt the computational approach as the basic research paradigm Connectionist models numerical and statistical techniques symbolic logic based formalisms and hybrid representations provide the formal background to the research Some of the papers were prepared for a workshop held in Trieste Italy in October 1992 We Are All Migrants Gregory Feldman,2015-05-27 Now more than ever questions of citizenship migration and political action dominate public debate In this powerful and polemical book Gregory Feldman argues that We Are All Migrants By challenging the division between those considered citizens and migrants Feldman shows that both subjects confront disempowerment uncertainty and atomization inseparable from the rise of mass society the isolation of the laboring individual and the global proliferation of rationalized practices of security and production Yet this very atomization the ubiquitous condition of migrant hood pushes the individual to ask an existential and profoundly political question do I matter in this world Feldman argues that for particular individuals to answer this question affirmatively they must be empowered to jointly constitute the places they inhabit with others Feldman ultimately argues that to overcome the condition of migrant hood people must be empowered to constitute their own sovereign spaces from their particular standpoints Rather than base these spaces on categorical types of people these spaces emerge only as particular people present themselves to each other while questioning how they should inhabit it Catalog of Copyright Entries. Revell,Patrick Langdon,2021-03-10 Driving automation and autonomy are already upon us and the problems that were predicted twenty years ago are beginning to appear These problems include shortfalls in expected benefits equipment unreliability driver skill fade and error inducing equipment designs Designing Interaction and Interfaces for Automated Vehicles User Centred Ecological Design and Testing investigates the difficult problem of how to interface drivers with automated vehicles by offering an inclusive human centred design process that focusses on human variability and capability in interaction with interfaces This book introduces a novel method that combines both systems thinking and inclusive user centred design It models driver interaction provides design specifications concept designs and the results of studies in simulators on the test track and in road going vehicles This book is for designers of systems interfaces interactions UX Human Factors and Ergonomics researchers and practitioners involved with systems engineering and automotive academics _ In this book Prof Stanton and colleagues show how Human Factors methods can be applied to the tricky problem of interfacing human drivers with vehicle automation They have developed an approach to designing the human automation interaction for the handovers between the driver and the vehicle This approach has been tested in driving simulators and most interestingly in real vehicles on British motorways The approach called User Centred Ecological Interface Design has been validated against driver behaviour and used to support their ongoing work on vehicle automation I highly recommend this book for anyone interested or involved in designing human automation interaction in vehicles and beyond Professor Michael A Regan University of NSW Sydney AUSTRALIA Syren and Shipping
