Mathematics Curriculum in School Education

Yeping Li, Glenda Lappan, 2013-11-19 Mathematics curriculum which is often a focus in education reforms has not received extensive research attention until recently. Ongoing mathematics curriculum changes in many education systems call for further research and sharing of effective curriculum policies and practices that can help lead to the improvement of school education. This book provides a unique international perspective on diverse curriculum issues and practices in different education systems, offering a comprehensive picture of various stages along curriculum transformation from the intended to the achieved and showing how curriculum changes in various stages contribute to mathematics teaching and learning in different educational systems and cultural contexts. The book is organized to help readers learn not only from reading individual chapters but also from reading across chapters and sections to explore broader themes including: Identifying what is important in mathematics for teaching and learning in different education systems; Understanding mathematics curriculum and its changes that are valued over time in different education systems; Identifying and analyzing effective curriculum practices; Probing effective infrastructure for curriculum development and implementation. Mathematics Curriculum in School Education brings new insights into curriculum policies and practices to the international community of mathematics education with 29 chapters and four section prefaces contributed by 56 scholars from 14 different education systems. This rich collection is indispensable reading for mathematics educators, researchers, curriculum developers, and graduate students interested in learning about recent curriculum development research and practices in different education systems. It will help readers to reflect on curriculum policies and practices in their own education systems and also inspire them to identify and further explore new areas of curriculum research for improving mathematics teaching and learning. Penelope Baker, Rosemary Callingham, Tracey Muir, 2023-09-07 Primary Mathematics: Integrating Theory with Practice is a comprehensive introduction to teaching mathematics in Australian primary schools. Closely aligned with the Australian Curriculum, it provides a thorough understanding of measurement, geometry, patterns, and algebra, data and statistics, and chance and probability. The fourth edition provides support for educators in key aspects of teaching, planning, assessment, digital technologies, diversity in the classroom, and integrating mathematics content with other learning areas. It also features a new chapter on the role of education support in the mathematics classroom. Each chapter has been thoroughly revised and is complemented by classroom snapshots demonstrating practical application of theories, activities to further understanding, and reflection questions to guide learning. New in this edition are Concepts to Consider, which provide a guided explanation and further discussion of key concepts to support pre- and in-service teachers' learning and teaching of the fundamentals of mathematics. Mathematics Education in a Connected World Alan Rogerson, 2015-07-01 This volume contains the papers presented at the International Conference on Mathematics Education in a Connected World held from September 16-21, 2015 in Catania, Italy. The Conference was organized by The Mathematics Education for the Future Project, an international educational project.

founded in 1986 Asian Research in Mathematics Education Bill Atweh, Lianghuo Fan, Catherine P.

Vistro-Yu, 2023-05-17 This book focuses on the development of research in mathematics education cultures and its products from the perspective of local educators. It consists of contributions from Mainland China, Indonesia, Korea, Macao, Singapore, the Philippines, and Turkey. This book examines the development of the culture of research in the respective countries and also reviews the research conducted in the recent past in mathematics education. It takes a critical stance through identifying the various accomplishments and identifying challenges for the future of research in terms of its diversification and quality. Divided into two sections, the first section considers factors around the development of a research culture in the respective countries by focusing on the means used to develop research expertise and quality. The second section consists of overviews of the area of research and methodologies conducted in mathematics education in the various countries with the intention of highlighting the research topics conducted as well as discussing omissions of such research.

Bad Education: Debunking Myths in Education Philip Adey, Justin Dillon, 2012-10-16 This is an important and welcome book. Readers can see the faults of simplistic judgments, neglect of evidence, dismissal of researchers, and injudicious implementation. From the foreword by Paul Black: "We all know that small classes are better than large classes, that children are best taught in groups according to their ability, that some schools are much better than others, and that we should teach children according to their individual learning styles, or do we?" This book asks awkward questions about these and many other sacred cows of education. Each chapter tackles a persistent myth in education, confronting it with research evidence and teasing out any kernel of truth which may underlie the myth. Leading authors from the world of education each bring analysis and expertise to bear on their chosen subject, presenting their argument in an accessible manner based on sound scholarship. Some of the conclusions drawn in Bad Education are likely to be real eye openers for many teachers and parents who will find some of their basic assumptions about education called into question. It is also essential reading for anyone involved in educational policy making or management.

Contributors: Philip Adey, Mike Anderson, Ed Baines, Paul Black, Peter Blatchford, Margaret Brown, Guy Claxton, Frank Coffield, Justin Dillon, Julian Joe Elliott, Simon Gibbs, Jeremy Hodgen, Neil Humphrey, Annette Karmiloff-Smith, Bill Lucas, Bethan Marshall, Brian Matthews, Corinne Reid, Rob Webster, Dylan Wiliam. As education policymakers, it can be difficult to resist the comfort of our own experience and gut instincts, or the lure of populism. Bad Education is an invaluable myth buster that tears down common misconceptions and serves up hard facts in their place. This is a politically unpalatable guide to the evidence that will challenge policymakers, the press, and parents alike.

Dale Bassett, Head of Public Policy, AQA. This book should become a manifesto for change for all of those in education who want to ensure our children do not receive a Bad Education. Every Headteacher should buy a copy for every teacher, and hopefully somebody might even place a copy under the Secretary of State's Xmas tree.

Gary Phillips, Head Teacher, Lilian Bayliss School. This is a welcome and important book. It takes apart the myths which support the dearly held convictions, simplistic assumptions, prejudices, and irrational certainties.

of both politicians and teachers Admitting that education is not itself a science but demonstrating how both neuroscience and psychology have become available to inform educational policy and practice it should provide food for more careful and well informed thought to all who can influence what happens in our schools Baroness Perry of Southwark
