Theorizing the Future of Science Education Research Vaughan Prain,Brian Hand,2019-10-22 This book reviews the current state of theoretical accounts of the what and how of science learning in schools The book starts out by presenting big picture perspectives on key issues In these first chapters it focuses on the range of resources students need to acquire and refine to become successful learners It examines meaningful learner purposes and processes for doing science and structural supports to optimize cognitive engagement and success Subsequent chapters address how particular purposes resources and experiences can be conceptualized as the basis to understand current practices They also show how future learning opportunities should be designed lived and reviewed to promote student engagement learning Specific topics include insights from neuro imaging actor network theory the role of reasoning in claim making for learning in science and development of disciplinary literacies including writing and multi modal meaning making All together the book offers leads to science educators on theoretical perspectives that have yielded valuable insights into science learning In addition it proposes new agendas to guide future practices and research in this subject

Decolonisation of Higher Education in Africa Emnet Tadesse Woldegiorgis,Irina Turner,Abraham Brahima,2020-12-30 This book discusses the status and importance of decolonisation and indigenous knowledge in academic research teaching and learning programmes and beyond Taking practical lessons from a range of institutions in Africa the book argues that that local and global sciences are culturally equal and capable of synergistic complementarity and then integrates the concept of hybrid science into discourses on decolonisation The chapters argue for a cross cultural dialogue between different epistemic traditions and the accommodation Indigenous knowledge systems in higher education Bringing together critical scholars teaching and administrating academics from different disciplines the chapters provide alternative conceptual outlooks and practical case based perspectives towards decolonised study environments This book will be of interest to researchers of decolonisation postcolonial studies higher education studies political studies African studies and philosophy Affect and the Rise of Right-Wing Populism Michalinos Zembylas,2021-05-06 This book uses affect theory to analyze the rise of right wing populism in recent years and discusses the pedagogical implications for democratic education It provides examples of how affect and emotion play a crucial role in the rise and reproduction of current right wing populism The author suggests ideas about affective pedagogies for educators to use along with recognizing the risks involved to renew democratic education The chapters lay out the importance of harnessing the power of affective experiences and adopting strategic pedagogical approaches to provide affirmative practices that move beyond simply criticizing right wing populism The book consequently undermines the power of fascist and right wing tendencies in public life and educational settings without stooping to methods of indoctrination This volume is a valuable resource for researchers and policy makers in education political science and other related fields who can utilize the affective complexities involved in combatting right wing populism to their advantage Managing Human Resources in Africa Chima Mordi,Hakeem Adeniyi

Ajonbadi,Olatunji David Adekoya,Toyin Ajibade Adisa,2023-07-24 Over the decades academic literature has too often neglected the complexities and diversity of the African continent and the challenges faced by both multinational companies working across Africa and domestic African companies particularly in the field of human resources This edited collection has been compiled with the aim of developing our understanding and practice of HRM in an African context within an increasingly global work milieu Chapters focus on different African countries and are underpinned by a critical approach to HRM which goes beyond focussing on the business cases but considers the sensitivity of the national context The authors will draw on various types of research conceptual theoretical and empirical and incorporate contextual issues such as technology politics culture and economics to supplement the readers insights into the current state of human resource management in African countries By highlighting theoretical underpinnings and emphasising the practical relevance of HR issues this proposed book will offer an insightful guide for students and scholars interested in HR and management in developing economies

Professional Historians in Public Berber Bevernage,Lutz Raphael,2023-07-24 The past decades public interest in history is booming This creates new opportunities but also challenges for professional historians This book asks how historians deal with changing public demands for history and how these affect their professional practices values and identities The volume offers a great variety of detailed studies of cases where historians have applied their expertise outside the academic sphere With contributions focusing on Latin America Africa Asia the Pacific and Europe the book has a broad geographical scope Subdivided in five sections the book starts with a critical look back on some historians who broke with mainstream academic positions by combining their professional activities with an explicit political partisanship or social engagement The second section focusses on the challenges historians are confronted with when entering the court room or more generally exposing their expertise to legal frameworks The third section focuses on the effects of policy driven demands as well as direct political interventions and regulations on the historical profession A fourth section looks at the challenges and opportunities related to the rise of new digital media Finally several authors offer their view on normative standards that may help to better respond to new demands and to define role models for publicly engaged historians This book aims at historians and other academics interested in public uses of history

First, Do Less Harm Vanessa Gruben, Chelsea Cox, 2025-02-25 Readers will be able to gain a deeper understanding of how different approaches to harm reduction can create a stronger foundation for more effective policies and legislation Scholars from law and social sciences collaborate with frontline organizations as well as with individuals with lived experience to reflect diverse perspectives and transform how society addresses substance related challenges Each chapter provides unique findings drawing from examples of harm reduction strategies implemented for opioids cannabis and tobacco in Canada and beyond While harm reduction has been a central aspect of the legal and policy responses to all three substances its application has varied significantly First Do Less Harm explores how the ongoing opioid crisis emphasizes the pressing need for safe consumption sites and life saving tools like naloxone Case studies on Canada's legalization of cannabis highlight both the benefits and challenges of providing legal and regulated access to a drug The volume further examines the evolving landscape of tobacco regulations where recent innovations such as vaping offer less harmful alternatives yet raise significant concerns about youth uptake and public health Designed for policymakers health professionals academics and anyone interested in creating safer communities this collection not only presents thought provoking ideas but also provides inspiration to take action
