Resources in Education ,1997-10      The Political Economy of Water and Sanitation Matthias Krause,2010-04-02

According to recent estimates around 6 000 people mostly children under five die every day from diseases caused by inappropriate water and sanitation WS services Much of the academic and political debate surrounding this issue has focused on private sector participation By shifting the attention towards the influence of governance Krause examines the political and sectoral institutions that are essential for the provision of WS services Utilizing data from sixty nine developing countries Matthias Krause demonstrates that the level of democracy has a statistically significant positive impact on access to WS services and that low quality governance of sub national governments compromises the internal efficiency of providers and the widespread access to services This book makes a critical contribution to the water and sanitation research and will help academics and policy makers to rethink the way in which they deal with water issues      *Catalog of Copyright Entries. Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2001-08      Nature-Based Solutions for agricultural water management and food security Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2019-03-14 Accessibility to clean and sufficient water resources for agriculture is key in feeding the steadily increasing world population in a sustainable manner Nature Based Solutions NBS offer a promising contribution to enhance availability and quality of water for productive purposes and human consumption while simultaneously striving to preserve the integrity and intrinsic value of the ecosystems Implementing successful NBS for water management however is not an easy task since many ecosystems are already severely degraded and exploited beyond their regenerative capacity Furthermore ecosystems are large and complex and the many stakeholders involved may have conflicting interests Hence implementation of NBS requires a structured and comprehensive approach that starts with the valuation of the services provided by the ecosystem The whole set of use and non use values in monetary terms provides a factual basis to guide the implementation of NBS which is ideally based on transdisciplinary principles i e complemented with scientific and case specific knowledge of the ecosystem in an adaptive decision making process that involves the relevant stakeholders This discussion paper evaluated twenty one NBS case studies using a non representative sample to learn from successful and failed experiences and to identify possible causalities among factors that characterize the implementation of NBS The case studies give a minor role to valuation of ecosystem services an area for which the literature is still developing guidance Less successful water management projects tend to suffer from inadequate factual and scientific basis and uncoordinated or insufficient stakeholder involvement and lack of long term planning Successful case studies point to satisfactory understanding of the functioning of ecosystems and importance of multi stakeholder platforms well identified funding schemes realistic monitoring and evaluation systems and endurance of its promoters      Research in Education ,1973

Development Economics Dani Rodrick, M.R. Rosenzweig, 2009-11-09 What guidance does academic research really provide to economic policy development The critical and analytical surveys in this volume investigate links between policies and outcomes by surveying work from broad macroeconomic policies to interventions in microfinance Asserting that there are no universal correspondences between policies and outcomes contributors demonstrate instead that only an intense familiarity with the development context and the universe of applicable economic models can generate successful policies Getting cause and effect right is essential for policy design and implementation With the goal of drawing researchers and policy makers closer this volume highlights our increasing understanding of ways to combine economic theorizing with careful thoughtful empirical work Presents an accurate self contained survey of the current state of the field Summarizes the most recent discussions and elucidates new developments Although original material is also included the main aim is the provision of comprehensive and accessible surveys Human Dependence on Nature Haydn Washington, 2013-05-07 Humanity is dependent on Nature to survive yet our society largely acts as if this is not the case The energy that powers our very cells the nutrients that make up our bodies the ecosystem services that clean our water and air these are all provided by the Nature from which we have evolved and of which we are a part This book examines why we deny or ignore this dependence and what we can do differently to help solve the environmental crisis Written in an accessible and engaging style Haydn Washington provides an excellent overview of humanity's relationship with Nature The book looks at energy flow nutrient cycling ecosystem services ecosystem collapse as well as exploring our psychological and spiritual dependency on nature It also examines anthropocentrism and denial as causes of our unwillingness to respect our inherent dependence on the natural environment The book concludes by bringing these issues together and providing a framework for solutions to the environmental crisis
