Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1971 Simple Solutions Patrick Kenji Takahashi, 2007-08-30 Simple Solutions For Planet Earth is a scientific book written in a popular style for the average reader You have read about Peak Oil and Global Climate Warming and complained about 4 gallon gasoline but how really serious are these headlines and annoyances The author has worked his entire career on the science technology education administration and politics of these subjects and crystallizes this complex field into understandable elements providing simple solutions for humanity Does it make sense for the renewable energy budget of the Federal Government to be about 1 billion year when o Annual tax incentives and government programs for the oil industry are supposedly in the range between 38 billion and 115 billion although Lester Brown says 210 billion in 2005 o Farm subsidies alone in 2004 cost taxpayers 16 2 billion o Our country spends 12 billion a month or 144 billion year on the Iraq and Afghanistan wars ostensibly to protect oil only to raise prices The author s long experience with the Greenhouse Effect has led him to believe that methane not carbon dioxide could well be the critical gas of concern for there is potential for global warming to cascade into what he terms the Venus Syndrome The closing chapter speculates on a hypothesis regarding mega tsunamis 100 meter waves from landslides While simple solutions are suggested the problem is the inability of our civilization to agree on a workable strategy which is further weakened by the lack of will on part of the general populace Thus the reader is urged to help make that crucial difference

Instructions and examples are provided on how to attain Rainbow Vision to carry out this mission for a better Planet Earth. The simplest solution is for everyone to join in on the effort.

Service Research Challenges and Solutions for the Future Internet M. Papazoglou, Klaus Pohl, Michael Parkin, Andreas Metzger, 2010-12-09. S-Cube's Foundations for the Internet of Services. Today's Internet is standing at a crossroads. The Internet has evolved from a source of information to a critical infrastructure which underpins our lives and economies. The demand for more multimedia content, more interconnected devices, more users, a richer user experience, services available any time and anywhere, increases the pressure on existing networks and service platforms. The Internet needs a fundamental rearrangement to be ready to meet future needs. One of the areas of research for the Future Internet is the Internet of Services, a vision of the Internet where everything, e.g., information, software, platforms, and infrastructures, is available as a service. Services available on the Internet of Services can be used by anyone if they are used according to the policies defined by the provider, and they can be extended with new services by anyone. Advantages of the Internet of Services include the possibility to build upon other people's efforts and the little investment needed upfront to develop an application. The risk involved in pursuing new business ideas is diminished and might lead to more innovative ideas being tried out in practice. It will lead to the appearance of new companies that are able to operate in niche areas, providing services to other companies that will be able to focus on their core business.
