Assessment and Documentation in Early Childhood Education Maarit Alasuutari, Ann-Marie

Markström, Ann-Christine Vallberg-Roth, 2014-01-21 Documentation in early childhood education is typically seen as a means to enhance the quality of care and education and as a way to take account of the child's view. Assessment and Documentation in Early Childhood Education considers the increasing trend towards systematic child documentation especially in early childhood institutions. The authors present ways in which assessment and evaluation is done sometimes explicitly but more often implicitly in these practices and explore its means, aims, forms and functions. They also examine the rationalities of child documentation from the perspective of professional practice and professionalism and suggest that documentation and assessment practices can weaken and constrain but also empower and strengthen teachers, children and parents. Topics explored include Different forms of documentation and assessment, Documentation and listening to the children, Dilemmas of assessment and documentation, Participation by children, Involvement of parents. This timely book will be appealing for those studying in the field of early childhood education, teacher education, special education, general education, social work, counselling, psychology, sociology, childhood studies and family studies. ### Documentation in Institutional Contexts of Early Childhood Maarit Alasuutari, Helga Kelle, Helen Knauf, 2020-04-28

Internationally documentation has gained importance in institutional contexts of early childhood during the last 20 years. This edited volume illuminates different practices and aspects of documentation in early childhood and provides theoretically informed analytical perspectives on documentation in childhood institutions. Whilst drawing on different national and early service contexts, the edited volume explores the ways in which documentation may be consequential in childhood and in the practices of early childhood professionals. The different chapters examine assessment and normativity in documentation, children's participation in it and the impact of documentation on professionalism. The edited volume is targeted to students, researchers and professionals in the field of education and social sciences. Early Childhood Qualitative Research J.

Amos Hatch, 2013-10-18 How can qualitative researchers make the case for the value of their work in a climate that emphasizes so-called scientifically based research? What is the future of qualitative research when such approaches do not meet the narrow criteria being raised as the standard? In this timely collection, editor J. Amos Hatch and contributors argue that the best argument for the efficacy of qualitative studies in early childhood is the new generation of high-quality qualitative work. This collection brings together studies and essays that represent the best work being done in early childhood qualitative studies: descriptions of a variety of research methods and discussions of important issues related to doing early childhood qualitative research in the early 21st century. Taking a unique reconceptualist point of view, the

Grotewell, Yanus R. Burton, 2008 This book focuses on early childhood education which spans the human life from birth to age 8 Infants and toddlers experience life more holistically than any other age group Social emotional cognitive language and physical lessons are not learned separately by very young children Adults who are most helpful to young children interact in ways that understand that the child is learning from the whole experience not just that part of the experience to which the adult gives attention Although early childhood education does not have to occur in the absence of the parent or primary caregiver this term is sometimes used to denote education by someone other than these the parent or primary caregiver Both research in the field and early childhood educators view the parents as an integral part of the early childhood education process Early childhood education takes many forms depending on the theoretical and educational beliefs of the educator or parent Other terms that is often used interchangeably with early childhood education are early childhood learning early care and early education Much of the first two years of life are spent in the creation of a child's first sense of self or the building of a first identity Because this is a crucial part of children's makeup how they first see themselves how they think they should function how they expect others to function in relation to them early care must ensure that in addition to carefully selected and trained caregivers links with family home culture and home language are a central part of program policy If care becomes a substitute for rather than a support of family children may develop a less than positive sense of who they are and where they come from because of their child care experience Practices in Modern Pre-School Education Mr. Rohit Manglik, 2024-03-17 EduGorilla Publication is a trusted name in the education sector committed to empowering learners with high quality study materials and resources Specializing in competitive exams and academic support EduGorilla provides comprehensive and well structured content tailored to meet the needs of students across various streams and levels
